Message from the Editor

Dear Readers,

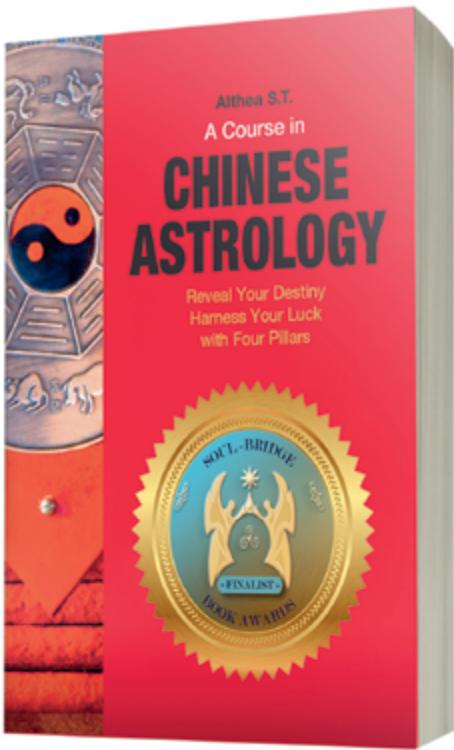

Welcome to our ghoulies issue ever! I find the Hungry Ghost Festival interesting. It is a choice to acknowledge and if not celebrate, then appease the inauspicious and dark part of life, instead of just pretending that such things don't exist. This reminds me of Carl Jung's concept of how our psyche splits into the persona (what we want the world to see) and the shadow self (the part of our personality that we suppress due to negative connotations associated with some of our behaviours and emotions). This suppression makes us less whole, and can result in side effects such as mental illness. Thus, acknowledging these "dark parts of ourselves, the way hungry ghosts are appeased and acknowledged during Hungry Ghost Festival, will help us become more whole, more authentic and more able to live our best lives.

Love

Are Ghosts and Spirits Real?

The month of the Hungry Ghost Festival always brings out the superstitious side of believers and the curiosity of non-believers. Like other major festivals like Valentine's day or Halloween, it is also a marketing opportunity, with more ghost movies released this month than in any other month.

Many cultures around the world believe that the dead transform into spirits to live on in another realm. Monks of the Buddhist and Taoist traditions perform ceremonies during the Hungry Ghost Festival to help ease the sufferings of these ghosts.

So, are ghosts and spirits real?

Spirits and Ghosts from a Buddhist Perspective

For Buddhists, ghosts and spirits exist. The Buddhist cosmology typically identifies six realms of rebirth and existence. The six realms consist of

1. Heavenly realm
2. Demi-god realm
3. Human realm
4. Animal realm
5. Hungry ghost realm
6. Hell realm

Buddhist texts describe ghosts as “beings” that do not have bodies, are invisible and constitute only “subtle matter.” Simply put, they are actually a form of energy. Ghosts or reckless spirits live in the Hungry ghost realm. They are depicted as beings with pin-hole sized mouths and big empty bellies. They are hungry but not able to eat to satisfy their hunger. It is believed that these ghosts are reborn into this realm due to greed, envy and jealousy, and they have trouble being reborn into a different realm due to excessive craving and attachment. In the Buddhist tradition, prayers and offerings are made at temples so that merits can be generated and transferred to those in the Hungry Ghost realm. When enough merit is accumulated, these ghosts will be reborn into another realm.

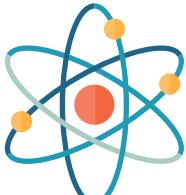

Spirits and Ghosts from a Taoist Perspective

In Taoism, ghosts and spirits are souls. These souls are bodies of energy partially created by the living energy of a person's spirit, mind and body. This living energy is known as Yuen-Sun 元神 in Taoism. When a person passes-away, the soul leaves the body to be reborn which is similar to Buddhism. Ghosts that have unfinished business or attachments may not be reborn until they are released from their suffering.

In Taoism, the Hungry Ghost Festival is called Zhongyuan Festival. According to the ancient books, this is the birthday of the Hell King and also a day of pardon for the denizens of hell. Imprisoned hungry ghosts and spirits are pardoned and released from hell to accept rituals and sacrifices for a month in the mortal world. Through these ceremonies and rites, these souls are released from purgatory early and kept from causing trouble to the realm of the living. The Zhongyuan Festival is believed to have originated from the Northern Wei Dynasty (A.D. 368-534).

Scientific view of Spirits and Ghosts

While there are many ghost hunting stories and paranormal activities reported, there is no evidence that ghosts exist. Scientists are very sceptical of the existence of ghosts. In fact, scientists attribute ghost sightings to optical illusions and hallucinations influenced by environmental factors. Some of these factors include the changes in geo-magnetic fields, the variance of electromagnetic fields and infrasound. Another factor may be mental health related. People who have sleep paralysis health issues often hallucinate about ghosts during sleep paralysis.

How about ghosts in Feng Shui studies?

People often think that Feng Shui involves some form of spirituality, supernatural abilities or religion. Some believe that Feng Shui consultants have special abilities. However, there is no mention of spirits in classical Feng Shui texts at all. Feng Shui is all about energy. Nevertheless, Feng Shui does occasionally talk about the spiritual realm. This spiritual realm (more of this in the article on page 9) is related to the energy vibration at certain locations that can cause illusions and hallucinations. It is often viewed as negative energy. In the olden days it was easy to attribute or explain this energy vibration as ghosts, spirits and other supernatural beings because of the Chinese culture and practice of worshiping ancestors and spirits.

Do Ghosts and Spirits exist in other Chinese Metaphysics studies?

In the other fields of Chinese Metaphysics study, such as Bazi, it is recorded that some individuals are gifted with the third-eye. People with “the third eye” can see ghosts and spirits. These is because their Bazi Charts indicate that they are sensitive to the vibration of energies (more of this in the article on page 16).

Other than Bazi, the ancient Chinese Metaphysics study known as Qi Men Dun Jia also mentions ghosts and spirits in its texts. This study was used by Taoist monks to cultivate spirituality and enlightenment. There is one branch of Qi Men Dun Jia study known as the Five Charm Method, which was used by Taoist monks in the olden days specifically to capture, contain and destroy reckless ghosts and evil spirits (more of this in the article on page 20).

While the scientific and religious view on the existence of ghosts may differ, their explanation of ghosts revolves around one similar concept, that is, ghosts or spirits sightings are due to the presence of certain forms of energy.

Haunted House or Just Bad Feng Shui?

