Message from the Editor

Dear Readers,

I can't help being struck by a wave of nostalgia with this issue's Mid-Autumn theme. As a child, I always looked forward to the new lanterns my mum would buy for my brother and I every Mid-Autumn Festival. The lanterns I grew up with were wire lanterns wrapped in colourful glass paper shaped into fantastic beasts. We also loved playing with the candles meant for the lanterns. That was probably the only time the parents allowed us kids to play with fire. These are happy memories that I cherish to this day. I hope you and your family will also create many happy memories this Mid-Autumn Festival.

Universal Qi generated by the

MID AUTUMN FESTIVAL

The Mid-Autumn Festival falls on the 15th day of the 8th month of the Chinese lunar calendar. It is the second grandest festival in China after the Chinese New Year. The festival is held to give thanks for a bountiful harvest. People would also pray for a good harvest, fine weather and peace in the coming year. Due to ancient China's cultural influence and the Chinese diaspora, the tradition of the Mid-Autumn Festival has spread to other parts of the world. The festival is now celebrated in China, Taiwan, Japan, Korea, Vietnam, Thailand, Malaysia and Singapore.

Has Mid-Autumn Festival got anything to do with Feng Shui?

No! It has nothing to do with Feng Shui.

But it has everything to do with Qi. If you have been practising Qi Men for the purpose of tapping into the Qi of the Universe, then you may want to take note.

Why?

The human body generates Qi. Our body is the embodiment of Qi. In fact, all living things generate and contain Qi. Humans are also able to tap into external Qi and cultivate, expand, transfer, receive or transform this external Qi. This is known as Ki or spiritual Qi. Scientists classify this energy in the human body as bio-electricity, the electric energy associated with living organisms. This is another form of electricity that is prevalent in every living creature besides the electricity that is seen in lightning and generated by man-made technology.

Bio-electricity is a phenomenon in living organisms. It is bio-electricity that enables the electric eel to generate electrical currents outside their bodies. It is believed that this bio-electricity enables a shark to map out the ocean floor and enables migratory birds to travel great distances and reach their destinations on time at the same time each year. Humans only created this ability in the form of GPS in recent years. However, bio-electricity does not adequately convey the embodiment of Qi in Chinese Metaphysics and spiritual studies.

But just imagine, when happy and positive energy vibration is being generated simultaneously by the many people around the world celebrating the Mid-Autumn Festival, it will reverberate into the Universe and generate a corresponding vibration in Universal Qi. Thus, it is a good thing to celebrate the festival together.

Of course, this kind of positive Qi vibration is not limited only to the Mid-Autumn Festival. It occurs when many people come together at events or celebrations such as concerts, Christmas, New Year, and carnivals such as the Mardi Gras and the famous Rio de Janeiro Carnival.

Qi also vibrates on election days when many people with the same intention gather to vote. Whether the Qi is positive or negative depends on their mindset.

What does this positive Qi connect and bring you to?

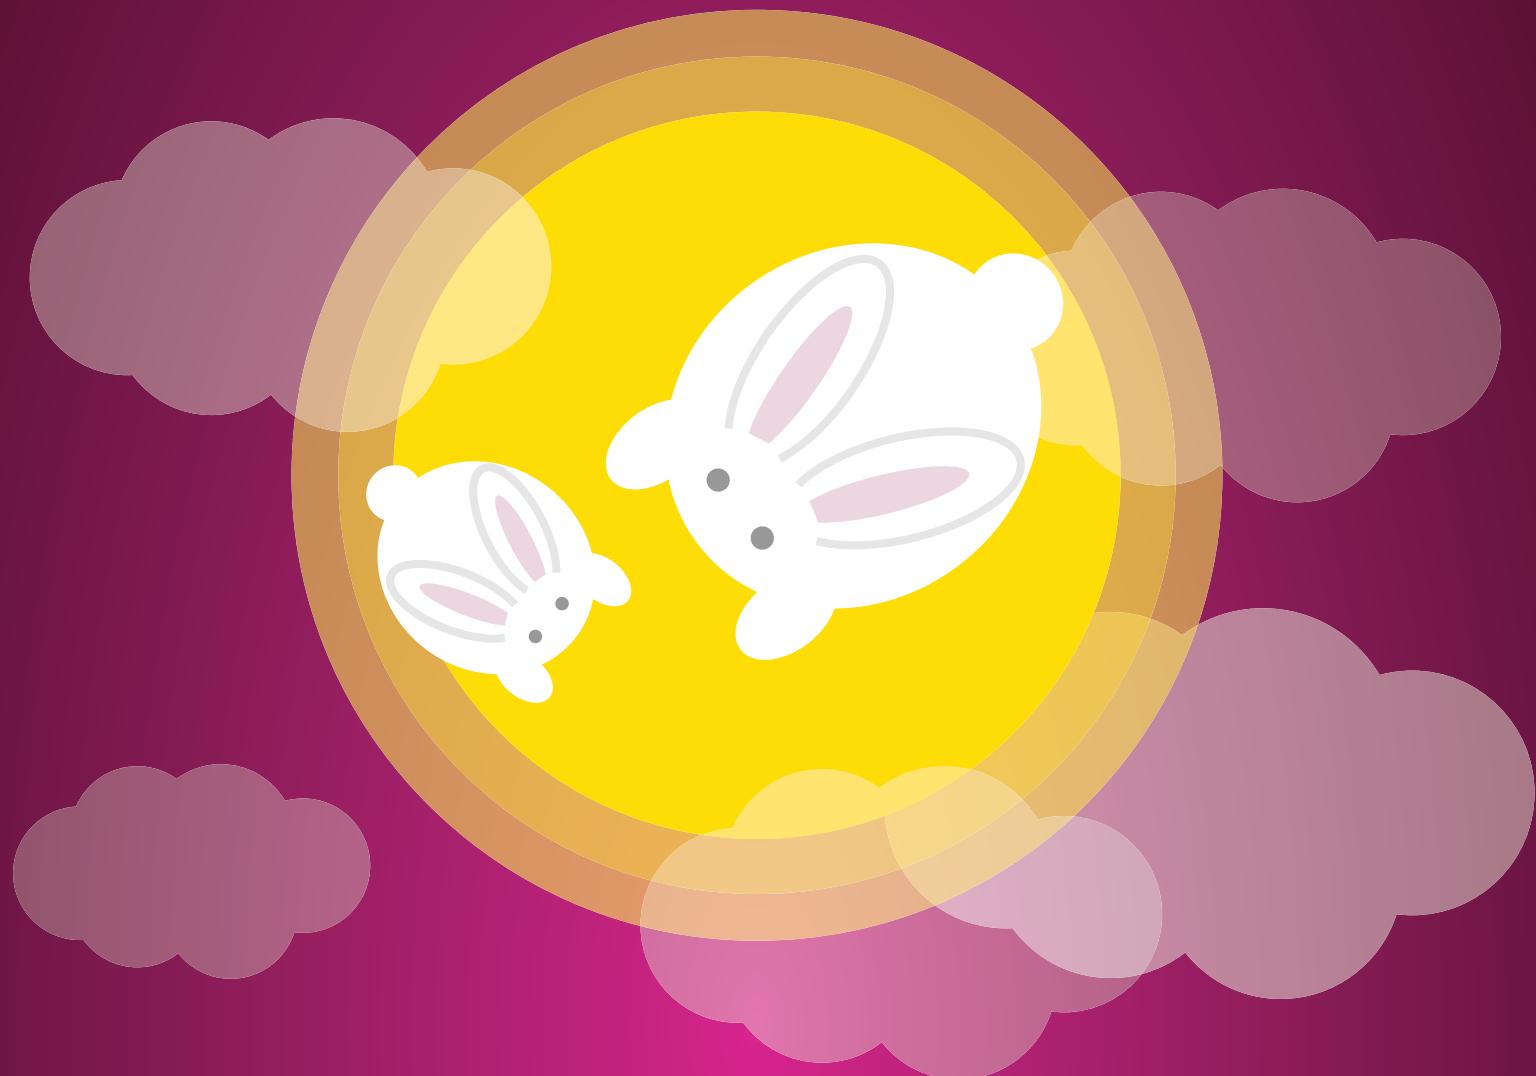

Traditionally, prayers and offerings were made in the Mid-Autumn to give thanks for a bountiful harvest. Good harvest in the old days translated to abundance and wealth. People also prayed for a good future.

During this time, the moon is bright and round. This denotes reunion and harmony in the family, something very important in Chinese culture.

Traditionally, men did not pray to the Moon on this day. Instead, they offered prayers to the Mountain Deity for a bountiful harvest and prayed to the Dragon that brings rain for the crops. Men also prayed to the Heavens asking for a good future, abundance and longevity. Women will pray to the Moon asking for fertility, love, a spouse, longevity and beauty. This is because the Moon Goddess represents immortality, love and beauty. Find out more about the story of the Moon Goddess and her importance to the Mid-Autumn Festival on page 11.

Thus, during the Mid-Autumn Festival, it is best to make a wish for an abundance of wealth, harmony in the family, babies, love, a spouse, longevity and beauty.

10 THINGS YOU CAN DO
TO TAP INTO & ATTRACT POSITIVE QI DURING
MID-AUTUMN FESTIVAL

1. Meditate

On 24th of September this year, start your day with a meditation. Keep it short and simple! Here is a simple guide to meditation for beginners:

- a) Sit or lie down comfortably. You can lie on your bed or a sofa.
- b) Close your eyes.
- c) Breathe naturally. Do not try to control your breathe.
- d) Focus your attention on your breathe. Relax your body while you inhale and exhale.
- e) Stay in this state for 5 to 10 minutes especially if you are just starting out.

2. Listen to Uplifting Music

Listen to motivating and happy music or songs. The right music can heal and raise our vibrations. Play music in the back ground while you go about your daily activities and work. It is a great way to shake off lethargy from your body.

3. Greet everyone positively

Greet everyone happily and positively. Wear a big smile and wish them, "Happy Mid-Autumn Festival." In fact, greeting people happily every day and wishing them well is a good way of sending and receiving positive Qi.

