Message from the Editor

Dear Readers,

Am I the only one feeling a little bruised and battered by external events? As I am writing this, the spread of Covid-19 outside of China seems to be accelerating right when it seemed to have peaked in China itself. Many countries seem to have underestimated the virus, and Japan may actually have to consider cancelling the Olympics if the epidemic cannot be contained by May 2020. In Malaysia, a political drama has been playing out for the last week, and the country is exhausted and feeling betrayed by our politicians. Things feel very bleak, but I guess life has to go on. Let's take a leaf from Princess Anna in Frozen 2, and just focus on taking the next right step. And the next. And the next.

Take care.

The God of Wealth Day

The God of Wealth (Caishen 财神) is believed to be in charge of the world's wealth in Chinese culture. The God of Wealth is associated with many historical and mythical figures, who were deified as Gods of Wealth. As with many deities, there are specific days marked for the worship of the God of Wealth. These days are:

1. The 1st day of Chinese New Year. On this day, the God of Wealth is ushered into the home with offerings and prayers.
2. The 5th day of Chinese New Year. This is the birthday of Zhao Gong Ming, one of the mythical figures deified as a God of Wealth. He is also known as Master

Xuantan in Taoism. The Chinese will usually resume work and business on this day if it is an auspicious day. Traditional businessmen will offer prayers, set-off firecrackers and invite lion dance troupes to perform in the office to usher in good luck for the year. Rich families will also invite lion dance troupes to usher good luck into their home.

3. The God of Wealth Festival on the 22nd day of the 7th lunar month is celebrated by many Taoists to remember the day of the enlightenment of Master Xuantan (玄壇) and Master Zengfu (增福) as well as the other Gods of Wealth.

The worship of the God of Wealth is mainly divided into two categories:

1. Based on Taoist beliefs. In Taoism, the God of Wealth is known as Tian Guan Shang Shen (天官上神)
2. Based on Chinese folkloric beliefs, or Tian Guan Tian Xian (天官天仙)

Within Chinese folklore and Taoism, there are nine historical or mythical figures worshipped as Gods of Wealth. These Gods of Wealth were people who contributed to the advancement of society in ancient China. Thus, they were deified and worshipped in honour and remembrance of their good deeds.

The first five major Gods of Wealth and their directions are as follows:

1. Wang Hai (王亥), Middle

Wang Hai was born in Shangqiu (now Shangqiu, Henan) on the 11th year of the reign of Shao Kang (少康), the sixth king of the Xia Dynasty (c. 2070- 1600 BCE) of ancient China. He started cattle farms and trained horses. He also invented ox carts as a means of transportation. Thus, agriculture and animal husbandry developed rapidly. Later, he was appointed the official in charge of resolving the problem of surplus cattle and horses during the Xia Dynasty. He started the barter trade of cattle and horses with other tribes in Youyi (now Yixian area, Hebei Province). He is known as the “Ancestor of Merchants” of China. His descendants continued to expand in trading and commerce. He was also the 7th ancestor of the founding emperor of the Shang Dynasty (1600- 1046 BCE).

2. Bi Gan (比干), East

Bi Gan was born in Puyi (now Weihui, Henan) on the 4th day of the 4th lunar month in the year 1092 BCE of the Shang Dynasty. He was the son of King Wen Ding, and an uncle of the last king of the Shang Dynasty, King Di Xin. He held the position of Prime Minister in the Shang Dynasty. He encouraged the development of agriculture and cattle farming, smelting and foundry. His hard work contributed to the rise of the Shang Dynasty. The country became rich and powerful. Bi Gan was loyal and patriotic. He dared to advise the notorious and corrupted King Di Xin to rectify his ways. Irritated, King Di Xin ordered Bi Gan's execution through an extraction of the heart (比干剖心), under the pretext of wanting to see “whether the Sage Bi Gan's heart has seven openings”. The execution became greatly popularized in the famous Ming Dynasty novel ‘The Investiture of the Gods.’

3. Chai Rong (柴榮), South

Chai Rong was born in Yaoshan, Xingzhou on the 24th day of the 9th lunar month in the year 921 of the Later Zhou Dynasty. He was also known as Guo Rong (郭榮), taking the surname of his adoptive father. He was the second emperor of the Later Zhou Dynasty during the Five Dynasties and Ten Kingdoms period under the title Emperor Shizong. He is considered a highly successful emperor of the Five Dynasties period. He undertook military reforms in his country and expanded his power to other countries against the Northern Han, Later Shu, Southern Tang, and Liao Dynasties. His accomplishments were limited due to his premature death, but it paved the way for the Chinese reunification. Under his rule, even though short-lived, the Later Zhou Dynasty flourished. He ordered a compilation of military strategy books named the Fan Sishier Men (凡四十二門). During his reign, he adopted a series of reforms that helped to restore and develop the kingdom's economy, such as equalizing land grants, limiting Buddhism, rewarding farming activities, building roads and water conservancy projects.

4. Guan Yu (关羽), West

Guan Yu is famously known as Guan

Gong, the Military God of Wealth. There are no details of his birth recorded. He was known to be a native of Xie County (now Yuncheng, Shanxi) in Hedong County. Guan Yu was admired for his military prowess and loyalty to Liu Bei. He was worshipped by the Chinese, especially businessmen of the underworld, for his loyalty and righteousness.

5. Zhao Gong Ming (趙公明), North

Zhao Gong Ming is probably a mythical or a fictional person. There are no historical records of him. In the Religious Compendium (三教搜神大全 Sanjiao Soushen Daquan), he was believed to be a Taoist Master who lived during the late Warring States period. When the King of Qin founded the Qin Empire (221-206 BCE), he withdrew to the mountains to cultivate the Dao (道). He was believed to have the ability to chase away thunder, lightning, invoke clouds and rain, dispel pestilence and ward off natural disasters. He was also able to rectify unjust verdicts and bestow wealth. He also appears as one of the deities in the greatly popularized Ming Dynasty novel 'The Investiture of the Gods.'

The other four Gods of Wealth are:

6. Duan Mu Ci (端木賜), Southwest

Duan Mu Ci was a Chinese businessman, philosopher and politician. He was one of the most important and loyal disciples of Confucius. He was a prominent diplomat of the Spring and Autumn period who served as a high official in several states and was a very wealthy businessman. He played an important role in the economic development of the late Spring and Autumn Period (now Jun County, Hebi City, Henan).

7. Li Gui Zu (李诡祖), Northeast

Li Gui Zu was born on the 17th day of the 9th lunar month. He served as a county magistrate in Quliang (now southeast of Yongnian, Hebei) under Emperor Xiaowen of Northern Wei. He was an honest magistrate and loved by the people. The county flourished during his administration.