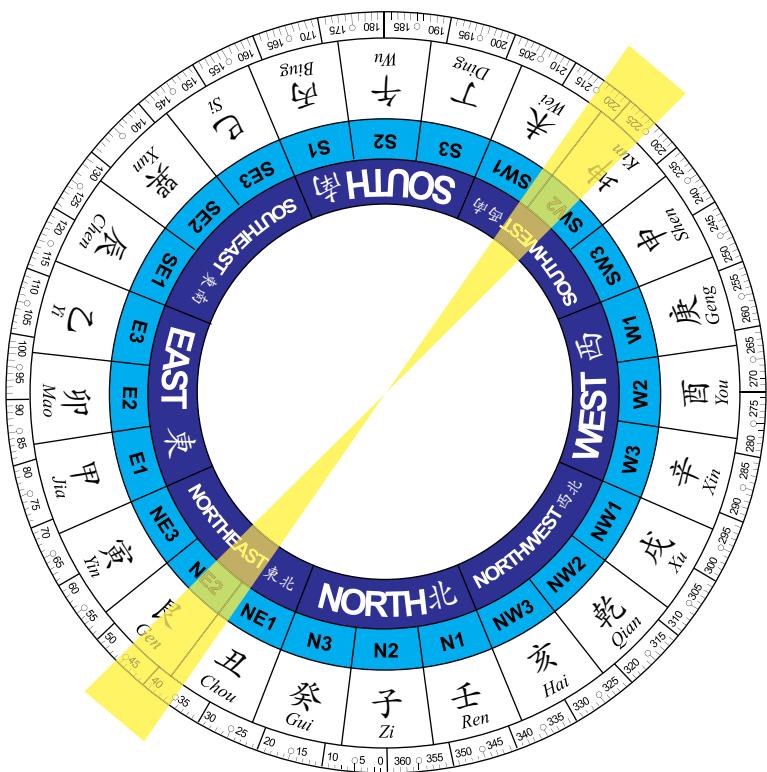

When it comes to “cleansing” the house of ghosts and spirits, people often seek Feng Shui consultants for help. Some Feng Shui consultants, who are also spiritual practitioners with the special ability to “sense” other-worldly beings, incorporate this into their practice. It is a totally different area of knowledge and skillset, and only a few have an aptitude and interest in this area. In general, Feng Shui consultants are not able to exorcise reckless ghosts or evil spirits. Feng Shui classical texts do not really give solutions for this kind of problem.

1. Northeast and Southwest are the “Gates” of the Spiritual Realm

Nevertheless, Feng Shui does occasionally mention the spiritual realm. According to classical texts, the Northeast corner (45 degree on the compass) is known as the “Outer Gate” of the spiritual realm while the Southwest (215 degree on the compass) is the “Inner Gate” of the spiritual realm. It is known as the “Line of Spiritual Gates.” On a positive note, these two corners contain energy vibration that is good for people seeking enlightenment and spirituality. The famous Potala Palace in Tibet sits on this axis.

When a house's external environment is yin in nature and the house's facing and sitting directions fall on this axis, then the house can connect to the supernatural realm. To spiritual practitioners, this is a portal to another realm. To the layman, the house is haunted. To a Feng Shui consultant, this is a house with bad Feng Shui as the negative energy is not suitable as a residence. To scientists, the house's magnetic energy causes hallucinations or illusions. Yin environments can be places that are near hospitals or cemeteries, and areas that are dark and wet with little sunlight, where Qi is dead or stagnant. Rooms with stagnant energy that fall into the Northeast and Southwest also have the potential to experience supernatural disturbances.

Not all the people who stay in the above houses will encounter ghosts or spirits. This is because this type of event happens only when the Cosmic Trinity - Man Luck, Earth Luck and Heaven Luck, aligns together. When you choose to stay in this type of house,

Earth Luck and Man Luck comes together. Some people with certain formations in their Bazi Chart (see page 16) are likely to experience supernatural disturbances if they live in such a house. Your Bazi Chart is your date and time of birth so it is Heaven Luck. Heaven Luck is also referred to as timing. Some occupants may not encounter disturbances when they move in. It is only when certain Flying Stars combinations fall into the house, triggering negative energy, that the occupants begin to notice that something is not right or encounter ghosts or spirits.

The Northeast and Southwest sectors are not suitable locations for nurseries or bedrooms for young children. This is because their physical and mental strength have yet to fully develop and they are susceptible to the influence of negative energy. Young children who sleep in a bedroom in this area may frequently wake up in the middle of the night, disturbed or scared. Their sleep will be affected, and both their physical and mental growth will be negatively impacted. Adults on the other hand, may just experience stress and sleepless nights and related health issues.

2. Flying Stars Combinations that indicate the supernatural

The following Flying Stars combinations can indicate a supernatural encounter or hallucination if it happens to fall on a house full of Yin energy.

Flying Stars Combination

- No. 2 with No. 4
- No. 2 with No. 6
- No. 2 with No. 9
- No. 4 with No. 8
- No. 9 with No. 5

Surprisingly, when the above Flying Stars combinations fall on a house with good vibrations, the stars' influence is good for spiritual or academic pursuits.

3. Energy imprint

Your house has the ability to contain energy. That is why, internal Feng Shui activation works. The human body is a body of energy. Therefore, houses tend to record the energies of the previous occupants, just like a memory. Intuitive and energy sensitive people can pick up on this energy when they move into a house not long after the previous owners have moved out. They may see what they think is a ghost in their house. This "ghost" doesn't seem to notice them and is usually doing something such as walking down the hallway or sitting by the window. This phenomenon was proven by Ghost experts in England several years ago. They are known as "recorded effects." These energies can be easily cleared away with some renovation and a change of old furnishings.

The best solution that a Feng Shui consultant can give to counter Yin energy in a home is to make sure that the Yin area receives plenty of sunlight, and is kept clean and clear of clutter. If you feel that you are experiencing a truly supernatural disturbance, then you are better off seeking the help of a monk or priest to offer prayers, or to seek the services of a ghostbuster or shaman.

Taboos during the Hungry Ghost Festival!

Are you a believer in the Hungry Ghost Festival? If so, read on... if not, read on for fun...

As ghosts and suffering spirits are released from hell to visit their hometowns and wander the streets during the 7th lunar month, many things should be avoided during this month especially on Hungry Ghost Festival itself.

1. The Chinese usually will not move into new homes, start new businesses or marry because this is considered an inauspicious month.
2. Do not step on or kick offerings placed at the roadside. If you happen to accidentally step on any, apologize out loud.
3. Don't go swimming. It is believed that the ghosts of people who die from drowning haunt the waters. They seek a replacement in order to be reborn.
4. For birthday boys and girls whose birthdays fall on the lunar ghost month, avoid celebrating your birthday at night. Celebrate during the day.
5. Do not sit in the first row of street opera performances during the Hungry Ghost Festival. It is meant for them.
6. Some taboos to avoid being haunted:
 - a) Do not pick up coins or money found on the street.
 - b) Don't stroll around at night.
 - c) Don't wear red.
 - d) Don't sing and whistle.
 - e) Keep away from the walls.

- f) Don't hang clothes outside at night. It attracts negative energy.
- g) Never turn your head when your shoulder is tapped.
- h) Do not turn your head when your name is called from BEHIND during the night.
- i) Don't play games like "Ouija" board or "碟仙". These games focus on communicating with spirits. What if you succeed in attracting the wrong one?
- j) Do not paint your nails black. Spirits may think that you want to be friends with them.

