Message from the Editor

I truly believe that better results can come about from small changes. That's how I got myself to exercise a bit more regularly. Instead of telling myself that I had to exercise for an hour everyday, I set the goal of walking 10 minutes on the treadmill, or 7 minutes doing the Scientific 7-minute workout featured on page 49 (although it often feels like a very long 7 minutes @.@@). Instead of big intimidating goals, these small hacks get us started, and helps us build momentum toward our bigger goals. That's why I loved this month's articles on simple life hacks using Chinese Metaphysics.

These are small things that all of us can do easily and immediately to change our lives for the better.

So if you've been putting off that life-changing Feng Shui or Bazi consultation, you now have some quick Feng Shui and Bazi hacks to get you started toward taking control of your luck, and your life. I hope that this series of small hacks, can lead you to very real change and greater happiness.

Love,

Eu Green

YOUR LIFE IS HACKABLE

In Chinese Metaphysics study, for an event to take place in your life the Heaven Luck, Man Luck and Earth Luck must align. Hence, if any one of these three luck factors are removed, you will be able to change your so-called luck, prevent something from happening or mitigate negative incidents. By this, it also means that if you want something to take place in your life, you must align these three luck factors together to work in your favour.

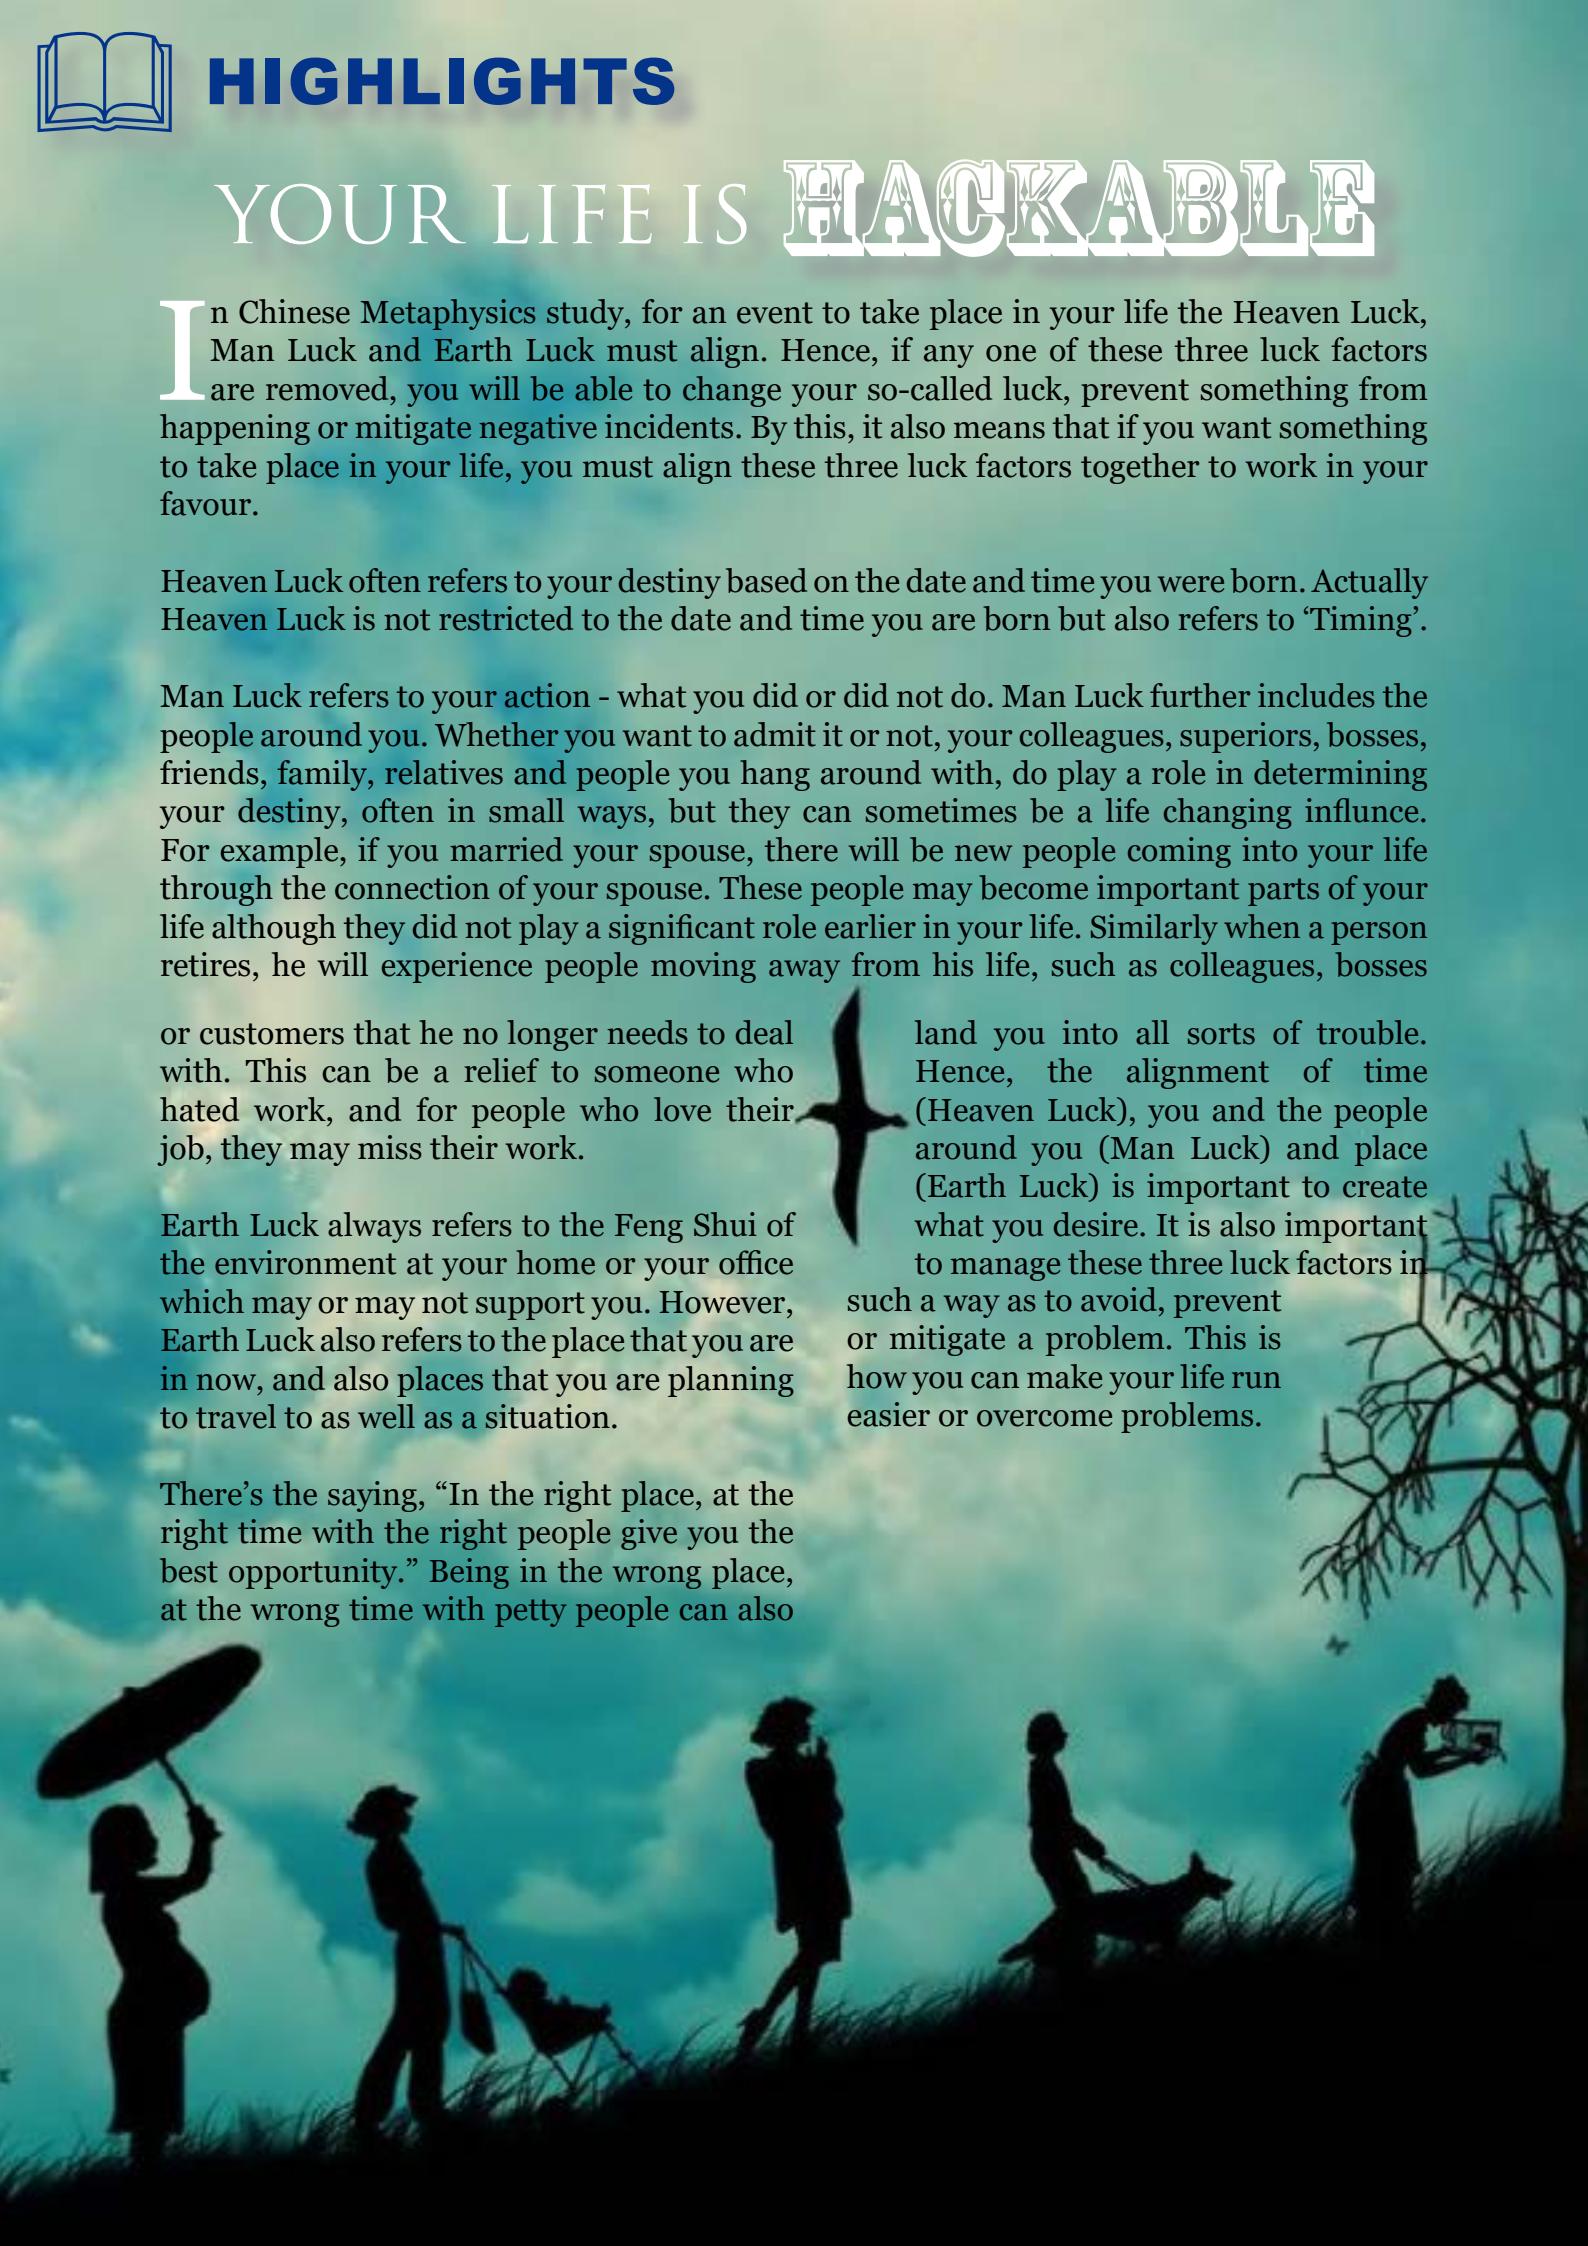

Heaven Luck often refers to your destiny based on the date and time you were born. Actually Heaven Luck is not restricted to the date and time you are born but also refers to 'Timing'.

Man Luck refers to your action - what you did or did not do. Man Luck further includes the people around you. Whether you want to admit it or not, your colleagues, superiors, bosses, friends, family, relatives and people you hang around with, do play a role in determining your destiny, often in small ways, but they can sometimes be a life changing influence. For example, if you married your spouse, there will be new people coming into your life through the connection of your spouse. These people may become important parts of your life although they did not play a significant role earlier in your life. Similarly when a person retires, he will experience people moving away from his life, such as colleagues, bosses or customers that he no longer needs to deal with. This can be a relief to someone who hated work, and for people who love their job, they may miss their work.

Earth Luck always refers to the Feng Shui of the environment at your home or your office which may or may not support you. However, Earth Luck also refers to the place that you are in now, and also places that you are planning to travel to as well as a situation.