8. Fan Li (范蠡), Southeast

Fan Li was born in Wande Sanhu (宛地三户) (now Taohe Township, Nanyang Jingchuan County) in the State of Chu during the Spring and Autumn period. He was born into a poor family but studied hard and was very knowledgeable. He became an important political and military advisor to Goujian, the king of Yue. Together with King Goujian of Yue, Fan Li was once a hostage of the state of Wu. He was able to secure King Goujian's release from captivity after 3 years. Later, he helped King Goujian carry out a host of reforms to streamline the administration of the state of Yue. In 493 BCE, Yue was finally able to destroy the state of Wu. After the victory, Fan Li resigned from his ministerial post and renamed himself, Tao Zhu Gong. He became a successful and wealthy businessman. It was told that he was a philanthropist. He distributed all his wealth thrice over but was still able to regain his wealth through his businesses. He lived happily with wife Xi Shi, one of the renowned Four Beauties of ancient China. They lived on a fishing boat, roaming the misty wilderness of Lake Tai in the style of the Taoist immortals. He was remembered for his loyalty to the country, as a philanthropist and a successful businessman. He was honoured as a God of Wealth. The Chinese, especially businessmen, worship him on the Fifth Day of the Chinese New Year.

9. Lui Haichan (范蠡), Northwest

Lui Haichan was a Taoist Immortal and the patriarch of the Quanzhen School. He was known for his ability to cultivate and produce longevity pills. There are no proper historical records of Lui Haichan. Information about him is scattered. The earliest biography of Liu Haichan can be found in the "Records of the Orthodox Sect of the Golden Lotus" (金蓮正宗記 Jinlian Zhengzong Ji) compiled in 1241. It records that Liu was a native of the Yan Mountains in northern Hebei province (now near Beijing). During the turbulent Five Dynasties period (907-957), Liu was an expert in Huang-Lao philosophy. He passed the imperial examination and briefly served as a minister to Liu Shouguang, the self-declared Emperor of the Yan state (911-914). Later, Liu Haichan was appointed Prime Minister under Abaoji, the founder of the foreign Liao dynasty or Khitan Empire (907-1125), in 916. Scholars are uncertain about the dates of Liu Haichan's life. They believed that he probably lived up to 270 years old which was considered a ripe old age even among Taoists Sages. He was worshipped as a God of Wealth that brings not only wealth but longevity.

As the 5th day of Chinese New Year has passed, you can look forward to another God of Wealth Day on the 22nd day of the 7th lunar month. In 2020, that day falls on 9th September. The God of Wealth Festival on this day is less celebrated compared to the 5th day of Chinese New Year. The temple will be less crowded. Usually, the Chinese will make offerings of food and prayers at the temple of the God of Wealth. The Chinese are encouraged to make a deposit into a savings account or make an investment on this day. You can also make a donation on the God of Wealth Day.

This article is a special request from a reader as the God of Wealth Day is more related to spirituality and Taoism than Chinese Metaphysics study. However, every day can be a wealth day in Chinese Metaphysics study because there is a wealth star located in a different direction every day. More on this in the next article (page 9).

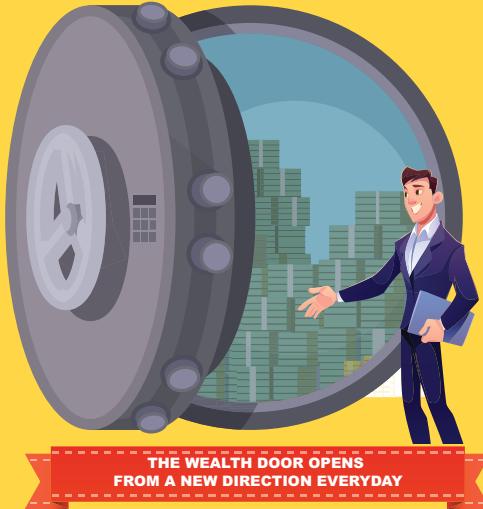

Zhao Gong Ming (趙公明)

Guan Yu (关羽)

Every Day can be a God of Wealth Day

As the clock strikes midnight heralding the first day of Chinese New Year, the Chinese will usher in the God of Wealth from a specific direction. The God of Wealth is a star emanating positive energy in a certain direction, not only on the first day of Chinese New Year, but every day. So, you can usher in the God of Wealth every day, even on an inauspicious day.

Those who like to buy lottery tickets, play poker or mahjong, or trade stocks can sit with your back to the God of Wealth direction or go towards the direction of the God of Wealth to buy lottery tickets or to do sales.

WUHAN CORONAVIRUS

Covid-19

EPIDEMIC 2020

A friend told me recently that I had accurately predicted the occurrence of an epidemic in the year 2020 in the December 2019 issue of Bazichic Magazine. However, I was only accurate as far as predicting an outbreak, as I did not think that the epidemic would break out in China.

Will it become a pandemic? And why China? Is the virus a biological weapon and is someone waging biological warfare against China? These questions preyed on me as the Novel Coronavirus now known as Covid-19, stoked fears in the masses. The fear of a shortage of protective masks was not limited only to China. It has spread all over the world, and Malaysia is no exception. Although not as badly affected by the Covid-19 virus as China, people were seen queueing up to buy face masks in Malaysia. Many pharmacies are sold out of hand sanitizer and face masks, leading to these items being rationed wherever they are available.

Before we jump into conspiracy theories, let's look into China's history. Throughout its long history, it was not uncommon for ancient and pre-modern China to experience disease outbreaks. One study looks at the history of epidemic outbreaks in China over more than 2000 years. This study found that epidemic outbreaks began increasing in frequency in the second millennium, with outbreaks being fairly localized earlier in the millennium, and spreading over bigger areas in more recent centuries. These changes seem to match demographic growth.

A second study, covering epidemic incidents from 1370-1909, showed a close association between climate-driven disturbances such as prolonged winters, floods, droughts and locust outbreaks with disease epidemics. The research suggests that cold periods in ancient and pre-modern China were associated with and indirectly caused an increase in droughts and locusts attacks which facilitate the rise of epidemics. Research has shown that climate cooling resulted in collapsed agricultural production and reduced health conditions due to famine, thereby increasing the prevalence of epidemics.

If epidemics are associated with abnormally cold weather, wouldn't they be less of a problem as we are experiencing global warming? The answer is, unfortunately, no, and global warming may lead to even higher occurrences of epidemics. The problem is two-fold. First, a shift to a hotter and wetter climate can contribute directly to the growth and mutation of micro-organisms, bacteria and viruses. Given a suitable breeding ground, micro-organisms, bacteria and viruses proliferate easily. With mutation, there will be new pathogens emerging that directly increase the chances of disease outbreaks. The transmission of diseases becomes easier and faster in a hot and humid climate compared to a cool and dry climate. Second, global warming results in more extreme weather conditions. Counter-intuitive as it may seem, global warming results in colder winters, which lead to the conditions that historically lead to epidemics.