Important note: The above are not Feng Shui practices, but a collection of taboos and superstitions handed down through the generations.

Asking for protection during the Hungry Ghost Festival

The Five Thunder Talisman for Protection

According to Chinese folklore, the gates of hell open on the 15th day of the seventh month of the Chinese Lunar Calendar each year. The prayers for Hungry Ghost Festival, which is equivalent to Halloween, starts on 11th August to 9th September this year. The Hungry Ghost Festival itself falls on 25th August 2018.

Ghosts roam the streets of the living world this day. Ancestors return to their hometown to accept worship from descendants, while those without descendants wander the street to receive sacrifices of food and incense, made so that they do not harm the living. Buddhist or Taoist rituals are also held in public to appease the lost spirits and ghosts.

During this period, you can ask the Chief Deity for protection from the negative effects of evil spirits and ghosts. Ask for protection with your back to the direction as listed in the table in the next page.

The “Third Eye”

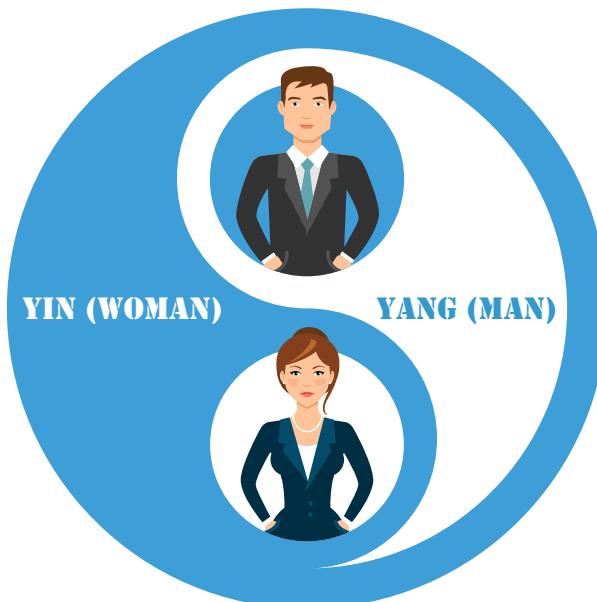

In Chinese culture, having a “third eye” means that you have the ability see the supernatural, such as ghosts or spirits. Some people are able to hear the spirits and even communicate with them. Not only that, there are people claiming that they can communicate with the gods too. This ability can be a gift or a curse, as those with such abilities sometimes find it hard to blend in with a society sceptical of their abilities.

According to the Tao, the third eye is an ability to see what might be. The third eye refers to the gate that leads to a space of higher consciousness. In spirituality, it can symbolize a state of enlightenment. Everyone has access to his or her third eye. But not everyone can see ghosts or spirits. Some people are more sensitive to the negative energy vibrations of these beings than others, and this can be found in certain types of Element Structures or Formations in their Bazi Chart.

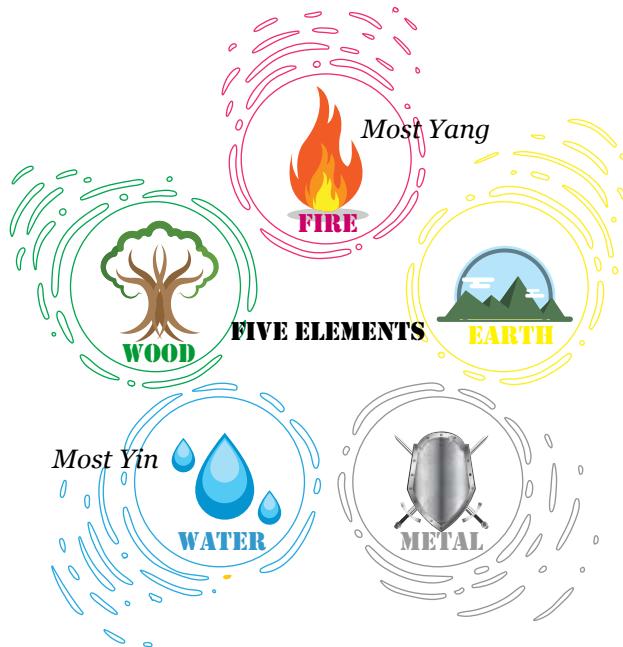

Women are more likely to see Ghosts than Men

In Chinese Metaphysics study, women are regarded as Yin energy and men are regarded as Yang energy. So, there is a higher chance of women coming across spirits than men. Women are also more sensitive to negative energy and this can affect their moods more than men. Hence, a woman will be more sensitive to a house with negative Feng Shui.

Lack or Absence of Fire Element

The Fire Element has the most Yang energy among all the Five Elements - Wood, Fire, Earth, Metal and Water, while the Water Element has the most Yin energy. A Bazi chart with very weak Fire Elements or no Fire Element at all will be prone to encounters with spectres and phantoms. This is especially true if the Bazi Chart also fulfills some of the other criteria mentioned below.

Bazi Chart full of Water Elements

On top of lacking the Fire Element, if a person is born with a Bazi Chart that contains many Water Elements or strong Water Elements, then he or she is more likely to be able to see supernatural beings. People with strong Water Elements in their Bazi chart are born in the autumn/winter months roughly between 8th August to 3rd February. Check out the example of Bazi Chart 1 - a Water Day Master born in a winter month.

Bazi Chart full of Earth Elements

Folks with a Bazi Chart that contains a lot of Earth Elements are also sensitive to the presence of negative energies and spirits. This is why the four Earthly Branches - Dragon, Goat, Dog and Ox, are known as the Graveyard Group. People born under the sign of these zodiacs are also usually very spiritual. Check-out the example of Bazi Chart 2 - an Earth Day Master born in an Earth month and at an Earth hour.

Bazi Chart with Only Yin Elements

When a person's Bazi Chart only contains the Yin Polarity of the Five Elements, the person is probably gentle, soft spoken and nice, but he or she will be prone to being haunted by spirits. This is especially true if the Fire Element is missing. You will likely find these people to be very religious. Being religious, which is the Fire Element, helps them to avoid possession. The example in Bazi Chart 3 shows a Metal Day Master born with full Yin Elements.

Bazi Chart with too many Indirect Resource Elements

People with a lot of Indirect Resource Elements in their Bazi Chart are often seen as weird as they believe in all sorts of paranormal activities. They are very superstitious, religious, spiritual and sensitive. So sometimes it is really hard to discern whether they are hallucinating or really being clairvoyant.

Often, healthy Indirect Resource Elements in a Bazi Chart indicate that a person has a supernatural ability to perceive events in the future or beyond the normal sensory range. These people are good at performing past life regressions, energy healing, or suitable for life as a spiritual guru or ghostbuster. The example in Bazi Chart 4 shows a good example of a Water Day Master born in an Indirect Resource month.