4. Visualize happiness

Most minds are addicted to negative thinking. Consciously break out of this habit to attract good energy. On this festive day, instead of giving energy to negative thoughts, give yourself 5 minutes to envision the happy and fulfilled life that you want.

5. Stop Worrying

It is human nature to keep worrying about the future or thinking about past unhappiness. Both are a waste of energy. When you worry, you are unconsciously creating negative energy internally. This may cause harm to your well-being. If you cannot stop worrying on this festive day, at least try to keep your mind in the present.

6. Be with nature and connect with Mother Earth.

Take a morning stroll at a park with plenty of plants and trees. Step barefoot on the grass. Feel the energy from the natural environment around you. At the same time, negative energy will drain through your soles into mother earth. Buy some plants and put them inside your home.

7. Drop the Resentment

Forgive the mean, hurtful, and thoughtless people who have hurt and harmed you. Be willing to let bygones be bygones. It is a great way to let go of the negative energy created by your resentment. Resentment is self-punishment you create for yourself when you replay unhappy events in your mind. If you cannot forgive, at least during this happy festival, forget about them.

8. Spread Happy Greetings

This Mid-Autumn Festival, send happy greetings and messages through Whatsapp or WeChat or Facebook to all your friends, relatives and family. This is a positive way to send out positive Qi and receive it in return.

9. Gather and celebrate

On the night of the Mid-Autumn Festival, celebrate with your friends and family. Enjoy some delicious mooncakes. The round mooncakes symbolize completeness and reunion. Carry brightly lit lanterns around your neighbourhood, light lanterns at home, or send some floating lanterns skyward, taking your wishes to the Heavens.

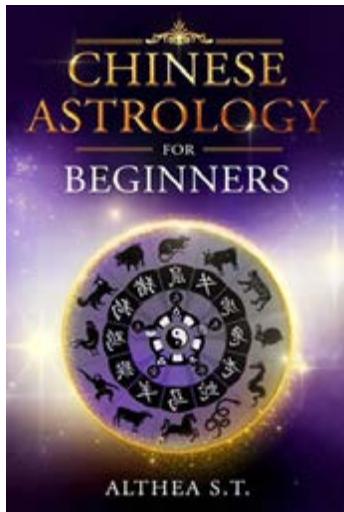

10. Make a Wish

Mid-Autumn festival falls on the 24th of September this year, and is a great time to make a wish. Find out the auspicious direction and most suitable wish for this festive day on page 4.

Of course, you don't have to wait for Mid-Autumn festival to come around to practice items 1 to 9. Practice them every day, and you will be more receptive to positive Qi from the Universe.

For the Love of Hou Yi

On the night of 19th July 1969, Houston told the Apollo 11 crew, "Among the large headlines concerning Apollo this morning, is one asking that you watch for a lovely girl with a big rabbit. An ancient legend says a beautiful Chinese girl called Chang'e has been living there for 4,000 years. It seems she was banished to the Moon because she stole the pill of immortality from her husband. You might also look for her companion, a large Chinese rabbit, who is easy to spot since he is always standing on his hind feet in the shade of a cinnamon tree. The name of the rabbit is not reported."

Michael Collins replied, "Okay. We'll keep a close eye out for the bunny girl."

Tonight, on 30th July 2018, I thought, "Hey! You guys need to bring along a highly spiritual person with an opened "Third Eye" to be able to see Chang'e and the Jade Rabbit. And you got the story wrong. Chang'e was not banished to the Moon."

In the ancient past, an unexpected calamity came to Earth. Ten suns rose above the horizon and stayed there for days and nights. Extreme heat ravaged the Earth, wilting fields of grain, drying up rivers, and even melting forged metal. Beneath the scorching rays, people knelt down and prayed hard to the Emperor God, Di Jun for help.

Hearing the suffering of the people, Di Jun called upon his great archer, Hou Yi.

He told him, "Protect the people. Take down the nine suns." Armed with a mystical red bow and a quiver of white arrows, Hou Yi descended upon Earth. As he landed, he saw that the lands were barren and people were suffering and dying. Shielding his eyes, he peered at the sky. He saw the ten suns cruelly shining on Earth.

Nocking arrow to bow, Hou Yi loosed a warning shot at the suns hoping to frighten them away, but they impassively remained. Hou Yi drew again and fired a killing shot piercing one of the many suns. The sun exploded in colour and turned into a giant red raven with three legs. It fell to the earth, slain by the white arrow. Hou Yi drew eight arrows to his cheek and let them fly. The eight arrows burst into the sky striking the eight suns accurately. Eight more red ravens fell dead. He left one sun in the sky to provide light. The remaining sun was so fearful, it only rose above the horizon in the morning, and stayed hidden at night.

Now armed with the power of the red ravens he killed, sending light and fire against those who threaten the world, be it monster or beast, dragon, sun, man or even God, Hou Yi became the protector of the Earth and hero to the people. He was pronounced king by the thankful people.

He remained on Earth to protect the people. Living on Earth, Hou Yi fell in love with and married a beautiful lady named Chang'e. Goddess Queen Mother of the West, admiring Hou Yi's bravery and sacrifices for the sake of the people, sent him the elixir of immortality. Hou Yi did not want to leave Chang'e and be immortal again without her, so he let Chang'e keep the elixir.

Peng Meng, one of Hou Yi's apprentices came to know of this secret. Being greedy, he planned to use the elixir to become immortal himself. On the fifteenth day of the eighth lunar month, while Hou Yi was out hunting, Peng Meng broke into the Palace and tried to force Chang'e to give him the elixir. Chang'e refused to do so. While trying to prevent Peng Meng from getting the elixir, she accidentally swallowed it and began to float. Wanting to stay on the ground, she grabbed at the nearest thing she could get her hands on. But she flew up to the sky toward the Heavens. In her hands was her pet, a rabbit. Because she loved her husband very much and hoped to live near him, she chose the moon as her residence. Thus, she became the Moon Goddess. Her pet rabbit became her immortal companion and was named Jade Rabbit.

When Hou Yi returned and learned of what had happened, he executed Peng Meng. He felt so sad that he displayed the fruits and cakes that Chang'e liked in the yard and offered sacrifices to his wife. People soon learned about Hou Yi's plight. Out of love for their King, and sympathy for Chang'e's plight, they prayed and offered sacrifices together with Hou Yi each year during the fifteenth day of the eighth lunar month.

This is why, in the old days, women will pray to the moon asking for babies, love, a spouse, longevity and beauty. On the night of the Mid-Autumn Festival, stand beneath the moon with your back to the auspicious direction at the auspicious time (refer to page 4 for the auspicious direction and time) to fulfil your wish. You can ask Chang'e for beauty, good health and love.

A Simple Investment Guide

Keep in mind that proper understanding, careful study and analysis is still needed for any investment. In fact, the information you acquire about your investment will help you make a case for whether you should go ahead with your investment, to hold on to it, or to make an exit in conjunction with the Qi Men Dun Jia ('QMDJ') analysis.

This is another case study of QMDJ Forecasting for investment. Let's take a look at the QMDJ chart on 8 August 2017 at 20:29, and how this chart can give you simple investment guidance.

This chart gives you very straight forward information. The Life Door which represents your Investment is located in the South Palace. The Heaven Stem is Geng Metal with Destructor Star. Whatever Investment you are thinking about putting your money into will result in a loss. If this is a stock, the company is most probably not doing well. The price of the stock of your investment will decrease.

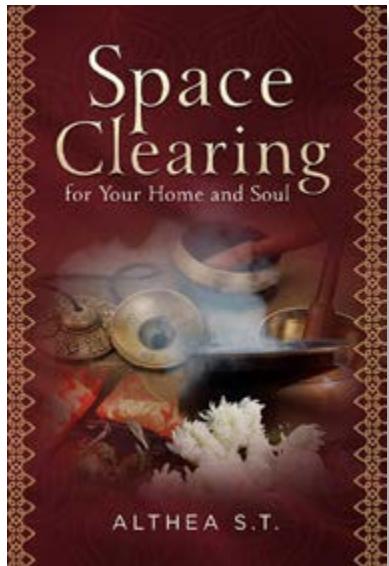

Conclusion: In such cases, it is definitely an "AVOID."

Asking for protection during Halloween

Since we did a Hungry Ghost Festival themed issue for the June 2018 issue, we thought that we should also touch on Halloween.

Similar to the Hungry Ghost Festival in Asia, Halloween is the time of the year dedicated to remembering the dead, including saints, martyrs and all the faithful departed for our Western counterparts. Unlike the Hungry Ghost Festival which lasts for about 2 weeks, Halloween is observed only for 3 days beginning on the night of 31 October.

The Table below gives you the direction to ask for safety and protection from danger and harm from wandering spirits and ghosts as well as unscrupulous people. During this period, you can ask the Chief Deity for protection for your children who are out trick-or-treating and adults attending Halloween costume parties or going out at night.

Ask for the protection with your back to the direction listed in the table below.

| Date | *Direction |
|-----------------|------------|
| 31 October 2018 | East |
| 1 November 2018 | East |
| 2 November 2018 | Northeast |

*This direction is based on the Chief direction from Qi Men Day Chart so you can do it at any time of the day.

Ask for protection with your back facing to the *direction

The Rise of the Qi of Period 9

As you may already know, annual Qi does not change abruptly when the clock strikes midnight on 4 February each year. Instead, Qi shifts, enters and exits subtly. Similarly, the Qi for each Feng Shui period does not change overnight. That's why, although Feng Shui Period 9 only officially begins in 2024, the Qi of Feng Shui Period 9 is already starting to make a subtle appearance. If we are intuitive, we can always pick up signs of this shifting Qi. Each country may experience different signals at different times announcing the shift in Qi towards Period 9. The shift in Qi toward this new period could have taken place as early as in 2017.

In Period 9, Flying Star #9 becomes the current and dominant energy. Period 9 is related to Flying Star #9 and "Li Gua." It is predominantly Fire energy followed by Earth energy. In Period 8, Flying Star #9 represents future prosperity. In Period 9, Flying Star #9 represents current prosperity. The Flying Star #9 also denotes passion, fame, recognition, prestige and Peach Blossom influence. Whereas "Li Gua" governs the full right and power of a governing body over itself as well as the authority over some political entity. "Li Gua" represents the second daughter.