Based on this China, with its big population and densely populated cities, is vulnerable to epidemic outbreaks in general. Whenever a new disease arises, the disease will spread more quickly due to its dense population, where people live cheek by jowl with one another.

Now, on to the Conspiracy Theories!

Everybody loves conspiracy theories! They buy into them, and then, they become fearful! Yes, I will admit that I'm one of those who love conspiracy theories. So, you should take everything you read from this line onwards with a grain of salt. There is a high chance that my metaphysics analysis will turn out to be simply nonsense. So, just read on for fun. Don't let fear stop you from enjoying life.

For me, after hearing from my friend and reading the news about the Covid-19 outbreak in Wuhan, my mind began to race. SARS broke out in Foshan, China in December 2002. This was during the transition from the year of the Water Horse (Ren Wu) to the year of the Water Goat (Gui Wei). Now, the outbreak is happening in Wuhan. The disease was also first detected in December 2019, the year of the Earth Pig (Ji Hai) and became serious going into 2020, the year of the Metal Rat (Geng Zi). This also takes place during the transition period from winter to spring. Of the four major epidemic outbreaks this century, namely, SARS, MERS, Ebola and Covid-19, two originated in China. SARS, MERS, Ebola and Covid-19 are all caused by mutations of viruses from the coronavirus family.

So why China again? Is this an act of biological warfare? Who will benefit from this epidemic? Will this epidemic become a pandemic?

Interestingly enough, the Annual Pillars in Table 1 (refer to page 13) show the following:

1. Yin Water and Yin Earth Elements together represent contamination. These two Elements are associated with cancerous diseases. These elements are also associated with poisoning and pathogens.
2. The Water Horse (Ren Wu) Pillar represents water sitting on fire. It is a picture of boiling water resulting in vapour. The hexagram of the Water Horse (Ren Wu) is known - as ‘Wind’ (巽為風 Xun Wei Feng). This is a clear image of the word ‘airborne’.

3. Metal Rat (Geng Zi) Pillar represents metal sitting on water. Metal in cold water produces hydroxide and hydrogen. The hexagram of the Metal Rat is known as ‘Litigation’ (天水訟 Tian Shui Song) It is also an image of air as the hexagram is a combination of the trigrams of Heaven and Water.
 4. The different Year Pillars, 2003 (Water Horse) and 2020 (Metal Rat) indicate some of the differences between the SARS and Covid-19 even though two viral diseases come from the same family of coronaviruses.
 - SARS in the year of the Water Horse had a combine and clash relationship (Ren combined with Ding and the Water Element clashed with the Fire Element). Because of these combine and clash relationships, it can be explained that even though SARS spread easily and was deadly, it could be detected easily. The clashes between the Water Element and Fire Element indicates “quick work” and a shorter impact. SARS carriers quickly developed symptoms of the disease.
 - Meanwhile, the year of the Metal Rat has a producing relationship. A producing cycle has a longer impact and “works silently”. Thus, Covid-19 is harder to detect. The producing cycle also indicates that the disease can spread very fast. This is in line with reports that the carriers of the virus look healthy, showing only mild flu-like symptoms. Carriers can pass the disease even if they aren’t displaying any symptoms of the disease. While the fatality rate is now reported at 3.5% of those infected, it is very hard to assess the danger as the number of confirmed cases spike up. Even with only a 3.5% fatality rate, this can add up to a huge number if the disease were to spread globally. The total number of confirmed cases in China stands at 78,824 on 27th February 2020. This makes it a total of 82,550 confirmed cases worldwide.