筊杯 Chinese Jiaobei (Moon Blocks) Divination are wooden divination tools made out of wood or bamboo. They are commonly used in temples and home shrines to seek the direction of the gods, ancestors and spirits. It is also known as "Ying Yang Spiritual Prophecy Divination." The flat side is considered Yin and the rounded surface is Yang. The Jiaobei gives three possible answers when thrown on the ground.

One side of the block is flat and another block is rounded.	Both blocks show the rounded surface.	Both blocks show a flat surface. It can be an emphasized 'No' or a sign that the gods are laughing at the question. Throw the blocks again.

The Chinese Ghostbuster

In our earlier article, “Are Ghosts or Spirits Real?”, we mentioned the Five Charm Method of Qi Men Dun Jia that indicates the existence of demons, ghosts and spirits in Chinese Metaphysics. In ancient times, Taoist priests often doubled up as ghostbusters. They were known to use Qi Men Dun Jia to identify auspicious times and directions to capture, punish or even to destroy reckless ghosts, evil spirits and demons. The Five Charm Method was also used to perform exorcisms, to evict demons or other spiritual entities from people or places that are believed to be possessed or haunted. It was also used to remove black magic from people or places that are believed to be cursed by evil spells.

So, what is in the Qi Men Dun Jia text that indicates the existence of demons, ghosts and spirits? Here are some of the texts related to spirituality, demons, ghosts and spirits.

Table 1: Stars in Five Charm Method Studies

風伯 Feng Bo Wind	For fighting and controlling demons, reckless ghosts and evil spirits.

Table 2: Deities/Structures in San Yuan Method Studies

Deity / Structure	Explanation
玄武 Xuanwu Black Tortoise	The Deity is associated with black magic.
朱雀 Zhuque Red Phoenix	The Deity is associated with spellcasting.
神遁 Shen Dun Deity Dun	This structure is for offering prayers and rituals to Heaven. It can also be used to release souls from purgatory.

In the old days, unscrupulous temple mediums or shamans used the knowledge of Qi Men to prey on superstitious people (refer to Table 3: Fake Structures in San Yuan Method Studies). Even today, we still hear stories of people being cheated out of large amounts of money by mediums and shamans.

Table 3: Fake Structures in San Yuan Method Studies

Fake Structures	Explanation
鬼假 Gui Jia Ghost Fake	This structure can influence or hypnotise victims into believing that they are being possessed by ghosts or evil spirits or that their home is haunted. The priest usually plants a ghost in the house of the victim or it can be a fake ghost.
神假 Shen Jia Deity Fake	The structure can influence or hypnotise victims into believing that the priest has successfully driven away the ghost or evil spirit.

So, do be careful when you seek help to remove negative entities from your home.

10 Simple Ways to Clear Stagnant Qi or Dead Qi in the Home

Stimulating the Qi at home will help us to live a smooth and better life. Our homes are an extension of ourselves. Occupants will experience improvement in all aspects of their lives in areas such as health, career, love and wealth. Positive and vibrant Qi in the home reduces the chances of spaces in the home attracting ghosts, spirits and other supernatural entities.

Here are 10 simple ways to stimulate stagnant energy in your home:

1. De-clutter

The longer people live in a house, the more stuff they tend to accumulate. These things take up space in the home. Qi becomes blocked or stagnant as these things are being kept in a space or a corner for too long. And depending on the energy expressed by the location, it can physically, mentally, emotionally or spiritually block your path forward.

When Qi becomes blocked or stagnant at home, there is no room for new opportunities to come into your life. De-clutter and clean every corner of your home every now and then so that you keep the Qi vibrant and healthy. Throw away unwanted stuff.

Yes, this simple act can help you to stimulate Qi at spaces where Qi becomes blocked and stagnant.

2. Burn some incense

Fire Element is a form of very Yang energy. You can use fire by burning some incense to stimulate Qi at spaces or corners that are very hard to reach. This fragrant smoke has long been used to restore life to dull spaces. Besides smelling good, it also works as a mosquito repellent.

3. Sunlight

Of course, the best form of Fire energy is sunlight. Open the window and let plenty of sunlight into your home. The sunshine brings positive and vibrant energy into the home.

4. Let in the breeze

Stagnant energy can be suffocating and sometimes causes musty smells. The best step to move negative air out of your home is by opening up all your windows. This will allow for fresh air to come through. Fresh air helps to “air out” any negative energy.

Always open the windows at home to let in the breeze and stimulate Qi. A cool and gentle breeze is considered very positive Qi.

5. Cleanse antiques of negative energy

Antiques are beautiful objects — but they are the favourite hiding places of spirits and ghosts. Ensure that each antique you buy is put out to air in plenty of sunlight. Always keep them clean. Wipe antiques with sea salt water.

ANTIQUE OBJECTS
COLLECTION

6. Clean your house with sea salt

Try mixing sea salt into the water used to clean your windows, mop the floor or wipe the cupboards. Salt crystals have an amazing natural built-in ability to absorb negative energy. It also keeps negativity at bay and purifies the home.

7. Spray the home with essential oils

Like burning incense, spraying refreshing essential oils will revitalize your home. Alternatively, you can use a humidifier added with essential oils. The following are some of the best essential oils for revitalizing the energy in the home.

- a) Orange essential oil is used to promote an abundance of wealth and prosperity.
- b) Frankincense is especially helpful when there are ghosts, spirits or negative energies from other realms.
- c) Sage is used by Native Americans to do “spiritual house cleaning.”
- d) Cinnamon Essential Oil can be used for prosperity and protection.

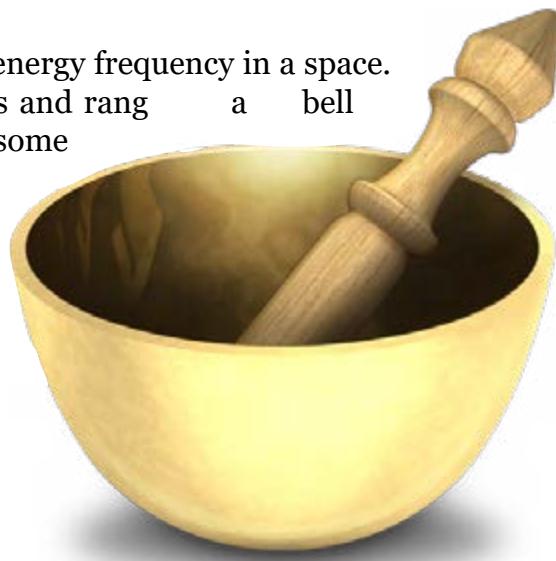

8. Rearrange the furniture

A good way to freshen up your space is by rearranging the furniture at home. Rearranging furniture doesn't cost a cent. This could be as simple as pulling out your furniture and placing them back into their original positions or you can just switch the layout of two armchairs. Doing this each month will help to give life to your home.