Each Feng Shui Period lasts 20 years. This is due to the movement of Saturn and Jupiter that takes 20 years to align with each other. When Saturn and Jupiter re-align, major changes will occur.

The Qi of Feng Shui Period 9 has clearly made its first mark in Malaysia during the 14th General Election held in May 2018. The power shift has opened the door for the opposition alliance to form a minority government. The most significant sign of rising Period 9 Qi is the appointment of the first female Deputy Prime Minister of Malaysia, Dato' Seri Dr. Wan Azizah binti Wan Ismail. While she has always projected the image of a supportive wife and mother matching the Qi of Period 8, Kun Gua, her appointment as the second most powerful woman in Malaysia fits the influence of Li Gua.

Dato' Seri Dr. Wan Azizah's Bazi Chart shows an ambitious woman belying her motherly image. Below is her Bazi Chart. Her Day Master is sitting on Seven Killings Star with a strong Goat Blade Structure. Usually this denotes a person who is independent and wants control and power. Her Gui (Yin Water) Day Master may have softened this side of her, resulting in a gentler image.

Dato' Seri Dr. Wan Azizah's Bazi Chart

From the Bazi point of view, Tun Dr. Mahathir bin Mohamad, the Prime Minister, may prefer to work with her compared to her husband, Dato' Seri Anwar bin Ibrahim. Her Day Pillar, Gui Wei appears alongside Tun Dr. Mahathir's Day Pillar in Tun Dr. Mahathir's Bazi Chart as shown below. She may be the mediator between Tun Dr. Mahathir (Yi Day Master) and Dato' Seri Anwar (Xin Day Master) as these Day Masters clash with each other.

Will she still make way for her husband to step in as the Deputy Prime Minister and later, as the Prime Minister of Malaysia? Will Malaysians be ready to embrace a woman in power at this point in time? The Qi in Period 8 and 9 supports a woman's endeavours more than a man's. More women will get recognized and make headway in male dominated careers.

Home Feng Shui: Planning Ahead for Period 9

The Feng Shui Period 9 Qi will begin appearing in another 5 years, starting from the year 2024 to 2033. However, looking at the changes and events in the world, we know that the Period 9 Qi is already picking up slowly and starting to influence the environment and people who have strong affinity with Flying Star #9 (refer to page 28).

People who know little about Feng Shui, but are very concerned about the Feng Shui of their home will ask whether they need to make changes to their house to better harness the Period 9 Qi. Some are even thinking of moving into a new home after the year 2024. Do you need to do that? The beginning of Period 9 merely means a shift in energies where Flying Star #9 becomes the most current and dominant Qi. Flying Star #8 Qi will become the past prosperity Qi.

First and foremost, when discussing the Flying Star, it relates to the energy in the interior of the house which contributes only 30% of the total Feng Shui make-up of the home. When we say that certain houses' facing are bad in Period 9, always remember it is just a 30% influence. The main environment still plays a major role with a 70% influence. You need not be concerned or worried if your house is supported by good landform Feng Shui.

In Period 9, we do not want to see the “Facing” and “Mountain” Flying star #9 fall into the centre of a house. Flying Star #9 in the centre of a house is known as “Prosperity Star enters Prison” (令星入囚 Lìng Xīng Rù Qiú). We are not concerned about the Base Star #9 in the centre.

Below are houses built during different Periods that have the “Facing” and “Mountain” Flying star #9 in the centre of the house.

Location of Water & Mountain

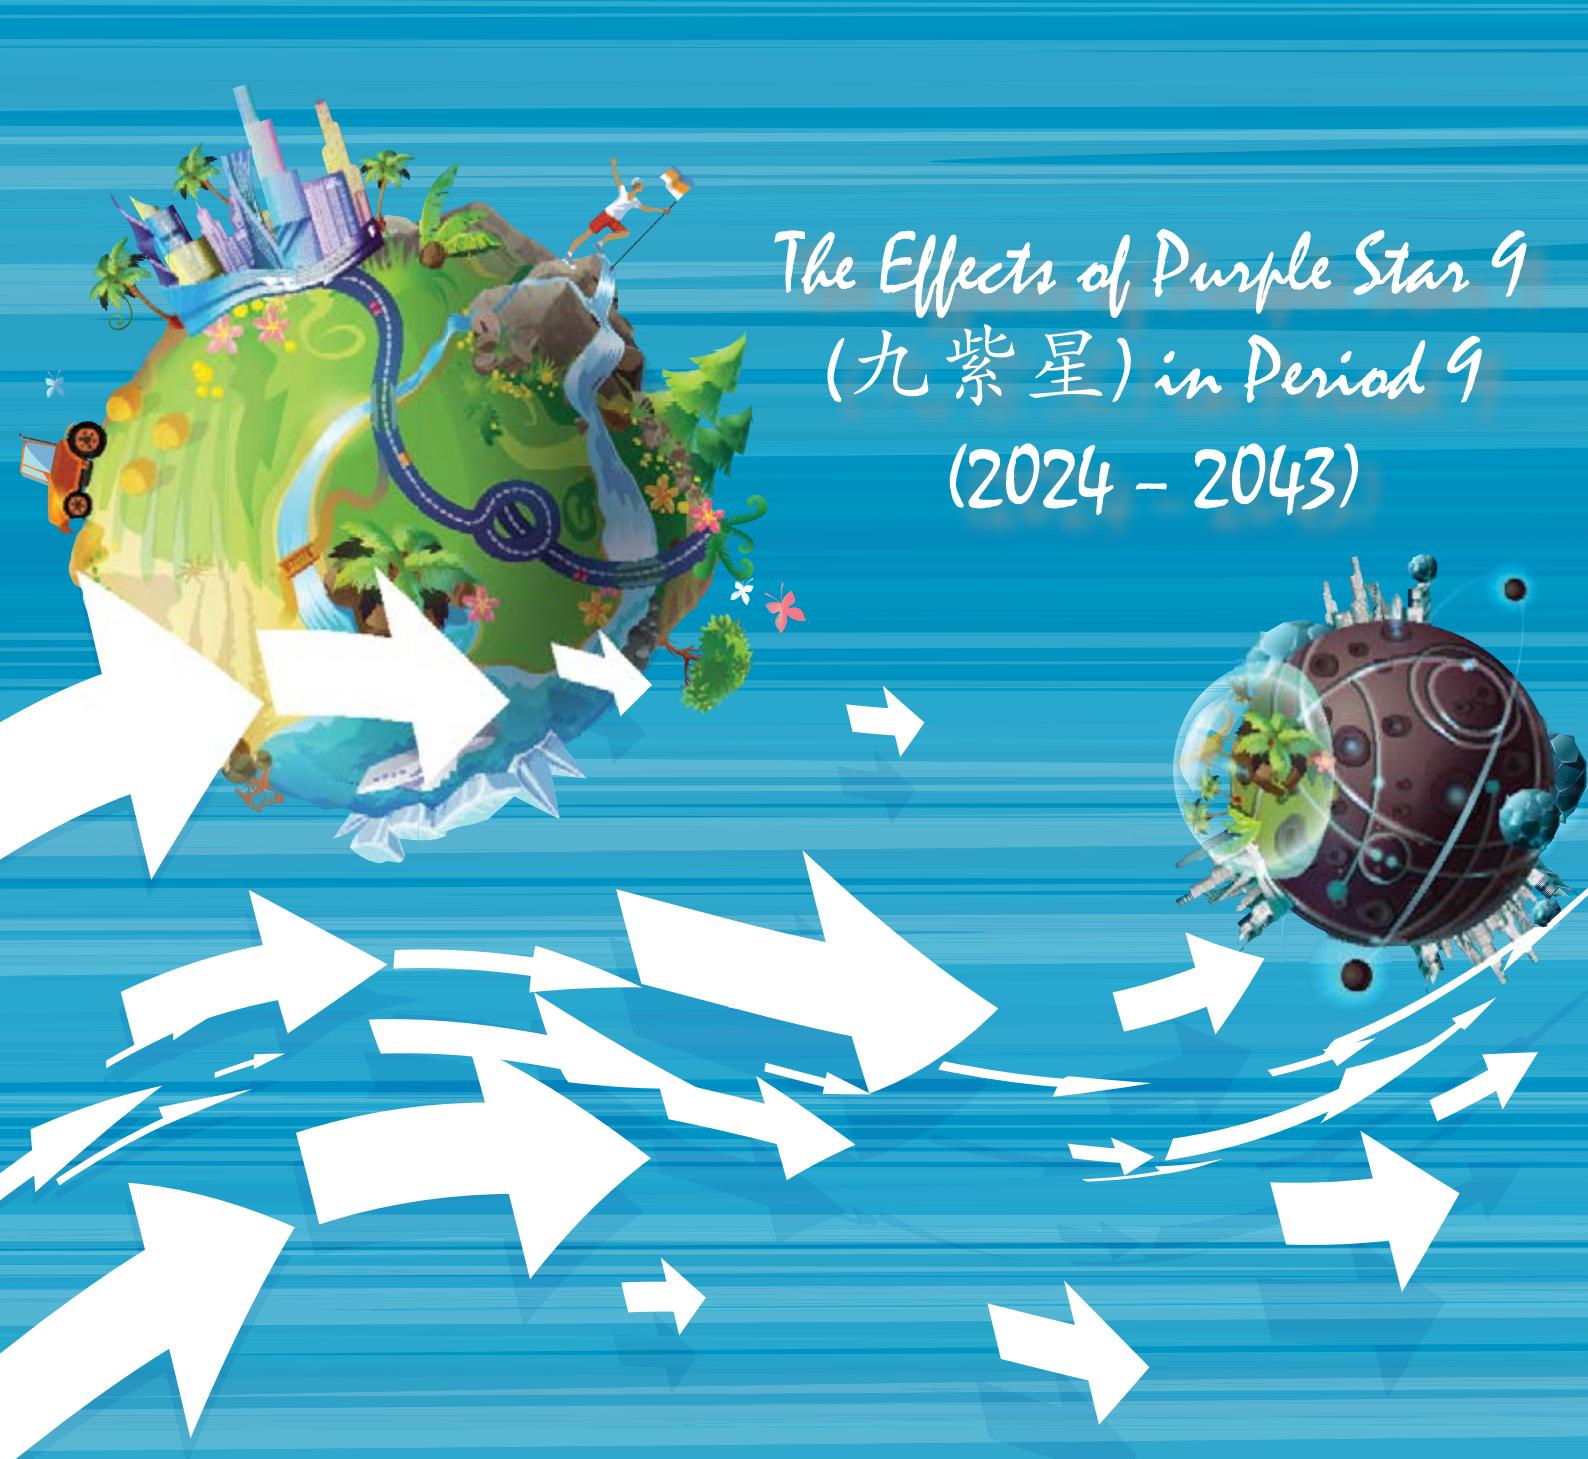

If your house falls into any one of the lists above, do not fret yet. It only governs 30% of the Feng Shui of your home. 70% of the Feng Shui of the home is influenced by the surrounding landform.