Table 1: The Annual Pillars during the SARS and Covid-19 outbreaks

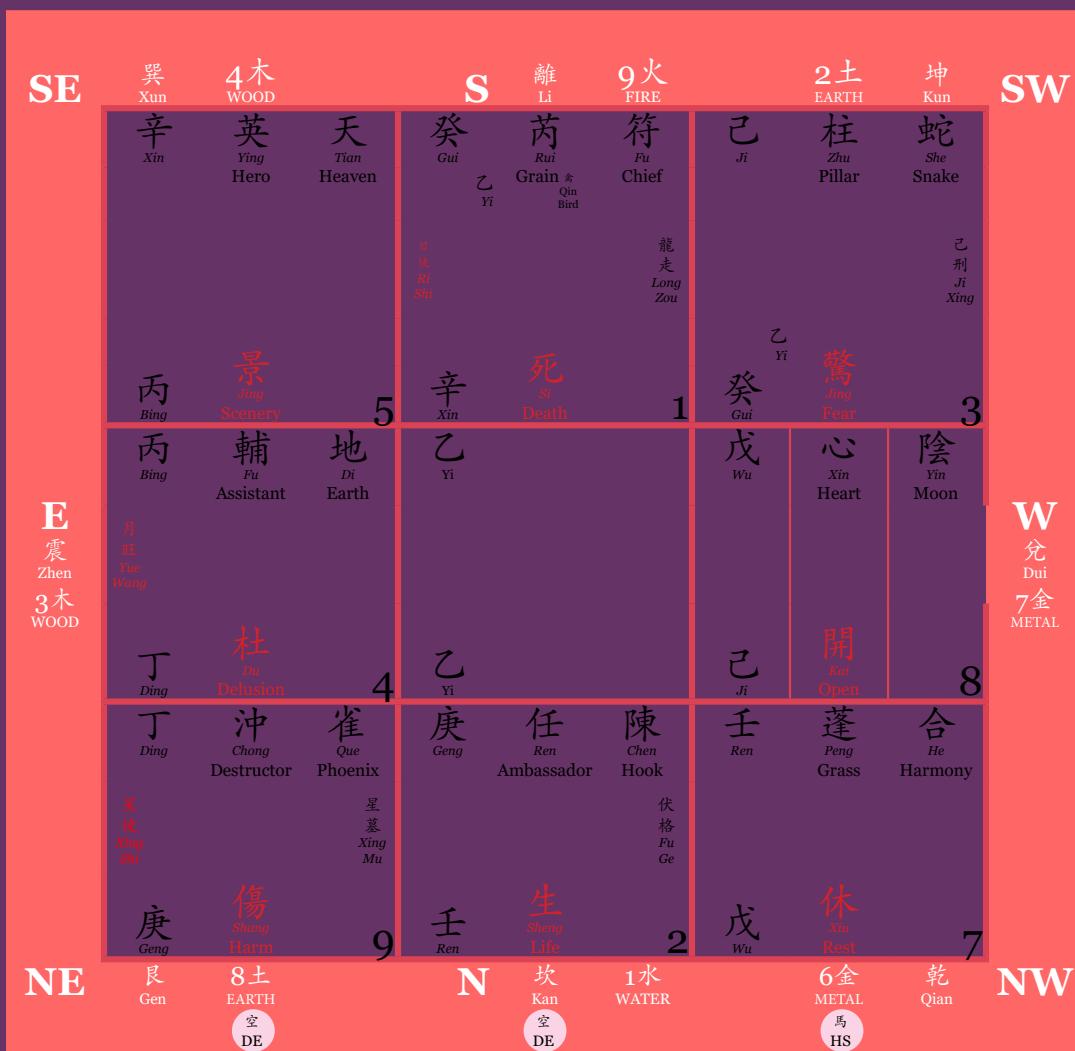

SARS Outbreak		Covid-19
Start On 2002	Continue To 2003	Start On 2019	Continue To 2020
癸 Gui Yin Water	壬 Ren Yang Water	己 Ji Yin Earth	庚 Geng Yang Metal

丁 Ding	己 Ji	壬 Ren	癸 Gui
乙 Yi	丁 Ding	甲 Jia

While SARS and the current Covid-19 originated in China, other countries have also experienced the emergence of different variants of coronaviruses such as the Swine Flu in the US, the Nipah Virus in Malaysia, Ebola in South Africa and MERS in Saudi Arabia. As I am putting this information on paper, it becomes clear to me that no one will create biological weapons only to use them in random attacks worldwide. No one will benefit from it.

Nevertheless, I pulled out this Qi Men chart on 5th February 2020 at 18:57 [Metal Rooster hour (辛酉 Xin You)] to see if anyone is using biological weapons to attack China.

八字 Bazi Chart
時 Hour	日 Day	月 Month	年 Year
傷官 HO 辛 Xin Yin Metal	戊 Wu Yang Earth	戊 Wu Yang Earth	庚 Geng Yang Metal	天干 Heavenly Stems
酉 You Rooster Yin Metal	寅 Yin Tiger Yang Wood	寅 Yin Tiger Yang Wood	寅 Yin Tiger Yang Woodter	地支 Earthly Branches
辛 Xin HO 傷官	甲 Jia 7K 七殺	丙 Bing IR 偏財	戊 Wu F 比肩	甲 Jia 7K 七殺

			戊 Wu F 比肩	丙 Bing IR 偏財

The Heavenly Grain Star represents disease or illness. The star is in the South Palace. The Month Stem represents the enemy. The Yang Earth (Wu) represents the Month Stem of February 2020. The Month Stem is located in the West Palace.

People can be represented by the Year Stem. The Yang Metal (Geng) represents the Year Stem in 2020. The Year Stem is located in the North Palace. The North Palace can also represent a country in the North such as China.

Table 1: The Clashing and Producing Relationships of Palaces in the context of Biological warfare

Palace	Relationship	Palace	Attributes
Heavenly Grain	Clashes	Month Stem	The disease occurred naturally.
Heavenly Grain	Produces	Month Stem	The disease occurred naturally.
Month Stem	Clashes	Heavenly Grain	The disease was created as biological weapon.
Month Stem	Produces	Heavenly Grain	The disease was created as biological weapon.

The Heavenly Grain Star in the South Palace clashes with the Month Stem in the West Palace, suggesting that the disease occurred naturally.

Table 2: The Clashing and Producing Relationship of Palaces in the context of Covid-19

Palace	Relationship	Palace	Attributes
Heavenly Grain	Clashes	Year Stem	The disease spreads due to changes to the ecosystem or the climate.
Heavenly Grain	Produces	Year Stem	The disease spreads due to changes in the ecosystem or the climate.
Year Stem	Clashes	Heavenly Grain	The illness was triggered/caused by human action.
Year Stem	Produces	Heavenly Grain	The illness was triggered/caused by human action.

The Year Stem in the North Palace clashes with the Heavenly Grain Star in the South Palace suggesting that it was human action or negligence that triggered and helped the spread of the viral disease. The presence of Death and Emptiness formation in the North Palace is replaced by the presence of the Rat this year. This indicates that people do not know or are not aware that their daily habits or actions can cause the spread of the virus. The Grappling Hook Deity indicates that the actions that caused the spread of the disease may be very old, ingrained practices and behaviours that had never had any health impact to date, but now can lead to the spread of the Covid 19 virus.

The Heavenly Grain Star in the South Palace indicates that this illness appears mild in the early stages but can turn fatal. The Death Door at the South Palace indicates a non-curable disease. Although the South Palace indicates that the disease has a strong impact and is harder to contain, the presence of the Dragon Escape (龍走 Long Zhou) formation in the South Palace indicates that the illness will pass. The Death Door and Dragon Escape (龍走 Long Zhou) formations suggest that the disease can be contained within 9 months from the detection of the first case in December 2019. A virus needs a host to survive. Isolating the carrier will help to contain the virus.

The hidden enemy, Xin Stem is located on the Earth Stem of the South Palace. While this may not be biological warfare, the Xin Stem in the South Palace indicates that enemies will not hesitate to turn this situation to their advantage and use it as an opportunity to create more trouble.

What type of animal caused the current outbreak of Covid-19?

It is widely believed that the new pathogens of coronaviruses originated in poor developing countries or densely populated countries where diseases were transmitted from poultry farms. Thus, this would never become a problem in wealthy countries with their high standards of living and well-developed health systems. This is a myth. The Nipah Virus in Malaysia and the Swine Flu Virus in the US were transmitted from pig farms. Avian influenza — also known as bird flu originated from viruses found in birds. It spread through poultry farms. However, Ebola is an exotic pathogen that is believed to have originated from the fruit bat, while MERS originated from viruses found in the camel. SARS originated from the viruses that jump between civet cats and bats.

It was reported that the first group of Covid-19 patients hospitalized were workers or customers at a local seafood wholesale market in Wuhan, which sold processed meats and live consumable animals, including poultry, donkeys, sheep, pigs, camels, foxes, badgers, bamboo rats, hedgehogs and reptiles.

The South Palace consists of the Yin Water (Gui), Yin Wood (Yi) and Yin Metal (Xin) Stems. Each of these Stems can represent certain types or groups of animals. Yin Water (Gui) Stem represents various types of birds such as waterfowl, duck, geese, wild geese, cranes and herons. Bats, even though mammalian, come under the Yin Water (Gui). While Yin Metal (Xin) represents organisms or viruses carried by humans or animals. Yin Wood (Yi) represents snakes, sea cucumbers, sea intestines, silkworms and birds.