9. Sound Clearing

Sound is a quick way to quickly change the energy frequency in a space. In the old days, occupants chanted mantras and rang a bell while moving around the house. Then, some Feng Shui Masters introduced windchimes into the home to continue stimulating Qi at certain corners. The tinkling, chiming, and gonging that sounds every time a gentle breeze passes through the windchimes quickly changes the energy frequency in that space. This constantly renews the energy in that space.

10. Remove or repair things that are broken

Broken items in your house are not indicators of bad Feng Shui. They are an indication of energy changes in that space. Negative Qi will only start to accumulate around broken objects when they are kept too long. Repair broken items immediately. Throw them away if the object is irreparable.

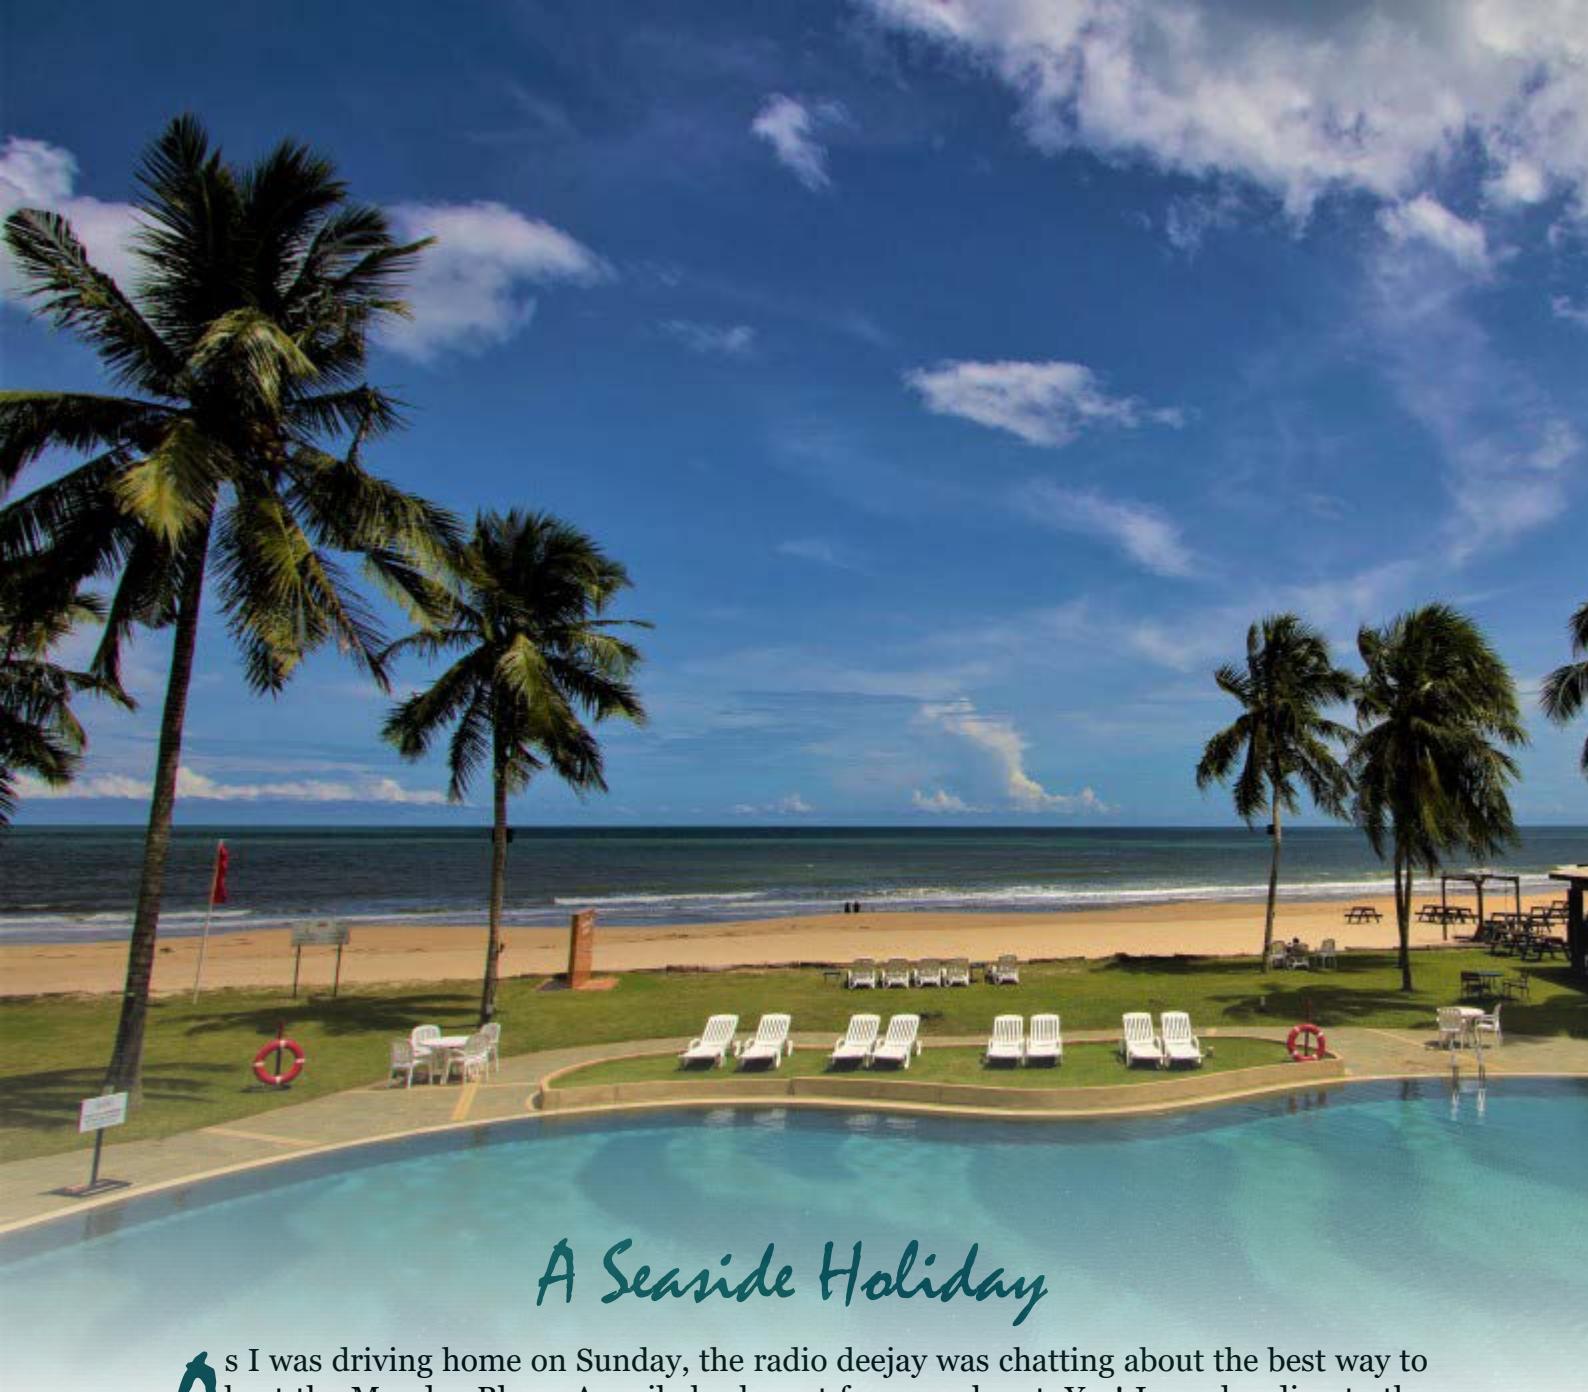

Do you choose the Property or Does the property choose you?