How do you know whether you have good landform around your house? Here is a simple guide.

Water such as a bright hall, lake, pond, swimming pool or waterway should be located at the North, East, Southeast or Southwest of your home.

Mountains should be located at the Northeast, South, West and Northwest.

If your house happens to have “Prosperity Star enters Prison” and doesn’t meet the above criteria, then you should look for a new home before the start of Period 9.

The Effects of Purple Star 9 (九紫星) in Period 9 (2024 - 2043)

The Purple Flying Star #9 (九紫星) belongs to the Fire Element. People born with Life Gua #9, #1 and #6 will be more sensitive to the shift from Period 8 to Period 9. Those born with a Fire Day Master (Ding Fire and Bing Fire) or those who have strong Fire Elements in their Bazi chart will also be more sensitive to the shifting Qi. Flying Star #9 is associated with "Li Gua." People associated with Li Gua are women, especially the second or middle daughter. They too, will be influenced by the changing Qi during the transition to Period 9.

Flying Star #9 represents power, fame, passion, beauty, innovation, the senses and spirituality.

What will take place in the coming Period 9?

While the importance of standard academic education such as accounting, law and engineering will remain, there will be an important shift in education to spirituality, creativity, sensory sciences and futuristic technology. Traditional education that placed great importance on teaching will shift its focus to learning. Children will be encouraged to learn through “divergent thinking” and experience. The old way of education is academic based. Children were told there was one right answer to a question. Divergent thinking encourages the search for more than one answer. There are many possible answers to a question.

Industries related to culture, education, beauty & cosmetics, health, DNA research, blood and cardiovascular health, electronics, robotics, and technology applications that will transform people's lifestyles will do well.

In Period 9, the “technology revolution” will replace the “industrial revolution.” Job markets will change quickly as hundreds of jobs will become extinct, replaced by automation, robotics and artificial intelligence. Doors will be opened to people with good analytical skills and the ability to harness information. The service industry, where human interaction and connections are needed, will become the largest engine of job creation. For example, personal fitness trainers, dieticians, nutritionists and image consultants will be in demand. Jobs in the service industry such as life coaches, counsellors and leisure consultants will help people deal with life problems. The entertainment industry will remain a major job creator.

In Period 8, health concerns revolved around diabetes, stomach-related illnesses, cancer and epidemics due to the Earth Qi. In Period 9, we will see a pick-up in health issues related to psychological and neuro-sickness, cardiovascular diseases, diseases related to the eyes, brain and blood and cancer.

There will be an increased interest in culture, metaphysics, spirituality and religion such as literature, fine arts, Feng Shui, Reiki, Qi Gong, Pranic Healing, Buddhism, Taoism and Confucianism.

In Period 9, environmental issues and natural disasters such as global warming, increased melting of the Arctic and Antarctic ice caps, acid rain, air pollution, forest fires and volcano eruptions will become the main focus.

Five Main Classic Principles of Feng Shui Cures

Before we jump straight into using Feng Shui cures, we must understand what constitutes negative or bad Qi in Feng Shui.

There are two types of negative Qi:

1. Sha Qi
2. Death Qi

Sha Qi is translated as killing or attacking energy. In general, Sha Qi can be spotted easily because it comes in “visible form (形煞 Xíng shā).” Visible Sha Qi are created by sharp structures or sharp angles in a structure. They can be man-made or natural structures that point toward your front door or windows. This can be the sharp angle of a mountain or high-rise building that is "slicing" through your window. Even a tall lamp post that is "aiming" at your door or window can be Sha Qi. Sha Qi can also come from facing T-junctions or convex roads or highways.

Construction can be an “invisible Sha Qi (理气).” There may not be pointy or sharp structures that slice at the house, but negative Qi is created from the piling work. The constant hammering on the ground to build the pile foundation creates the “Earth Sha (地煞)”. The Earth Sha will attack houses and buildings in the vicinity.

A house near the highway that is constantly exposed to noises created from cars passing-by, will experience “Noise Sha (噪煞).” A penthouse on top of a building, in the path of sharp, strong and whistling wind will experience both “Noise Sha” and “Wind Sha (风煞).” These invisible Sha Qi can cause illness and depression.

Invisible Sha Qi are also derived from classical Feng Shui theories such as San Yuan (三元), San He(三合) and Xuan Kong (玄空). The Annual Inauspicious Auxiliary Stars such as Illness Star, Robbery Sha, Grand Duke and Year Breaker, and the Flying Stars such as Five Yellow and Two Black, are some of the examples of Invisible Sha Qi derived from classical theories.

Death Qi is low or decaying Qi. This energy is lifeless and dying. Death Qi is usually an invisible Sha Qi. People exposed to this type of Sha Qi for too long will fall sick or become depressed.

External Death Qi occurs at the sites of human massacres or overwhelming human tragedies. Internal Death Qi is found inside buildings that have strong magnetic and geopathic stress. Qi that is accumulated and stuck in an area for far too long will turn into Death Qi. For example, houses with a lot of clutter and lack of order.

Smell is another type of “invisible Sha Qi (理气).” Moldy smells can accumulate inside houses where there are no occupants. A musty odor is caused by the presence of mold or mildew. Both are fungi that grow in the presence of moisture or water. These are usually an indication of decaying Qi. Rotting smells occur in unsanitary places, drains, damp areas and some mismanaged garbage disposal sites. All these bring the “Smell Sha (味煞).” Smell Sha is the hardest Sha Qi to deflect away as it is formless. The smell can penetrate every corner and reach a certain distance carried by wind and air. Smell Sha often causes illness, and can lead to financial and relationship troubles.

There are five main classic principles of Feng Shui cures:

1. To Hide 遮

To hang creeper plants on windows to cover the view of the curving highway or to plant tall trees to block the view of the lamp post is to use the classic Feng Shui principle “To Hide.” It is quite similar to the second classic Feng Shui principle “To Block.”

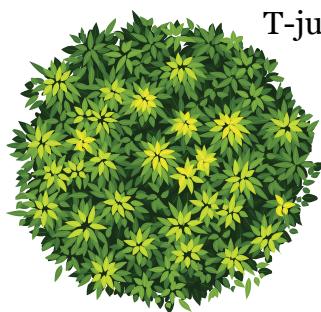

2. To Block 挡

The principle “To Block” can be used to prevent negative Qi from coming in or to prevent positive Qi from flowing out. A house with the main door directly facing a T-junction can block the negative Qi by building a high and fully covered gate. Road bumps can also be built along the T-junction to slow down the Sha Qi.

Decorative partitions can be erected to block the positive Qi from flowing out of a house where you can see the back door from the main door.

3. To Mitigate 化

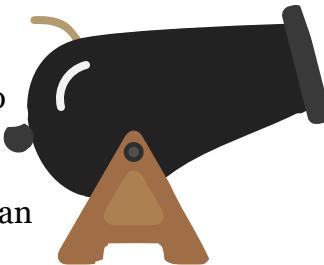

Placement of a “Salt Water Cure” (refer to our article, “Feng Shui Cures” in the March 2017 issue) or metal objects to pacify the Five Yellow reduces Sha Qi. A house facing a T-junction can apply this principle by placing a pond in the garden in between the T-junction and the house to diffuse the Sha-Qi. Trees and plants improve air quality. Growing a lot of plants especially jasmine, camellia and areca palm can help absorb carbon monoxide. This reduces the Smell Sha. This is the “To Mitigate” principle.

4. To Fight 鬥

We strongly advise against using the “To Fight” principle. This is because it may cause harm to others. For example, using a mirror to deflect the reflecting sunlight to an opposite window can cause harm to the occupants of both houses if used incorrectly.

5. To Avoid 避

When you stop using an area under the influence of negative Qi, you are applying the “To Avoid” principle. This is useful as annual negative Qi will fall into certain sectors of a house each year. It is best to avoid using these areas as you don’t want to disturb the Qi in the Five Yellow, Grand Duke and Year Breaker sectors. “To Mitigate” principle only applies when these sectors are accidentally activated.

If the house or office is really beyond redemption after consulting a few Feng Shui consultants, then find a new place to move into. Sell the house.

When you understand how Sha Qi comes about, you will know which Feng Shui cures to apply.

“Displaying a statue of the Buddha, good fortune three legged frog, longevity tortoise or mirror will not change your fortune or life. Tapping into positive Qi will present you with many opportunities.

That’s how Feng Shui works!”

Revisiting Pavilion KL Mall

It has been four years since I last wrote about Pavilion KL (refer to page 45, March 2014 Issue), one of the main malls in Kuala Lumpur's Bukit Bintang area. After dropping by ABC Café at Pavilion KL, my interest in the Feng Shui of this mall was piqued again. The sky bridge linking Jalan Raja Chulan to the mall is curved as it approaches the mall preventing Sha Qi from building up, which is what happens with a straight bridge.

The sky bridge is linked to an open part of the mall that houses many restaurants. This area, which mimics a pedestrian street is called Connection, and is separated from the main mall. On the upper levels, it is connected to the main mall via a number of bridges, where it houses even more eateries, a cinema and a karaoke lounge. In November 2016, this area was extended even further with an additional new wing called Pavilion Elite.