Based on the types of animals related to these three stems at the South Palace, the Covid-19 in Wuhan could be a virus that jumps between bats and snakes as suspected by scientists in China who looked into the genetic code of the virus.

When will this epidemic end?

A rough guesstimate is that the spread of the disease will slow when summer comes, and the epidemic will probably end in June.

HOUSES FACING SOUTH IN PERIOD 9

In the September 2018 issue, we highlighted that the new Period 9 Qi is slowly shifting and making itself felt. The rise of Period 9 Qi started as early as 2017, the year of the Fire Monkey. However, in Feng Shui time period terms, Period 9 only begins on 4 February 2024.

In Period 9, Flying Star No. 9 becomes the current and dominant energy. Period 9 is related to Flying Star No. 9 and Li Gua. It is predominantly Fire energy followed by Earth energy. In Period 8, Flying Star No. 9 represents future prosperity. In Period 9, Flying Star No. 9 represents current prosperity. The Flying Star No. 9 also denotes passion, fame, recognition, prestige and Peach Blossom influence. Li Gua represents the second daughter. Each Feng Shui time period lasts 20 years.

How does this affect the houses built in the different Feng Shui time periods? As a homeowner, what can you do to better tap into the Qi of Period 9?

Let's take a look at the South Facing House built in Period 6, Period 7 and Period 8 in the coming Period 9. Most of the current houses should have been built during these periods.

If you are not sure which period your house belongs to, check out the table below. For example, houses built in 1997 belong to Period 7 in Feng Shui terms. Houses built in 2005 belong to Period 8. If a new house was completed in December 2003 but the key was only handed over after 4 February 2004, then the house is still considered to be a Period 8 house because the house is considered completed only when the homeowner or occupants move into the house.

Table: Feng Shui Time Period

Period	Duration (Year)
1	5 February 1864 to 4 February 1884
2	5 February 1884 to 4 February 1904
3	5 February 1904 to 4 February 1924
4	5 February 1924 to 4 February 1944
5	5 February 1944 to 4 February 1964
6	5 February 1964, to 4 February 1984
7	4 February 1984 to 3 February 2004
8	4 February 2004 to 3 February 2024
9	4 February 2024 to 3 February 2044

The three important areas to focus on when you are looking to maximize the internal Feng Shui of your home are the main door, bedroom and kitchen. These three areas govern the health, safety, wealth and careers of the occupants.

In Period 9, the Flying Star No. 9, the Flying Star No. 1 and the Flying Star No. 2 are important because these stars govern the Qi in the present and near future.

The 9 grids below show the Eight Mansions and Xuan Gong system. This accounts for 30% of the Feng Shui impact on your home. The Water Star refers to Flying Star located on the right side and Mountain Star refers to the Flying Star located on the left side of the 9-grid chart. The Water Star is Yang Qi and governs wealth-related matters. Mountain Star is Yin Qi and governs people and relationship matters.

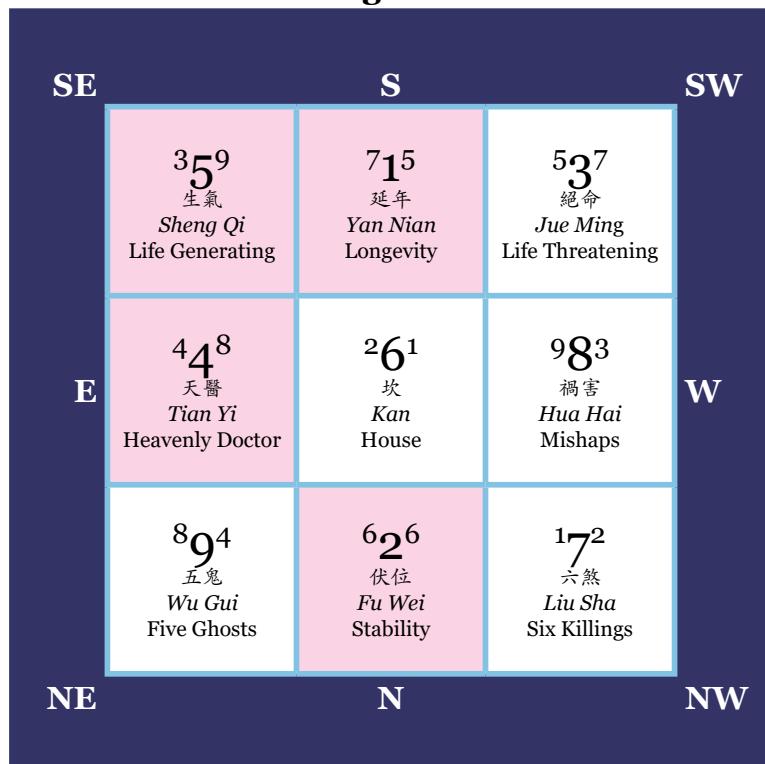

The acts of entering and exiting the house are considered Yang activities. Cooking is also considered a Yang activity. Hence, the Water Star (right) is used to determine the best location for the main door and kitchen. The Main Door is suitable to be located at Flying Star No. 9, 2 or 1. Kitchen and cooking activities are related to the Fire Element. They are suitable to be placed at the East, Southeast and South area or at the location of Flying Star No. 3 or 4.

Sleeping is considered a Yin activity. The Mountain Star (left) is used to determine the bedroom location. Bedrooms are suitable to be located at Flying Star No. 9, 2 or 1.

The following are the best locations for the main door, bedroom and kitchen in Period 9 for houses facing South built in Periods 6, 7 and 8. Other than exceptional cases based on the flow of Qi in the external environment and the birth details of the occupants, the suggestions below are suitable for everyone in general.

Solaris, Mount Kiara

I first visited Solaris Mont Kiara because of a famous Japanese buffet restaurant many years ago. Not sure if the same Japanese restaurant is still there, it's been years. And the area has since matured. It is now seen as a great place to chill out all day long, especially for the young and hipster crowd. Solaris Mont Kiara is filled with restaurants, yoga centres, dance studios, grocery stores, offices, pre-school learning centres and many more. At night, this place is jam-packed and happening, not unlike Sri Hartamas, another affluent and happening township, located not far away.

From a certain direction, Solaris Mont Kiara overlooks the Malaysia International Trade and Exhibition Centre (MITEC) which sits on slightly higher ground compared to the buildings around it. This elevated ground is Metal Element in nature. The shape and look of the MITEC building also give off a very strong Metal Qi. Farther away, one can see the Batu Caves. Also visible is Bukit Tabur, a quartz ridge that is part of the Klang Gates Quartz Ridge, the longest quartz formation in the world.