You may think that you are the one choosing the house that you are staying in. To some extend it is true. This is because the energy vibration of the house you selected fits you. A person cannot stay long in a house if the energy of the house is not aligned with him or her.

The facing and sitting of a property can indicate what type of people are being attracted to the property. This is very helpful for those who plan to open a business that taps into walk-in customers. It helps you to zero in on the type of customers to target.

A Seaside Holiday

As I was driving home on Sunday, the radio deejay was chatting about the best way to beat the Monday Blues. A smile broke out from my heart. Yes! I was heading to the beach to celebrate my mom's birthday the next day.

What better way of beating the Monday Blues than sitting on the seashore enjoying the view of the picturesque blue sea meeting the horizon of the blue sky. I have always loved the seaside. Setting up a boutique hotel at the seaside or riverside has always been a dream of mine. Naturally, I also have an interest in resorts and hotels located near the sea, mountains and rivers.

Cherating is a small town on the east coast of Malaysia famous for several beaches, including Chendor Beach, a breeding ground for leatherback and other sea turtles. The famous Chendor Turtle Sanctuary is located here.

I have not visited Cherating since my school days. A visit last weekend was somewhat a disappointment. It was not because the beach and sea were not beautiful, but more because the place lacked progress and development and is far behind other famous beaches around South East Asia. It was like time stood still. It hasn't changed at all since my last visit except for a few extra local coffee shops.

Is it because of the Feng Shui?

Well, I can spot one Feng Shui weakness. The town is open to the Sha Qi of the South China Sea. The open sea is always full of overly Yang energy. If the vibration of this Yang energy is not blocked or slowed down, it will become Sha Qi. People living in this Sha Qi area find it hard to survive and prosper. A good Feng Shui criterion for seaside property is to have small islands to slow down the vibrant Qi or land embraces near the beaches to block the Sha Qi created by the open seas. In this case, growing a lot of tall trees at the side of the property facing the ocean will lessen the impact of the Sha Qi.

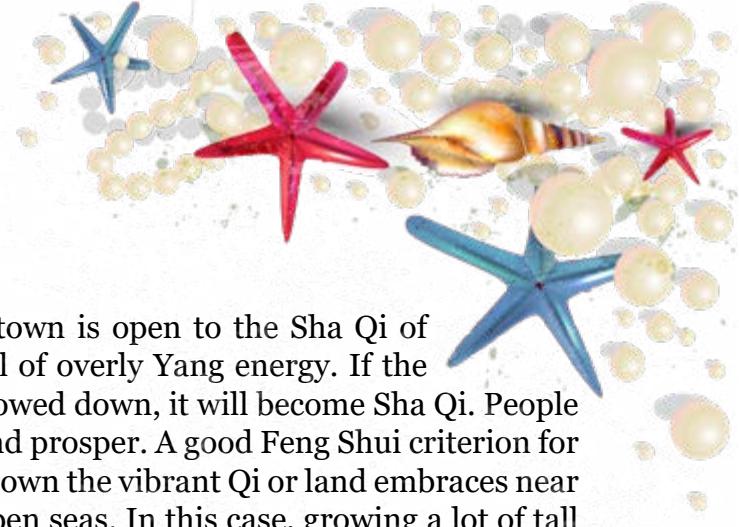

The resort I stayed in has somehow cleverly manoeuvred the vibrant Qi from the ocean. The building is built on an east to west axis with an extension in a wide U-shape. Hence it has left and right embraces. The right building (acting as the right embrace) is taller. Hence, a young woman managing this place is likely to do better than a man.

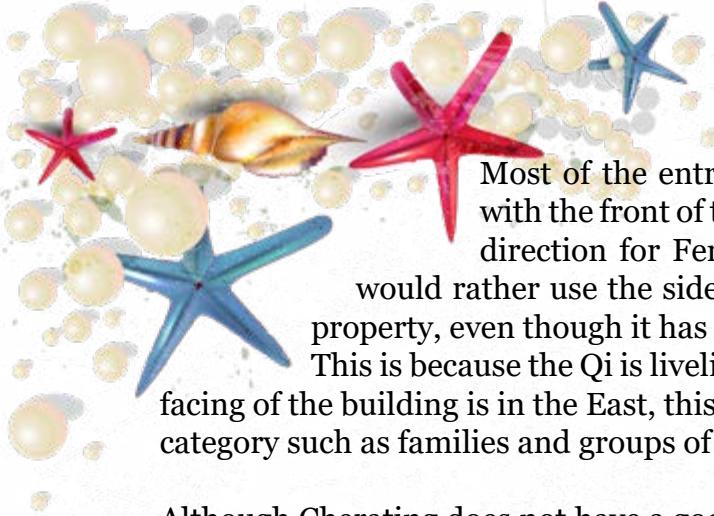

The swimming pools are located in the centre of the U-shaped embraces. There is one small pool and two large pools separated by a big man-made rock. Since the seaside is in a lowland area, a big rock such as this can help to slow down the Qi and in turn, collect Qi for this property according to the lowland Feng Shui concept. Water such as swimming pools or an open space such as a car park or playground will not be useful anymore.

Coconut trees planted along the beach help to slow down the Qi besides providing shade from the hot sun.

A small café bar is built at the end of the right building. This standalone café bar provides a curve at the end of the right building to lock in some of the Qi and prevent it from flowing away.

Most of the entrances to the lobby of hotels or resorts are in line with the front of the property. They are usually considered the facing direction for Feng Shui measurement. However, for this resort, I would rather use the side of the building facing the sea as the facing of the property, even though it has a big parking area which can act as a "Bright Hall."

This is because the Qi is livelier on the side that is facing out to the sea. Since the facing of the building is in the East, this resort attracts customers that fall under the group category such as families and groups of men and young women (more of this on page 27).

Although Cherating does not have a good natural Feng Shui environment, I guess some of these Feng Shui factors are keeping the resort alive.

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE 十神 TEN GODS (THE OUTPUT ELEMENT)

There are altogether 10 types of Day Masters arising from the two different polarities (Yin and Yang) of the Five Elements. In the previous issues, we have shown how the Ten Gods are derived from the interaction of the Five Elements with the Day Master. Each of these Five Elements can support, destroy, control, or exhaust one another. Moving forward, we will be exploring the characteristics of the Ten Gods.