Across the road from Pavilion KL, Fahrenheit 88 houses the first UNIQLO retail outlet in Malaysia. This outlet has what most people would consider a Feng Shui no-no, a main door that is at a higher level than the sidewalk. You may think that the Qi will flow out from the raised entrance of this UNIQLO outlet, since you need to walk up some stairs to enter the store. However, the main entrance is cleverly tapping the Qi coming from the straight stretch of “street” formed by Connection, Pavilion Elite and the Bukit Bintang area. The entrance is at about the same level as Pavilion KL’s street on the other side of the road.

How do you stop Qi from flowing out?

Sipping my cup of coffee while enjoying the view of people on the street, it occurred to me that the place reminds me of Suzhou. Of course, the busy streets and crowds here do not reflect the tranquillity and green nature of Suzhou, which is famous for its silk, gardens and pagodas.

However, Suzhou is most famous as the Venice of the East, its Grand Canal still quite an architectural marvel. Constructed in ancient times, it spans approximately 1,200 miles in length, making it the country’s longest man-made waterway. The Suzhou Grand Canal is a part of history that has been preserved for more than 2,500 years.

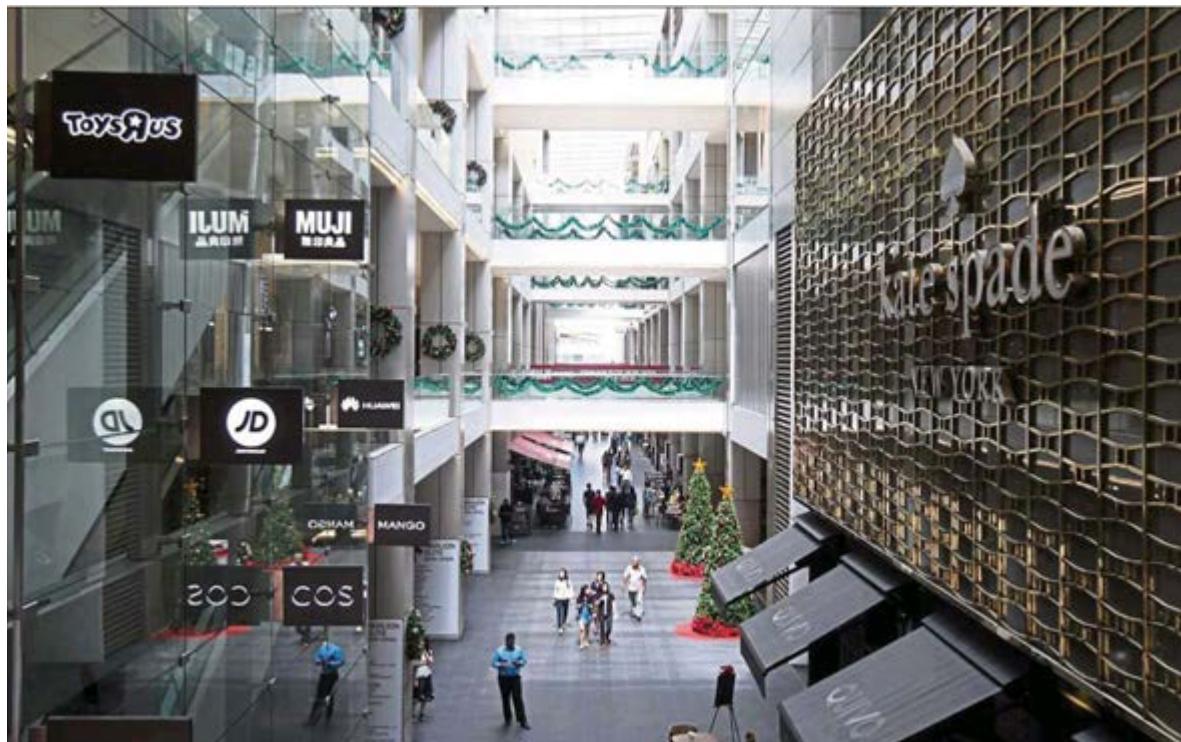

You must be wondering what this has to do with Pavilion KL. Just like the streets at the heart of Bukit Bintang, the canals of Suzhou also bustle with people travelling on small boats. Qi flows along these rivers and canals. The Grand Canal is located in China’s Yangtze River Delta about 60 miles from Shanghai. The River Delta is usually a flat area. Some stretches of canals and brooks are very straight, which can cause a “Pulling Nose” effect on the houses and stores along these waterways. With the “Pulling Nose” effect, Qi is being diverted away. There are no mountains or hills to lock-in the Qi.

So how did Song He Lou, one of Suzhou’s oldest restaurants, which boasts Emperor Qian

Long of the Qing Dynasty as one of its customers, survive so many years and continues to prosper to this day?

If you have been to the water town of Tongli, in the eastern part of the Suzhou Grand Canal, you will notice many bridges. There are a total of 47 bridges in this water town. These act as blockades to lock in Qi. Three of these bridges, namely Taiping (Peace), Jili (Good Luck) and Changing (Celebration) are all regarded by the locals as significant pieces of architecture. These bridges lock in the main Qi of the water town.

Thus, looking up at the bridges connecting Pavilion Connection and Pavilion Elite with the main building of Pavillion KL, I smiled to myself. How clever it is to apply the Feng Shui bridge concept to lock in Qi in a shopping mall.

CORE CHARACTERISTICS

(甲 YANG WOOD DAY MASTER)

There are altogether Ten Gods arising from the two different polarities (Yin and Yang) of the Day Master's interaction with the Five Elements. Each of these Five Elements can support, destroy, control, or exhaust one another. In the previous issues, we have shown the characteristics of the Ten Gods. Moving forward, we will be exploring how we can derive the core character or structure of a Bazi chart based on the interaction of the Element of the Month's Earthly Branch with each Day Master.

In this issue's Bazi 101, we want to explore the core character of Wood Day Masters born in different months. The Wood Day Master is further divided into Yin and Yang polarities, resulting in Yang Wood (甲 Jia) Day Master and Yin Wood (乙 Yi) Day Master. In this issue, we will focus on the Yang Wood (甲 Jia) Day Master.

The core character of these Wood Day Masters is derived from the Element in the Month (refer to Table 1 below). There are altogether twelve Earthly Branches representing twelve months. Each Earthly Branch usually contains one to three Elements known as Hidden Stems. The Hidden Stem represents the main Qi and sub-Qi in each of the Earthly Branches (refer to Reference Table: The Seasons and the Earthly Branches on page 76 for the Elements inside each of the Earthly Branches).

When the sub-Qi of the Month Branch appears on the Heavenly Stem, then the structure of the Bazi Chart is formed by this sub-Qi. The person's core character is represented by the Ten Gods of this sub-Qi.