In terms of Feng Shui, Mont Kiara is strongly influenced by Water and Metal element-type mountains. Besides restaurants, bars and cafes, the place attracts hipsters, artistic people and businesses related to art and design and unconventional learning. People living around here tend to be emotional and may face gender issues. On a positive note, this type of Qi is good for self-reflection and looking inward.

I was recently at Solaris Mont Kiara again. This time to visit my friend who had just rented a co-working space there. She had headed North to look for a new office based on my advice and managed to find a place in SohoKL, Solaris Mont Kiara. She also managed to rent out her previous space, a retail shop, quickly. I am happy that everything worked out for her. The Qi around the Mont Kiara area will be able to help my friend find the right career as she is now at a crossroads. She is currently doing work in many different fields and needs to decide on an area of focus for the future.

As she already knows, this co-working place is not a permanent workplace for her. None of the work she is doing now is compatible with the Water and Metal element Qi of Mont Kiara. She is a Nirvana agent and into spiritual healing and consulting. Her work is more compatible with the Earth and Fire Elements.

These days, co-working spaces have become very popular with start-up entrepreneurs, or those who need to travel a lot but need an office for meetings with important clients. Companies managing co-working spaces also offer fuss-free co-working experiences with a dedicated and professional concierge team. Thus, a budding entrepreneur can get started without having to invest too much capital in renting or buying an office and staffing it. I'm also contemplating renting such as space as I find that there are many distractions when one works from home. So, when my friend offered to show me her new place, I jumped at the opportunity.

As I walked around the office, I realised that not all co-working spaces are created equal as the company will want to maximize the space to earn more rent. The internal layout and design of a property contribute to 30% of the Feng Shui characteristics of the property. With space constraints, and if you do not get the right room, you may not be able to tap into the positive effects of 30% of the property's Feng Shui. Which got me worried, when my friend showed me her room. The room has no windows and is located far away from the main door. Such a room, usually has stagnant Qi, which is difficult to re-activate. Her place reminded me of the retail shop she was previously in. Qi was stagnant and hard to revive.

Later, I found out that this is only a temporary room. The room she rented is still being occupied. She will only be able to move into her room in March. Her room is the second room from the main entrance (highlighted in yellow). There is a bright hall in the lift lobby, which will allow Qi to flow into the office. The receptionist area also provides a good mini bright hall to receive the Qi from the lift lobby. So, her room, which is highlighted in yellow, is better for tapping into the immediate Qi from the entrance. I'm glad she picked the right room.

As we walked further into the co-working space, I noticed that the narrow and long corridors are hardly able to bring any positive Qi to rooms along these corridors. People working in such rooms will find it hard to sustain their efforts in the long-term. She showed me an interesting section of the office that had a circular design. Rooms were built off a circular corridor. It gave me a headache just to look at these rooms. The first thing that comes to mind is that people sitting in the inner circular rooms, which do not have windows, will probably face a lot of confusion due to the effects of the movement of Qi in a narrow circle. They will constantly misinterpret messages and instructions, thus making the wrong decisions and displaying bad judgement. They will find themselves perpetually in a state of confusion, getting mixed up and unable to focus.

The outer circular rooms in this circular corridor are fitted with windows. These rooms will receive vibrant energy. People working in these rooms will tend to be energetic and fare better than those in the inner rooms. However, there may be too much energy coming into these rooms. People may have a problem getting themselves to sit still enough to work. This type of room is good for salespeople.

It is not easy to find the ideal working space. I had better KIV my plan for a co-working space until I find a place that suits me! If you are hunting for a co-working space, good luck in finding a place that best suits your business!

MITEC (Metal Element Qi)

CORE CHARACTERISTICS

(庚 GENG METAL DAY MASTER)

There are altogether Ten Gods arising from the two different polarities (Yin and Yang) of the Five Elements' interaction with the Day Master. Each of these Five Elements supports, destroys, controls, or exhausts one another. In the previous issues, we have shown the characteristics of the Ten Gods. Moving forward, we will be exploring how we can derive the core character or structure based on the interaction of the Earthly Branch Element of the Month Pillar with each Day Master.

In this issue's Bazi 101, we want to explore the core character of the Yang Metal (庚 Geng) Day Master born in different months. The core character of these Yang Metal Day Masters is derived from the element in the Earthly Branch of the Month Pillar (refer to Table 1 below). There are altogether twelve Earthly Branches representing twelve months. Each Earthly Branch usually contains one to three Elements known as the Hidden Stems. The Hidden Stem represents the main Qi and sub Qi of each Earthly Branch (refer to Table: Seasons and the Earthly Branches on page 68 to find out more about the Elements inside each of the Earthly Branches).

When the sub Qi of the Month Branch appears on the Heavenly Stem, then the structure of the Bazi Chart is formed by this sub Qi. The person's core character is represented by the Ten Gods of this sub Qi.

When the main Qi of the Month Branch appears on the Heavenly Stem, then the structure of the Bazi Chart is formed by this main Qi. The person's core character is represented by the Ten Gods of this main Qi.

If there is no main Qi or sub Qi of the Month Branch appearing on the Heavenly Stem, then the structure of the Bazi Chart follows the main Qi. The person's core character is represented by the Ten Gods of this main Qi.

FACE READING: A FAMOUS FACE

It is difficult to analyze the faces of famous actors and actresses because we cannot be sure if they have had any plastic surgery. Heavy make-up can also alter a person's look quite drastically. Hence, it is easier to analyze newcomers to the entertainment industry, who are less likely to have gone under the plastic surgeon's knife. One of them is Dilraba Dilmurat. Dilraba made her acting debut in the television drama Anarhan in 2013. She gained fame quickly, jumping from number 37 on the Forbes China Celebrity 100 list in 2017 to 16th place in 2019.

If you don't know who Dilraba Dilmurat is, do watch the drama, Three Lives Three Worlds, The Pillow Book (三生三世枕上书). It's airing on Tencent Video now.

Dilraba Dilmurat's Face

1. A high and round forehead.

Dilraba Dilmurat has a high forehead. Her hairline is round without any baby hair near the temple areas. This indicates that she is very intelligent, creative, has a good memory and is good at analysis. This feature also indicates that she will marry at a later age. This is in contrast to the heart-shaped forehead (美人尖), which indicates that a person will fall in love and marry at a very young age. The Sun and Moon angles are also fairly developed without any moles or scars. This kind of forehead indicates a person blessed by ancestors, and who has the support and help of Noble people, superiors and bosses.

Her forehead also indicates that she is broad-minded, open to advice and opinions, imaginative and romantic.