In this issue's Bazi 101, we want to explore the characteristics of the Output element. The Output element is the element that is produced by the Day Master. The Output element is further divided into Yin and Yang polarities, resulting in the Hurting Officer and Eating God stars. FACE READING: PUTTING IT TOGETHER

The Face of Thanawat Wattanaputi (ธนาวรรธน์ วรรธนะภูติ)

Thanawat Wattanaputi is a Thai actor. He is well-known to many fans by the nickname P'Pope. Born on 27th December 1982, aged 35, he is getting more popular. The Thai drama, Bpoop Phaeh Saniwaat, which he starred in became a big hit. Those who work with him know that he has a stubborn personality. He admits to being a straightforward person. The description fits his Yang Wood Day Master. His Day Pillar Jia Shen is meeting his Wealth Star this year, which means that his hard work and effort will be recognized and rewarded.

His longish oblong face also goes well with his Yang Wood Day Master. Although having a Jia Shen Day Pillar means that he will go through many challenges, at the end he will still achieve success.

His Transformation

In the recent year, his eyes became clearer and sharper as shown in the comparison with his previous photo. His current photo shows eyes shining with happiness and charisma. His eyebrows are bushy indicating an altruistic nature who will not hesitate to take care of a friend in need. The eyebrows are also drooping downward which indicates that he tends to be pessimistic. His half-rounded eyes are not well balanced. One eye is slightly smaller. This indicates that he is an emotional person. This feature is good for an actor as it indicates that he is able to switch his emotions or character according to the script. On the downside, he can be a “drama-king” and allow his emotions to overrule him.

A high and wide forehead indicates that he is a thinker. He is a very knowledgeable person. He likes to learn and read.

Challenges and hardship have also taken a toll on him. It was known that he went through many disappointments one after another. Pope could not help but feel discouraged and heartbroken at his waning career. His eyelids have become droopy and his lips slightly thinner. It doesn't mean that he has become a miser, but he is now more careful with his generosity. He used to have well-balanced lips as shown in his old photo.

A straight well-shaped nose also shows that he earns a good income through his hard work. He is also good at saving and managing his wealth. He has high cheekbones. In his recent photo, there is more flesh on his cheeks indicating that his earning power is increasing steadily and becoming more stable.

His stand-out feature is his smile. For him, not only is his smile contagious, bringing happiness to others, but it will also bring him more good luck. He should always keep a wide smile and a sunny disposition.

Activating and Cultivating Your Deities Daily

In all our articles about Fa Qi Men, we have mentioned that in order to get what you want and your wishes fulfilled, one has to get into an “Alpha State of Mind”. We have also given tips and methods on how to go into this state.

So what is an alpha state of mind?

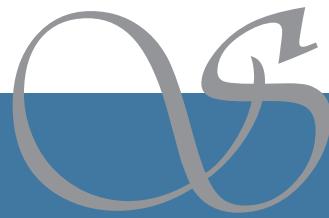

Scientifically, it is explained as where the brain operates at partial conscious awareness and partial subconscious predominance at the same time, in cycles between 9Hz & 14Hz. From my experience and understanding, it simply means that one's mind is relaxed. It is a state where you are in a mild daydream or light relaxation.

Do you remember a time when you were very focused on something or so engrossed in doing something that you lose track of time and the activities happening around you? This is an alpha state of mind. But you may find that when you deliberately try to go into this state of mind to make a wish, it is difficult to focus and you are unsure about whether you are actually in the right state of mind. If you have trouble getting into the alpha state of mind, don't worry. There is also the Guardian Angel method of making wishes.

Each person's Qi Men Destiny Chart has his or her own personal Destiny Palace marked by a direction based on his or her Day Master. That Palace contains your own unique Destiny Deity or Guardian Angel. When you are connected strongly and intuitively with your Guardian Angel, you do not have to go into the alpha state of mind to make wishes. This makes wish making a lot easier.

There are all together Ten Deities under the realm of Universe in Fa Qi Men studies. In this issue, we will show you how to activate and cultivate the Black Tortoise Deity. This will be beneficial whether or not the Black Tortoise Deity is your Guardian Angel.

Black Tortoise Deity

Keyword: Influence

Black Tortoise Deity is regarded as one of the most influential deities. It has the ability to persuade and influence people's beliefs, attitudes, intentions, motivations and behaviours. The deity is sometimes regarded negatively. A person whose Guardian Angel is a high level Black Tortoise Deity, will be able to influence people easily. However, if the Guardian Angel is a low level Black Tortoise deity, the person will easily fall prey to other people's negative moods and influences. The Black Tortoise Deity is a double-edged sword - it can work for you or against you, depending on your moods and energy vibration. If your Guardian Angel is the Black Tortoise Deity you need to learn to protect yourself from other people's negative energies.

Wishes are more easily fulfilled and you get faster results when you ask your Destiny Deity for help. Here are some fun ways to activate and cultivate your Black Tortoise Deity on a daily basis.

1. Make a wish in the direction of your Destiny Palace

Each person has a strong connection to the energy of the Universe in a certain direction based on Fa Qi Men practices. This direction is the direction of your Destiny Palace. Your Guardian Angel or Destiny Deity resides at your Destiny Palace. When you make wishes with your back to this direction, wishes will be fulfilled more easily. Every time you make a wish in the direction of your Destiny Palace, you are actually activating and cultivating the Qi that connects you to the Universe.

2. Meditate and focus on the Solar Plexus chakra

The Black Tortoise Deity represents a person's charisma and persuasive power. The Solar Plexus chakra, which gives us access to our subconscious power and control, establishes self-confidence. When you meditate, focus your energy or attention on the Solar Plexus chakra. Unlocking the power of the Solar Plexus chakra through meditation will help you to cultivate and improve your connection with the Black Tortoise Deity.

Dale Carnegie's book, "How to Win Friends and Influence People," continues to be a huge influence today. In 2011, it was number 19 on Time Magazine's list of 100 most influential books. Some of the methods extracted from the book below can help you cultivate a stronger Black Tortoise deity.

3. Give honest and sincere appreciation

Honest appreciation brings out the best in people. Appreciation must be given with sincerity, and with love. Otherwise it will come off as flattery. The difference between flattery and appreciation is the intention of a person. When you flatter another person, it is usually driven by an ulterior motive. A person who appreciates others does so out of kindness, friendliness and gratitude.

4. Smile often

Happiness comes from a person's attitudes and perception. The good news is, happiness is contagious. It affects the happiness of others whom you are connected to. Smiles are the best free way to show happiness. A big smile has an amazing ability to make others feel wonderful.

5. Remember people's names

A person's name is the sweetest and most important sound to that person. People love their names and want them to be remembered in a good way so much so that they will donate large amounts of money just to have a building named after themselves. In the old days, it was an honour to have a street named after you. You can make people feel extremely valued and important by remembering their names.