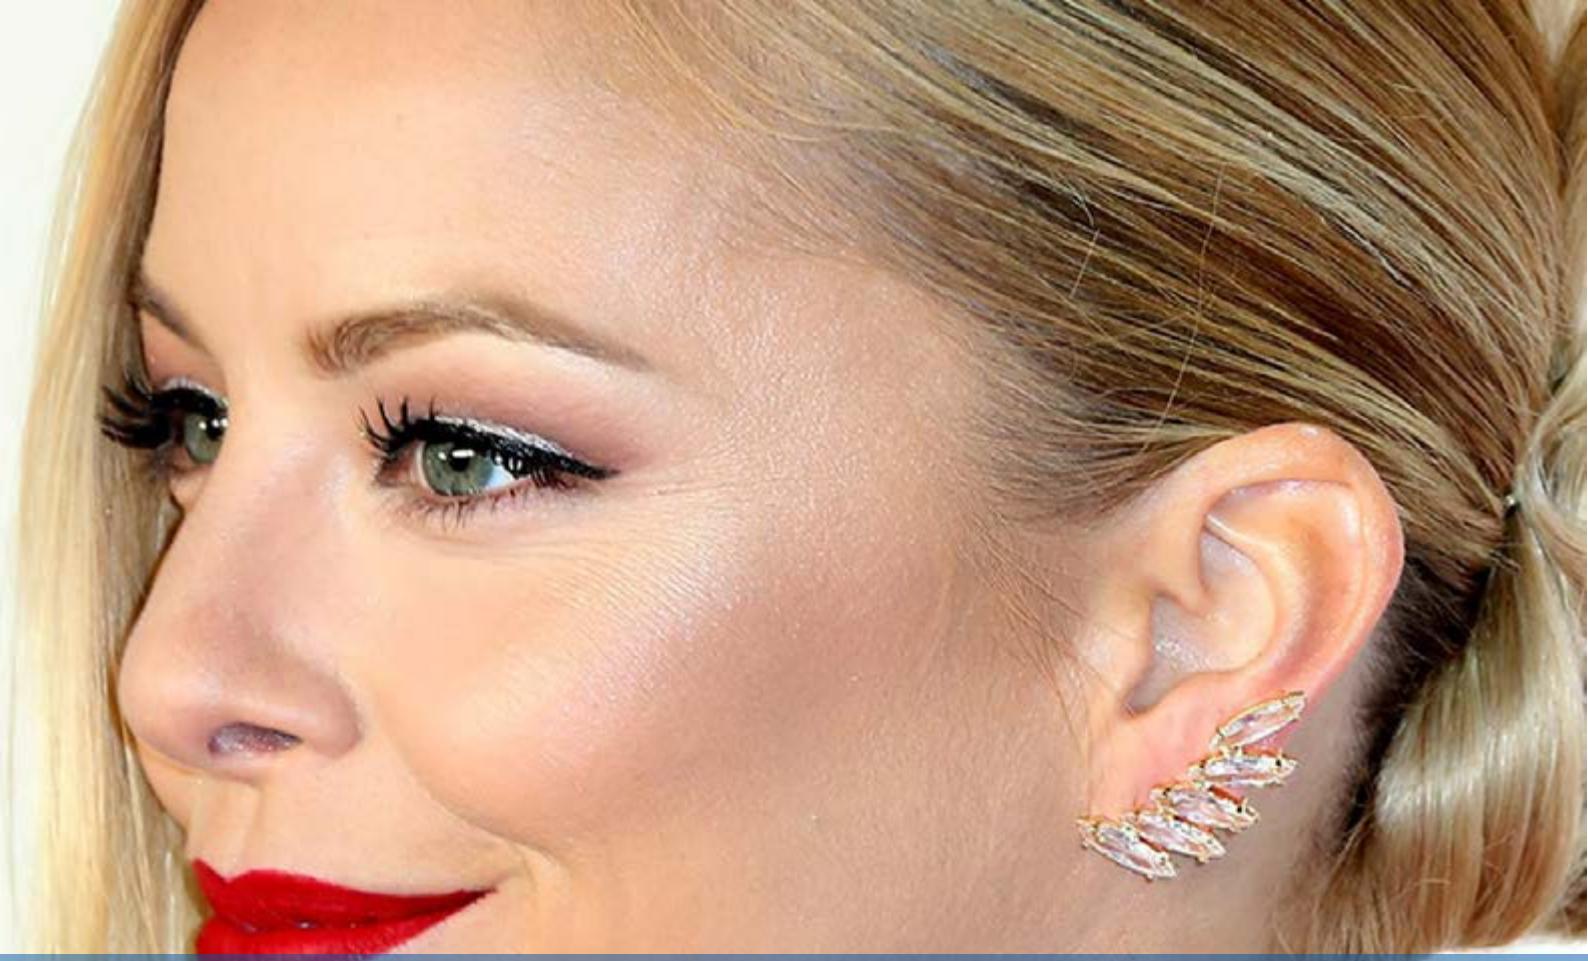

When the main Qi of the Month Branch appears on the Heavenly Stem, then the structure of the Bazi Chart is formed by this main Qi. The person's core character is represented by the Ten Gods of this main Qi.

If there is no main Qi or sub Qi of the Month Branch appearing on the Heavenly Stem, then the structure of the Bazi Chart follows the main Qi. The person's core character will be represented by the Ten Gods of this main Qi.

Table 1: Yang Wood Day Master Structure Based on the Earthly Branches of each Month

| Day Master | Month of Birth | Structure |
|-----------------------|-----------------------------------|--|
| 甲 Jia Yang Wood | 寅 Yin Tiger Yang Wood | Yin is Jia's Prosperous position, thus, Jia Wood born in the Yin month is a Thriving structure, also known as Friend structure. |
| | 卯 Mao Rabbit Yin Wood | Mao is Yi's Prosperous position, thus, Jia Wood born in a Mao month is Goat Blade structure, also known as Rob Wealth structure. |
| | 辰 Chen Dragon Yang Earth | If Yi appears in the Heavenly Stem, the structure is Goat Blade. If Gui appears in the Heavenly Stem, the structure is Direct Resource. If Wu appears in the Heavenly Stem or none of the hidden stems appear, the structure is Indirect Wealth. |

| | 戌 Xu Dog Yang Earth | If Xin appears in the Heavenly Stem, the structure is Direct Officer. If Ding appears in the Heavenly Stem, the structure is Hurting Officer. If Wu appears in the Heavenly Stem or none of the hidden stems appear, the structure is Indirect Wealth. |
| | 亥 Hai Pig Yin Water | If Jia appears in the Heavenly Stem, the structure is Thriving. If Ren appears in the Heavenly Stem or none of the hidden stems appear, the structure is Indirect Resource. |
| | 子 Zi Rat Yang Water | Direct Resource Structure |
| | 丑 Chou Ox Yin Earth | If Xin appears in the Heavenly Stem, the structure is Direct Officer. If Gui appears in the Heavenly Stem, the structure is Direct Resource. If Ji appears in the Heavenly Stem or none of the hidden stems appear, the structure is Direct Wealth. |

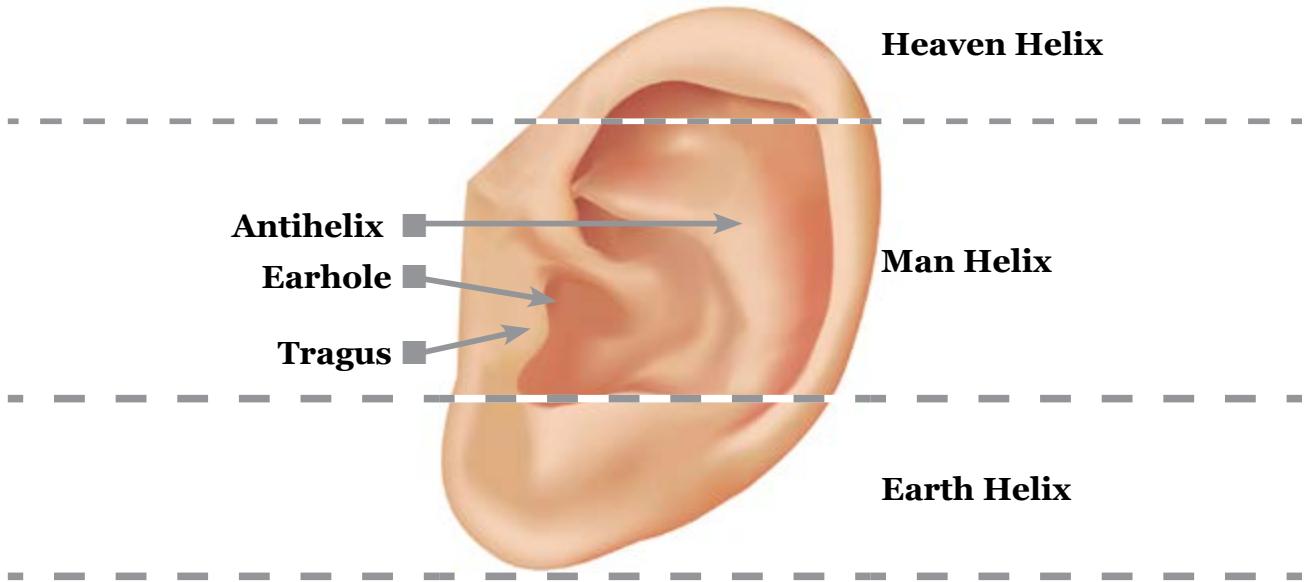

FACE READING: YOUR FORTUNE AS TOLD BY YOUR EARS (PART I)

Earrings are one of the most popular jewellery items worn by Chinese women during ancient times. Traditional Chinese families believed that if a person receives earrings as a gift, it indicates that she will experience good fortune soon. Men, in the old days, wore earrings too. The sons of single mothers, whose husbands had been killed, wore earrings on the left ear. If he was the only son in the family, then the earring was worn on the right ear. A man wearing earrings on both ears was the last of his family line. He will be guarded by his neighbours and was not allowed to participate in wars so as to avoid his family line disappearing forever. These show how important ears were in representing the fortune of the Chinese family in the old days.

Ears represent a certain type of fortune for a person. The ears can give information on a person's luck in early youth up to the age of 14. The earlobes show the fortune after age 60.

The ear consists of six parts:

1. Heaven Helix (Tian Lun, 天轮)
 - Left ear represents age period 1 to 2 with corresponding luck.
 - Right ear represents age period 8 to 9 with corresponding luck.
2. Man Helix (Ren Lun, 人轮)

- Left ear represents age period 3 to 4 with corresponding luck.
 - Right ear represents age period 10 to 11 with corresponding luck.
3. Earth Helix (Di Lun, 地轮)
 - Left ear represents age period 5 to 7 with corresponding luck
 - Right ear represents age period 12 to 14 with corresponding luck.
 4. Antihelix represents parental love, compassion and influence.
There are two negative forms of antihelix:
 - Lun Fei (轮飞)
Lun Fei refers to the pointed helix. The person is very private, alert and devious. They have no affinity with their parents. Their action may hurt their parents. This may be due to their tough childhood and troubled relationship with their parents. Some may even have abusive parents.
 - Kuo Fan (廓反)
Kuo Fan refers to a curved-out antihelix or a protruding antihelix. People with this antihelix are very competitive, rebellious and will never admit defeat. Often, they lack attention and love from their parents.
 5. Earhole (hidden behind Tragus) represents one's tolerance
The bigger the earhole, the higher the tolerance. Small earholes belong to intolerant and stubborn people. They are unwilling to listen to and accept other people's opinions.
 6. Tragus represents the sense of responsibility.
A small tragus indicates no sense of responsibility while an overly large one suggests an overly strong sense of responsibility that borders toward inflexibility.

Activating and Cultivating Your Deities Daily

In all our articles about Fa Qi Men, we have mentioned that in order to get what you want and your wishes fulfilled, one has to get into an “Alpha State of Mind”. We have also given tips and methods on how to go into this state.

So what is an alpha state of mind?

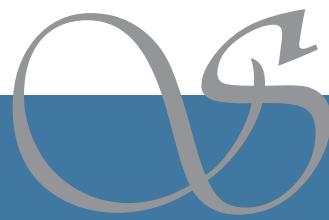

Scientifically, it is explained as where the brain operates at partial conscious awareness and partial subconscious predominance at the same time, in cycles between 9Hz & 14Hz. From my experience and understanding, it simply means that one's mind is relaxed. It is a state where you are in a mild daydream or light relaxation.

Do you remember a time when you were very focused on something or so engrossed in doing something that you lose track of time and the activities happening around you? This is an alpha state of mind. But you may find that when you deliberately try to go into this state of mind to make a wish, it is difficult to focus and you are unsure about whether you are actually in the right state of mind. But don't worry. There is another way to make a wish.

Each person's Qi Men Destiny Chart has his or her own personal Destiny Palace marked by a direction based on his or her Day Master. That Palace contains your own unique Destiny Deity or Guardian Angel. When you are connected strongly and intuitively with your Guardian Angel, you do not have to go into the alpha state of mind to make wishes. This makes wish making a lot easier.

There are all together Ten Deities under the realm of Universe in Fa Qi Men studies. In this issue, we will show you how to activate and cultivate the White Tiger Deity. This will be beneficial whether or not the White Tiger is your Guardian Angel.