2. Thick Eyebrows

Overly thick and heavy eyebrows indicate an emotional person. When it comes to love matters, they will not be able to be rational and manage their feelings. Sparse eyebrows indicate a merciless person. Dilraba Dilmurat has relatively thick and long eyebrows, meaning that she is probably a sentimental person. However, the hairs of the eyebrows grow upwards at the start and grow downwards toward the tip. This indicates a person who is successful in the beginning but will lose out at a later stage.

3. A High, Long and Straight Nose

A long straight nose indicates a successful career without many obstacles. Based on her fairly fleshy nose and non-visible nostrils, Dilraba's income and net worth will continue to increase. Dilraba has a high, long and straight nose. This indicates that she is energetic, has strong willpower, is persistent and very principled. She also has high expectations for herself and her future partner. The nose also represents the husband. Based on the shape of her nose and her fleshy cheeks, Dilraba will be able to enjoy a harmonious relationship with a good husband.

4. High Cheekbones

High cheekbones indicate a strong and powerful personality who likes to be in charge. This person is also ambitious. Dilraba has high cheekbones and fleshy cheeks. The high cheekbones are not obvious. This indicates that she is fairly ambitious and will be successful in her own right but will not overshadow her husband or bosses. Thus, she is liked by her superiors and colleagues.

5. Upturned mouth

Dilraba has an upturned mouth. The two corners of her mouth turn slightly upward, forming a perpetual smile. An upturned mouth indicates a person who is optimistic, peace-loving, good-natured and friendly. She treats people with kindness and sincerity. She will enjoy good relationships with people. It also denotes that she has good self-esteem and confidence in the strength of her marriage. She is likely to marry well.

6. A right mole

Usually, a mole under the eye is called a 'crying' or 'tear' mole and regarded as inauspicious. However, the mole under the left eye of Dilraba's face is in just the right position. It indicates a blessed and lucky person.

We will look into moles around the eyes and eyebrows in the next issue. Stay tuned...

The Activation and Cultivation of Deities

In all our articles about Fa Qi Men, we have mentioned that in order to get what you want, and have your wishes fulfilled, one has to get into an “alpha state of mind”. We have also given tips and methods on how to get into this state.

So, what is an alpha state of mind?

Scientifically, it is explained as where the brain operates at partial conscious awareness and partial subconscious predominance at the same time, in cycles between 9Hz & 14Hz. From my experience and understanding, it simply means that one’s mind is relaxed. It is a state where you are in a mild daydream or light relaxation.

Do you remember a time when you were very focused on something, or so engrossed in doing something that you lose track of time and the activities happening around you? This is an alpha state of mind. But you may find that when you deliberately try to get into this state of mind to make a wish, it is difficult to focus, and you are unsure about whether you are in the right state of mind.

Each person’s Qi Men Destiny Chart has his or her own personal Destiny Palace marked by a direction based on his or her Day Master. That Palace contains your unique Destiny Deity or Guardian Angel. There are all together Ten Deities under the realm of Universe in Fa Qi Men studies. In this issue, we will show you how to activate and cultivate the Grappling Hook Deity. This will be beneficial whether or not the Grappling Hook is your Guardian Angel. When you are connected strongly and intuitively with your Guardian Angel, you do not have to go into the alpha state of mind to make wishes. This makes wish-making a lot easier.

Grappling Hook Deity

Keyword: Healing and Inherited Talent

The Grappling Hook Deity's special abilities come from being blessed by ancestors. Those who have this Deity as their Guardian Angel have the potential to heal people and inherit talents not only from their ancestors but also their past lives. The National Centre for Biotechnical Information and Nature.com have published stories that imply that humans may, in fact, be born with memories of our ancestors imprinted in our DNA. This could explain why some people intuitively know how to do certain things in life without formal or practical education in those areas. However, the Grappling Hook Deity indicates something beyond that. For some people, ancestors and past lives may be irrelevant, but if your Guardian Deity is the Grappling Hook, it is another matter altogether. When a person has the Grappling Hook Deity as a Guardian Angel, he or she may actually inherit certain talents, knowledge or issues from his or her past life. This person will have a natural talent that cannot be explained. On one extreme, the Grappling Hook Deity's influence can result in the person being unable to differentiate between reality and past life experiences. His or her mind may be stuck in a different dimension and time. On the positive side, similar to the Surging Snake, the Grappling Hook represents spiritual wisdom and connection. Individuals with the Grappling Hook Deity as their Guardian Angel should sharpen their sixth sense; their voice of intuition and natural healing power. The key to achieving more of what you want lies in your ability to genuinely trust your inner voice.

Wishes will be more easily fulfilled, and you will get results faster when you ask your Destiny Deity for help. Here are some fun ways to activate and cultivate your Grappling Hook Deity daily.

1. Make a wish in the direction of your Destiny Palace

Each person has a strong connection to the energy of the Universe in a certain direction based on Fa Qi Men practices. This direction is the direction of your Destiny Palace. Your Guardian Angel or Destiny Deity resides in your Destiny Palace. When you make wishes with your back to this direction, wishes will be fulfilled more easily. Every time you make a wish in the direction of your Destiny Palace, you are activating and cultivating the Qi that connects you to the Universe.

2. Meditate and focus on the Past Life chakra

The Grappling Hook Deity represents a person's past life. The Past Life chakra can represent the Grappling Hook Deity. The Pidari Kan or Past Life chakra is located 3 to 4 inches below the centre of the back of the head. This chakra has the feminine qualities of compassion, love, intuition and purity. Through this chakra, you will receive messages, information, and inspiration from the higher spiritual realms. To facilitate this, first, you need to detach from the beliefs that you have learned in this life. Meditate while lying down with a stone placed in the location of the Past Life chakra. This chakra deals with the exploration of spirit and higher wisdom. It enables us to see the bigger picture through the power of intuition and creativity.

3. Try a Past Life Regression

Past life regression is a technique that uses hypnosis to recover what practitioners believe to be memories of past lives. Past life regression is based on the reincarnation hypothesis and is not supported by scientific evidence. However, if the Grappling Hook Deity is your Destiny Deity, it might work for you. Discovering past lives may help you to uncover and resolve the source of unusual attachments, phobias or negative personality traits. It may also help you to uncover your hidden talents.

4. Tap into your Subconscious

It is believed that past life experiences are embedded deep in our subconscious. If you are curious about some of your past lives, a good place to begin is by looking at your childhood interests or your unexplained fears. Children have yet to take on many of the filters of life experience which block out spiritual experiences and past life memories. So, childhood interests or even comments can point directly to past life experiences.