6. Be a good listener

Being a good listener is not merely just allowing the other person to speak. A good listener is attentive. They make good eye contact and do not interrupt. At the same time, they show empathy, sympathy, and interest. Being a good listener generates respect and trust between the speaker and listener. It quickly establishes an unconscious good feeling from the speaker to the listener thus building positive relationships.

mistaken. Let's examine the facts." By saying it in such a way, you show respect for the other person's opinions. You will also never get into trouble by admitting that you may be wrong. It inspires the other person to be as fair and broad-minded as you are.

9. Let the other person feel the idea is his or hers.

People tend to put more faith in ideas that are their own than ideas that are handed to them. As Dale Carnegie says, "No one likes to feel that he or she is being sold something or told to do something. We

7. "Yes" is a very strong positive word

Always start with questions to which the other person will answer yes. Continuously emphasize things on which we agree. Start and direct people in the affirmative direction. They will often follow your suggestions and opinions readily. Lead people where we would like them to go with questions that they will answer "yes" to.

8. Never say "You're wrong."

Never tell people flat out that they are wrong. People will feel offended because they feel insulted. Their pride is hurt. If a person makes a statement that you know is wrong, begin by saying, "Well, I thought otherwise, but I may be much prefer to feel that we are buying of our own accord or acting on our own ideas. We like to be consulted about our wishes, our wants, our thoughts." Hence, it is wiser to make suggestions and let the other person come up with a conclusion all on their own.

You can easily apply the above practices in your life. With a positive attitude, the Black Tortoise Deity offers compounding returns, so the more often you practice it, the greater the benefits realised.

We hope you have fun cultivating the Black Tortoise Deity! Stay tuned for more information on other Deities in our future issues.

Auspicious Stars

驛馬 Sky Horse

Inauspicious Stars

天狗 Sky Dog

天哭 Sky Cry

弔客 Funeral Guest

There is only one auspicious star, Sky Horse, this month. Fortunately, there are not many inauspicious stars. In general, this is a quiet and stable month. The Sky Horse star brings good wealth luck, especially to those who are in the shipping, logistics and import and export industries. For sales people and businessmen, the Sky Horse brings wealth luck from outstation or overseas markets.

The Sky Horse star brings travelling and movement. This star brings the feeling of joy and fun for people when they go on holidays. People will adapt easily and be flexible in reaction to changes and problems.

People may be easily overcome by negativity brought about by the minor inauspicious stars. Sky Cry and Funeral Guest stars indicate sadness and sad events as a result of accidents and robberies. Be aware of your surroundings and take more precautions when it comes to personal safety.

If the month's Qi is unfavourable to you, especially those born in the year of the Tiger and Pig, be aware of your surroundings to avoid being a victim of robbery.

This month's energy favours those who have the following zodiacs: Snake, Dragon and Rat.

Wood Day Masters (甲 Jia Yang Wood and 乙 Yi Yin Wood), be a law-abiding citizen. Whatever, you plan to do, always follow the rules and regulations to avoid legal issues.

Do not speculate in the stockmarket.

Fire Day Masters (丙 Bing Yang Fire and 丁 Ding Yin Fire), there is an abundance of wealth opportunities. To grab these opportunities, be prepared to work harder and put in more effort.

Earth Day Masters (戊 Wu Yang Earth and 巳 Ji Yin Earth), you may be feeling lonely. Take up some new hobbies and make some new friends along the way.

Metal Day Masters (庚 Geng Yang Metal and 辛 Xin Yin Metal), your Rob Wealth star is strong. To avoid robbery, be aware of your surroundings and stay alert. Do not walk alone in dark, deserted alleys.

Water Day Masters (壬 Ren Yang Water and 癸 Gui Yin Water), your mood can be rather erratic. Do yoga, meditation or other activities that can help you calm your mood and direct your focus.

Tiger

Some obstacles, especially at work, await the Tiger sign this month. With some extra effort and quick action, the Tiger can resolve any problem that comes their way. Be confident as you have the ability to handle challenges. Investment luck is strong. Keep a look-out for good investment opportunities. Keep to a healthy diet and exercise regularly to continue to be in top form.

Rabbit

Rabbit people should lie low in the Monkey month. Do not take risk and make any major changes. At home and at work, maintain a harmonious relationship with the people around you. For single Rabbits, this is not a good month to pursue love. Be patient and wait for a better time.

Dragon

Dragon people can look forward to positive progress in their career and steady wealth luck. Increased workloads go in tandem with monetary gain. Love should take a back seat as the month's energy favours career and wealth more than relationships. So, stop lazing around and start working. In general, Dragon people will enjoy good health.

Snake

Snake people will enjoy the fruits of their hard work this month. Your efforts and contributions will be recognized by the right people. You can expect some form of reward for what you have contributed so far. Everything is going as you wish.

Horse

Horse people can look forward to a fortunate month in all aspects. Job opportunities abound, so job-hunting will be much easier. Working abroad is also a possibility. You will gain profits from your investments. Be safe while commuting.

Goat

Overall, the Goat fortune takes a turn for the better in August. Although you are not out of the woods yet, you can enjoy some peaceful time away from chaos and havoc. You will find your colleagues helpful and supportive. Cooperate with them to achieve more. There may be the promise of a higher salary or bonus from your bosses. It is a good month to resolve relationship problems too.

Monkey

The ability to communicate effectively with superiors, colleagues and staff is essential this month for the Monkey sign to progress in their work smoothly. While there are many new job opportunities, it may not meet the Monkey people's expectations in terms of remuneration. Wealth luck is mediocre. Hence, look for a job that will give you exposure and experience instead of an increment in salary.

Rooster

Rooster people will have their luck hindered by their ego and interpersonal skills. They should be friendly, maintain a harmonious relationship with people and communicate effectively and diplomatically. Be flexible and patient while resolving issues with difficult people.

Dog

Mixed fortunes await those who have the Dog sign. Make time to consider your career plan and future. Do not make major changes this month even if you feel trapped in a poor fitting job. Focus on what you can do in the present so that you do not let your negative feelings affect your motivation levels. Meanwhile, take up a course that can open more doors for you in your career.

Pig

The Pig's luck can be good if they can keep a cool head during chaotic times at work. Workwise, things will become more stable from the middle of the month. The Pig zodiac should keep their accounts balanced and make reasonable investment analysis to safeguard their wealth. Joining more social activities will help you make friends. Spare more time to spend with family to strengthen family bonds.

Rat

Romance luck is shining on the Rat people. Couples who are in a steady relationship should consider tying the knot. Single Rats should join more social activities to improve their chances of meeting potential love partners. Look forward to stable career and income as well as good health.

Ox

The Oxen will be rewarded for their hard work. Ox people who work in the banking or financial fields will earn extra money from their investments. Romantic luck is shining on the Ox sign. Single females are likely to meet interesting people. Good health gives you the energy to work better.