White Tiger Deity

Keyword: Mental and Physical Strength

The White Tiger Deity's special abilities come from physical and mental toughness. Those who have this Deity have the potential to excel in sports. On one extreme, the White Tiger's influence can result in a "winning at all costs" mentality. This ideal can result in cheating, corruption and abuse of power when the distinctions between right and wrong, and good and bad blur. On the other hand, when the White Tiger is used positively, it builds emotional and mental endurance as well as good stamina. Mental toughness is built through small wins. Individuals with the White Tiger Deity as their Guardian Angel should work on building their "mental toughness muscle" daily. It is physical actions that prove mental fortitude.

Wishes are more easily fulfilled and results are faster when you ask your Destiny Deity for help. Here are some fun ways to activate and cultivate your White Tiger Deity on a daily basis.

1. Make a wish in the direction of your Destiny Palace

Each person has a strong connection to the energy of the Universe in a certain direction based on Fa Qi Men practices. This direction is the direction of your Destiny Palace. Your Guardian Angel or Destiny Deity resides at your Destiny Palace. When you make wishes with your back to this direction, wishes will be fulfilled more easily. Every time you make a wish in the direction of your Destiny Palace, you are activating and cultivating the Qi that connects you to the Universe.

2. Meditate and focus on the Solar Plexus and Root chakra

The White Tiger Deity represents a person's endurance and mental and physical strength. The Solar Plexus chakra, which gives us access to our subconscious power and control, establishes self-confidence and will-power. The Root chakra helps keep us grounded, making us feel physically secure and this in turn cultivates strength and endurance. When you meditate, focus your energy or attention on the Solar Plexus and Root chakras. Unlocking the power of the Solar Plexus and Root chakras through meditation will help you to cultivate and improve your connection with the White Tiger Deity.

3. Maintain Emotional Stability and Stay Optimistic

Mental stamina helps to improve focus and sharpness of mind. Being optimistic is very important. Being optimistic will help you stay happy. A happy person will naturally stay healthy to a certain extend. Negative emotions such as anger, sadness and worry affect your body's organs negatively. A happy person tends to make good decisions under pressure. They are objective and deliver the same level of performance regardless of what they are feeling.

4. Walking After Eating

Walking slowly instead of sitting or lying down after eating is a natural way to increase stamina. Walking slowly after lunch or dinner prevents the formation of toxins in the body. Food can be digested properly. Keeping the body free of toxins is an important way of increasing stamina.

5. Get Rid of Bad Habits

Nobody can improve their health when they have bad habits. Stay away from drugs, alcohol and cigarettes. These addictions not only impair the functioning of your lungs, but also reduce your endurance.

6. Practice Detachment

You can get through setbacks and challenges if you don't take things personally. You will become stronger if you can remember that's it's not about you. Stop wasting time wondering, "Why me?". Focus on what you can control.

7. Readiness to change

Change happens constantly. Flexibility and adaptability are among the most important traits for those who have the White Tiger as their Guardian Angel. External changes often put tremendous stress on people who are fixated only on one outcome or idea. Always think creatively and accept new ideas. Embrace ambiguity. Always come up with new ways of seeing and doing things.

8. Drink Plenty of Water

Water makes up 65% to 70% of our total body weight. Therefore, water is important in boosting and maintaining our stamina. Always keep your body hydrated to keep cells healthy. Lack of water can lead to cells shrinking. In turn, muscles become stiff and wear out easily. You will tire easily. Drink plenty of water. You could also drink homemade fresh fruit juices.

9. Stay Motivated

Research has shown that people who stay positive and motivated throughout the day tend to build stamina more quickly than those who don't. To keep motivated you can:

- Remind yourself of your goals.
- Check your progress towards your goals weekly.
- Watch and read motivational stories or speeches.
- Reward yourself and give yourself breaks.
- Don't be too hard on yourself if things didn't turn out right.

10. Workout Regularly

Exercise daily for at least 30 minutes. Regular exercise helps to prevent and manage a wide range of health problems such as stroke, metabolic syndrome, type 2 diabetes, a number of types of cancer and arthritis. This is vital for living well and maintaining your physical wellbeing.

Physical exercise plays a positive role in your mental health too. Exercise causes chemical reactions that are proven to reduce anxiety and stress and put you in a good mood.

We hope you have fun cultivating the White Tiger Deity as your Guardian Angel! Stay tuned for more information on other Guardian Angels in our future issues.

Auspicious Stars

息神 Rest God

Inauspicious Stars

病符 Sickness

六害 Six Harm

陌越 Mo Yue

There is only one auspicious star, Rest God, this month. There are not many inauspicious stars. In general, people can still look forward to a stable month.

The main concern for this month is health. The Sickness star may bring a new disease which will attack people with low immunity. This disease may show symptoms such as lung infections, coughs, abdominal pain and diarrhea. Tropical countries may see an increase in dengue fever.

People may become stressed easily and become emotional due to health problems and a heavy workload. This is due to the influence of the Mo Yue star. To counter the negative effects of this star, exercise regularly, stay rational and positive.

Fortunately, Rest God star will help with rest and rejuvenation as well as recuperation for those who fall sick. The star is a minor Nobleman star. While it cannot resolve all problems, the star makes the road less bumpy.

The Six Harm star brings a bullying and victimization effect. The September Bazi Chart configuration indicates there will be many rape and robbery cases. Stay alert to your surroundings and be safe. By taking full control of one's life and by standing up against unfairness, people can avoid being victimized. It is a month to learn to deal with unfairness and to change the things you can change.

If the month's Qi is unfavourable to you, especially those born in the year of the Rabbit, Dragon and Rooster, take good care of your health.

This month's energy favours those who have the following zodiacs: Snake and Ox.

Wood Day Masters (甲 Jia Yang Wood and 乙 Yi Yin Wood), be a law-abiding citizen. Check all your legal documents and contracts carefully to avoid legal issues and becoming a victim of cheating.

Fire Day Masters (丙 Bing Yang Fire and 丁 Ding Yin Fire), do not be greedy. Although there is an abundance of wealth opportunities, it also brings along legal entanglements.

Earth Day Masters (戊 Wu Yang Earth and 己 Ji Yin Earth), travelling and meeting new friends may bring you more wealth opportunities. It is time to leave your negative friends behind so that you can move forward.

Metal Day Masters (庚 Geng Yang Metal and 辛 Xin Yin Metal), your immune system is weak. Take good care of your health. Keep to a healthy diet and exercise regularly. Avoid travelling to countries that have health and hygiene issues.

Water Day Masters (壬 Ren Yang Water and 癸 Gui Yin Water), your mood can be rather erratic. Practice yoga, meditation or other activities that help you calm your mood and direct your focus.

Tiger

The Tiger zodiac can look forward to some peace. Your workload will ease a lot this month. Take a short break to rejuvenate. Wealth luck is shining on the Tiger zodiac. You will make some dumb money through investments or the lottery. Take this time to review your work and documentation to avoid unexpected trouble.

Rabbit

In general, except for their fragile health the Rabbit zodiac can look forward to a smooth sailing month. Avoid travelling to countries experiencing an outbreak of disease and hygiene issues. Exercise regularly and keep to a healthy diet. Be adventurous and join some outdoor activities such as hiking, water sports or biking.

Dragon

Dragon people may experience a bumpy month. Work diligently and stick to the status quo. Do not make big changes. Stay positive! You will find that your path will soon straighten out.

Snake

Snake people will enjoy stable fortunes this month. Wealth luck and career luck take a turn for the better. You will be rewarded in tandem with your effort and contribution. Keep an ear out for some good investment opportunities. Snake ladies may encounter Mr. Right by travelling and socializing.

Horse

Horse people must be mindful of their thoughts and actions. Do not be petty and calculative, else you will be drawn into petty issues that can turn your good fortune into bad luck. Pay attention to what is important, especially your work, career and family.

Goat

Overall, the Goat fortune takes a turn for the better in September. Budget a bit extra for unexpected expenses. Avoid speculating in the stock market. Single Goats will enjoy some romantic encounters. Married Goats should avoid being tempted into an affair.

Monkey

The Monkey sign will see their luck improve in September. In particular, their finances will see a clear improvement. This bodes well for sales and business people. There are many wealth opportunities. Romance luck is shining on single Monkeys. You may meet a good-looking partner with a nice personality at work. Married couples will enjoy a harmonious relationship.

Rooster

Rooster people will enjoy a smooth sailing month. You will be able to resolve problems that come your way. Pay attention to your health as your immune system is weak. Keep to a healthy diet.

Dog

The Dog sign may experience a challenging month. Stay cool and be rational when handling difficult problems and situations. You can overcome obstacles that come your way with patience and strategic thinking. Do not take unnecessary risks when it comes to money matters. Postpone all big expenditures such as a car or house purchase to a better time. Take good care of your elderly family members as they will be prone to illness.

Pig

The Pig zodiac continues to enjoy a stable and smooth sailing month. Your hard work and contributions will be recognized. The Pig zodiac will benefit from maintaining harmonious relationships with bosses and colleagues. Their careers will run smoothly with many Noble people offering help. While you are busy with work, do find time to relax and rejuvenate.

Rat

Good fortune awaits the Rat in September. Your income sees an improvement due to your effort at work and good investment decisions. Romance luck is shining on female Rats. You may encounter someone who catches your interest. Minor ailments may plague you, but it's nothing to worry about. Make sure you get enough rest to stay healthy.

Ox

The Oxen will experience unexpected changes in their careers. Your fortune depends greatly on your ability to work with others. Maintain a harmonious relationship with your colleagues, superiors and bosses. Ox people should postpone changing jobs or careers to a better time. Stay healthy by exercising regularly. Go for an eye and heart check-up. Ox people will enjoy better romantic luck in September.

伏屍 Hidden Corpse

The month of the Dog will sit well with those who wield power and authority. Those who are in high positions will be able to attract many admirers and followers with their charisma and leadership.

People will try to gain power through force, deception, manipulation and coercion due to the influence of the Grand Duke star and Sword Edge star. These people, who are utilising evil to hold on to power, will experience many challenges. The Sword Edge star brings troubles and quarrels. Many illegal activities will come to light in the Dog month.