5. Reconnect to your Childhood

Ask yourself what did you like to do most as a child. Write all of it down. If you take the time to do this, you may discover something wonderful. This is very similar to the process of tapping into your subconscious to access your past life experiences.

6. Ask the Grappling Hook Deity for help

You can also ask the Grappling Hook Deity for help in remembering your past life experiences. After you ask, release any attachment to the outcome and just relax. Your inner consciousness has the ability to tune into your past life memories. As you practice tuning into your past lives, your memories will surface more clearly, allowing you to remember the past skills, abilities, accomplishments and challenges you have already experienced as a soul.

7. Energy Healing

Since the Grappling Hook Deity has healing properties, you can connect to the Deity by taking up energy healing. There are many types of energy healing such as Reiki, Pranic Healing, Qigong, Taichi and Quantum-Touch healing. If energy healing is not your cup of tea, you can learn herbal healing, which is closely connected to nature.

8. Be Intuitive

While many believe that intuition is an innate skill, it is a skill that can be developed.

- Meditation is one of the best ways to develop intuition. Meditation helps you to learn how to silence your mind and access your feelings.
- Journaling can also help you develop your intuition. Keep a journal of your thoughts and feelings. Just write whatever comes to mind. You might write about feeling stressed. Or describe a positive experience. Or recall a memory of the past or a dream. Write it all down. By doing so, you become aware of your intuition, seeing how it works in your life. This makes it easier to recognize in the future.

We hope you have fun cultivating the Grappling Hook Deity as your Guardian Angel! Stay tuned for more information on other Guardian Angels in our future issues.

People will tend to be judgmental. Petty people will easily become jealous and unhappy. They will be vengeful as these petty people perceive themselves as victims of unfair treatment.

The presence of the Three Stages and National Treasure Stars brings higher status. Countries with monarchies will see their monarchs bestowing titles and ranks more easily.

The presence of the Litigation, Year Charm and Flying Charm Stars indicates that people will tend to get into legal troubles if they are not careful.

If the month's Qi is unfavourable to you, especially those who have the Rabbit, Dragon and Dog, be a law-abiding citizen wherever you are. You do not want to be stranded in another country because of illegal activities even if it is a small issue.

This month's energy favours those who have the following zodiacs: Rooster, Monkey and Rat.

This month's energy does not favour those who have the following zodiacs: Rabbit, Dragon and Dog.

May will be a mediocre month. The good news for this month will most likely be a declaration of an end of the war against the Coronavirus (2019-nCoV). The Monthly Virtue Star brings help from Noble people and peace in trying times. But many will feel the pain of the aftermath of the epidemic. Businesspeople will experience a slowdown and see their profits go into the red, especially those in Water Element-related industries such as logistics, transportation and tourism.

The Broken Star, Solid Killing Star and Death Charm Star bring out suspicion and over-sensitivity in people, even those in leadership positions. People will be easily provoked into fights and arguments. There will be distrust and suspicion and conspiracy theories. People, even leaders, may resort to bullying to get their way. On a positive note, governments will see the need to set up laws on biosafety and security, such as the prevention and control of infectious diseases, wildlife conservation and emergency responses.

The Robbery Sha indicates the rise of robbery and theft as the month sees more people losing their jobs. Job seekers will find that there is a lack of job opportunities and higher competition.

If the month's Qi is unfavourable to you, especially those born in the year of the Tiger and Pig, you will be prone to injuries caused by car accidents.

This month's energy favours those who have the following zodiacs: Ox, Monkey and Rooster.

Wood Day Masters (甲 Jia Yang Wood and 乙 Yi Yin Wood), maintain a low profile. Do not argue with people. Keep your ideas to yourself.

Fire Day Masters (丙 Bing Yang Fire and 丁 Ding Yin Fire), there are plenty of wealth opportunities in this crisis. Brave Fire Day Masters will grab the bull by its horns and make the most of these opportunities.

Tiger

Tiger people will continue to experience improvements in all aspects of their lives. But this does not mean that there are no challenges in the month of the Snake. You will encounter some ungrateful people. So, do not expect people to do what is right. Focus on the things and events that are good.

Rabbit

Rabbit people will enjoy another smooth sailing month. Problems that arise will end well with the help of Noble people, friends and family. There is nothing that Rabbit people can't handle. Dealing with troubles independently will help you to become a better person.

Dragon

Dragons will continue to enjoy a stable month if they tread carefully. Avoid making important decisions or committing to a big project this month. Dragons must be patient and consolidate their work before moving ahead. This is a good month for self-cultivation, study and research. Knowledge will help you achieve your goals in 2020.

Earth Day Masters (戊 Wu Yang Earth and 己 Ji Yin Earth), will tend to be argumentative. Stay calm and think carefully. Do not be provoked by petty people into taking sides.

Metal Day Masters (庚 Geng Yang Metal and 辛 Xin Yin Metal), competition is high. Businesspeople or salesmen will need to work harder to get the same amount of income as the previous month.

Water Day Masters (壬 Ren Yang Water and 癸 Gui Yin Water), there is an abundance of wealth opportunities. This is a time to showcase your ideas or new products.

Snake

The Snake will enjoy a stable month in all aspects except friendship and money matters. If there are money issues that involve friends, settle it amicably and immediately. Dragging the matter will lead to more problems with these friends later.

Horse

The Horse continues to experience emotional stress. This will affect their loved ones and family. Horse people will feel that they have trouble getting along with people around them. They feel that people are being hard on them. Take a short break to de-stress. Spend more quality time with family and romantic partners.

Goat

Goats continue to enjoy a smooth sailing month. Goats who can help others resolve and settle their problems will be rewarded with extra income. Goats should study and gain more knowledge. This will open up more opportunities for them soon.

Monkey

The Monkey people can look forward to a peaceful and happy life as long as they stay home and avoid risks this month. Avoid crowded areas and going out at night. Do not participate in dangerous sports. They should watch out for their health and safety.

Rooster

The Rooster sign can look forward to a fortunate month. Challenges will result in more opportunities for the Rooster sign. Do not back away from hard work. You will be able to resolve problems with your knowledge and experience. On top of this, there will be Noble people helping you along the way.

Dog

The Dog should stay mindful this month. Look inward instead of outward. Comparing yourself to others will only fill you with envy. Insecure Dog people may even think that people are purposely attacking them and taking away their opportunities. Some of you may even use bad means to achieve your goals. These irrational thoughts and actions will only make things worse. Stay positive and act honestly.

Pig

Pig people can look forward to a fortunate month. A lucky star is shining on their Career Palace. Pig people will have lighter workloads this month. They will gain more knowledge and information that will be helpful in their careers. Married Pig people should spend more time with their spouses to avoid feeling estranged from each other.