With the influence of the Elegant Seal star, honesty, generosity, empathy and social intelligence will give you more authority and trust and less trouble from others.

The Hidden Corpse star indicates continuous health problems and the spread of disease. People with weak immune systems should take good care of themselves physically and mentally.

The presence of inauspicious stars indicates that the month may see the occurrence of accidents and fights that result in serious damage and injury. Those who drive, please be careful to avoid road bullies.

If the month's Qi is unfavourable to you, especially those who have the Ox and Goat signs, act honestly and stand up to bullying.

This month's energy favours those who have the following zodiacs: Rabbit, Horse and Tiger.

This month's energy does not favour those who have the following zodiacs: Ox, Goat and Rooster.

Wood Day Masters (甲 Jia Yang Wood and 乙 Yi Yin Wood), will feel that they are misunderstood by the people around them. Do not try to explain yourself as it may cause further mistrust. Always show your good intentions through actions.

Fire Day Masters (丙 Bing Yang Fire and 丁 Ding Yin Fire), stay calm in trying situations. Abide by the law. You will go through your career or life smoothly in the Dog month.

Earth Day Masters (戊 Wu Yang Earth and 己 Ji Yin Earth), there is an abundance of wealth opportunities. There are many competitors using underhanded ways to make quick gains. Show off your unique style to differentiate yourself and beat your competitors.

Metal Day Masters (庚 Geng Yang Metal and 辛 Xin Yin Metal), you will be a bit scatter brained. Stay focused and do one thing at a time. Prioritize what is important. Delegate not important but urgent tasks to the people around you.

Water Day Masters (壬 Ren Yang Water and 癸 Gui Yin Water), you will continue to gain from working within a system in a team. Stop being a rebel for the month.

Tiger

This will be a relaxed month for people born in the Year of the Tiger. Things will get better, but they may become lazy about their job and studies. In a word, they will lose their ambitions, which will be totally against their nature. They need to cheer up and make up their minds to work harder and harder. There will be steady developments in their romantic relationships. The 10th lunar month will be a lucky month for marriage.

Rabbit

The Rabbit's wealth luck takes a turn for the better. Grab all the deals that come your way. You can do it! Petty and jealous people will try to work behind your back to grab hold of your opportunities. Just keep a low profile and maintain a relaxed relationship with colleagues and friends. Do not show-off your wealth. The Rabbit zodiac will enjoy a harmonious relationship with their family members.

Dragon

The Dragon sign can look forward to a smooth sailing month. Overall luck takes a turn for the better in every aspect for Dragon people. Seize all opportunities that come your way. Male Dragons looking for love will encounter many interesting potential partners.

Snake

Snake people may experience mixed fortunes in October. Snake people may suffer from work, wealth and relationship troubles. This is not a time to act recklessly. Be optimistic and rational when dealing with your troubles. You can overcome difficulties as long as you stay determined and persistent.

Horse

Horse people need to tread carefully at work and in their relationship so that everything will work in their favour. Handle all problems calmly and rationally. Stay away from arguments if you are in a bad mood. Do not make any important decisions such as starting a new business or changing your career this month.

Goat

Although you are not encouraged to gamble, the Goat sign is expected to enjoy a windfall this month. Your wealth luck may come from an unexpected inheritance, the lottery or bonus from work. There may be a salary adjustment too. As long as they stay patient, friendly and calm, the Goat sign will enjoy a fruitful month.

Monkey

If you do not see a future in your current job, it is a sign for Monkey people to make a career change. You can move to a new company, move to another industry or start a business. Plan ahead before you start. Maintain a harmonious relationship with the people around you.

Rooster

The Rooster will experience mixed fortunes this month. While wealth and career luck remain stable, your health will be weak. Your mood will be negatively affected by your mental and physical health. In turn, relationships with the people around you will also be affected. Exercise regularly and keep to a healthy diet to ensure good health.

Dog

Dog people will meet many Noble people this month. Superiors, colleagues and friends are more than willing to lend a helping hand and give advice. There is nothing that you can't resolve this month. People born with the Dog zodiac will win promotions and salary increments due to their consistent diligence at work.

Pig

The Pig sign may encounter some financial disputes or losses. Wealth luck may be unstable. Do not complain all the time. It just evokes negative emotions. Resolve your problems immediately. Remember the saying, "If money can solve the issue, it's not really a problem." Budget and spend your money wisely. Avoid making decisions when angry.

Rat

October brings some twists and turns to the Rat people. Changes may take place at work. Be open to changes. Go with the flow. Maintain a simple lifestyle and do not overspend. Everything will fall into place. Single Rats will have the opportunity to meet a suitable match. Put yourself out there.

Ox

While Ox people may enjoy good wealth luck in October, they may experience some challenges in other aspects of their lives. Their relationships with people will be affected negatively due to misunderstandings or miscommunications. Always handle difficult people and situations rationally and diplomatically.

The month of the Pig presents mixed fortunes. There are two auspicious stars bringing new opportunities, Noble people and good wealth prospects to businessmen and employees, especially those who have the Rabbit or Goat in the month branch.

The Intelligent star indicates that any problem that crops up can be resolved with strategic and rational thinking. People in the professional line such as doctors, lawyers, accountants and lecturers will see their work being recognized.

The Sun star not only brings Noble people but also brings valuable opportunities to people with good networks. The Sun star also brings mental well-being and inspiration to many. The star is also good news for countries or people who suffer from contagious diseases and illness. This is a sign that the disease will come under control.

The Sky Happiness star enhances the Sun star energy. It further ensures that people are happy and energetic. People tend to feel optimistic, motivated and energized. Many will find that they are relaxed and in a good mood. Everything looks easy and possible. Countries announcing their budgets this Pig month will have many goodies for the people.

If the month's Qi is unfavourable to you, especially those born in the year of the Snake and Monkey, be alert to your surroundings to avoid robbery. Do not walk in dark alleys alone.

This month's energy favours those who have the following zodiacs: Tiger, Rabbit and Goat.

Wood Day Masters (甲 Jia Yang Wood and 乙 Yi Yin Wood), you will feel inspired and will come up with plenty of creative ideas. However, you do not have the energy and the heart to make the ideas workable. Better take this time to do some planning.

Fire Day Masters (丙 Bing Yang Fire and 丁 Ding Yin Fire), especially students, will see an increase in their knowledge and improvement in their studies. It is a good time to focus on learning. You will also tend to be argumentative.

Earth Day Masters (戊 Wu Yang Earth and 己 Ji Yin Earth), you will experience an abundance of wealth opportunities. Work hard and work smart. Double rewards await you.

Metal Day Masters (庚 Geng Yang Metal and 辛 Xin Yin Metal), will tend to be rather emotional. You will get annoyed easily. To get out of your moodiness, exercise regularly. Make a list of things to do and take action immediately. Do not overthink a situation. Take things at face value.

Water Day Masters (壬 Ren Yang Water and 癸 Gui Yin Water), it is a good time to grow your network and make new friends. At the same time, respect other opinions even though you disagree with them. Do not force your views on others.

Tiger

Tiger zodiacs will experience unexpected changes in their careers this month. Interpersonal relationships with colleagues will be affected. It will be important to keep a clear mind and a good attitude. Tiger people still have a chance for a promotion even though there are competitors and petty people trying to create trouble for them. Take part in some outdoor activities to release stress.

Rabbit

Rabbit people can look forward to stable luck this Pig month. Everything will work out their way except for relationship matters. You will find that there is another party vying for the attention of your love interest. You need to learn how to get along with people and change your ways of working. Pay attention to your communications in order to avoid misunderstandings.

Dragon

The Dragon's luck turns positive this month. Draw up a plan on how to develop your career and work on it. You may be up for a promotion and increment. There is a chance that single female Dragons will meet someone special and develop a romantic relationship. Dragon people will experience weakness in their respiratory systems. They should pay more attention to their health.

Snake

Snake people will experience unstable fortunes. If they tread carefully they will get through the month without any hiccups. Family, friends and colleagues are supportive, and they will become your strength in bad times. Snake people may experience unexpected romantic encounters. This is good news for single Snakes looking for love. Married people should stay faithful to their spouses.

Horse

The Pig month can be a roller coaster ride for the Horse people. You may encounter unexpected good fortune followed by a sudden disaster. You will be stressed out to the max. Be mindful and stay in the present to maintain a steady state of mind. At the end of the day, you will find that all is well. Horse people who are sick will find recovery rather slow. Make sure you have plenty of rest.

Goat

Goat people will find their time and energy preoccupied by love matters. Do not slack in your work or let your love life affect your work and career. Else you will find your chance of promotion being passed on. Your good relationship with colleagues and bosses is a plus point to secure a promotion.

Monkey

The Monkey sign will tend to be overly sensitive and emotional. You will feel betrayed by friends or colleagues who do not side with you. You should maintain a harmonious relationship with friends and colleagues. Stay rational. It is better to focus your energy and thoughts on creating many channels of new income as your wealth luck is strong.

Rooster

Auspicious stars are shining on the Rooster people. Be supportive and communicate with your superiors and colleagues. Maintain a harmonious relationship with those around you. An opportunity to get a promotion is not far away. Businessmen will see many wealth opportunities.

Dog

Married Dogs will experience some changes and emotional crises in their marriage this November. Find reasonable ways to solve problems and improve the relationship. Be considerate of your partner. For the single Dog, there is good news when it comes to romance. You may find a special partner while travelling.

Pig

The Pig's luck turns better this month. Everything will work out smoothly for you. For the Pig zodiac who is looking to start a business, this is a good month to begin. Your immune system is weak. Make sure you have plenty of rest and stay on a healthy diet.

Rat

The Rat people will enjoy stable fortunes this month. Be modest, calm, and patient. Do not show off your wealth. Rat people are likely to meet Noble people who will offer great help with their careers. Pay special attention to the eyes and spleen. Be loving and considerate to your partner to maintain a good relationship.

Ox

The Ox sign enjoys continuous good luck. For Ox people who have worked hard, promotions await you. Ox people who performed mediocrely at work can enjoy a good increment too. For couples who are already in a long-term relationship, this is a good month to hold the wedding ceremony.