There's the saying, "In the right place, at the right time with the right people give you the best opportunity." Being in the wrong place, at the wrong time with petty people can also land you into all sorts of trouble. Hence, the alignment of time (Heaven Luck), you and the people around you (Man Luck) and place (Earth Luck) is important to create what you desire. It is also important to manage these three luck factors in such a way as to avoid, prevent or mitigate a problem. This is how you can make your life run easier or overcome problems.

THE POWER OF GOOD DATES FOR TRAVELLING

Le's see how we can use 'Timing', your Heaven Luck, to your best advantage given an important activity. With so many natural disasters, wars, human error and accidents, people are more conscious of their safety when travelling nowadays. The reason people travel abroad is mainly for work, business and leisure. All of these reasons can help you gain something be it information, profits, networks, life experiences or just relaxation or rejuvenation.

You can refer to our calendar on page 62 to select an excellent, auspicious and good day according to Dong Gong rating. Usually there are many auspicious stars accompanying these good dates. There is also an icon ↗ that shows that this is a general good date for travelling.

However, not many people have the luxury of waiting for an auspicious date. Workers and bosses may need to travel often because of work. Furthermore, there are limited choices of finding an auspicious date within the time period required. If that's the case, then you should just focus on avoiding the most disastrous dates.

Selecting Date for Safety Purpose

Dates to Avoid

While we may not be able to select a good date for travelling, we should at least avoid these disastrous days:

- 1. Year Breaker: This is the date that clashes with the year animal sign. For example, 2015 is a Goat year. The animal sign that clashes with the Goat is Ox. Hence, any extraordinary and important activity commencing on the Ox day can be chaotic and result in a lot of problematic and lingering issues that has long-term repercussions.
- 2. Month Breaker: This is the date that clashes with the month animal sign. For example, June 2015 is a Horse month. The animal sign that clashes with the Horse is Rat. Hence, any out of ordinary and important activity commencing on the Rat day can meet with many obstructions. It has a shorter negative effect than Year Breaker.
- 3. Personal Breaker: This refers to the date that clashes with your animal sign. For example, a person born in 1975 has year animal sign of Rabbit. His Personal Breaker is Rooster. Hence, any important activity he tries to commence on the Rooster day can meet with many hassles and delays or even have a disastrous result.

Travelling on the Year, Month and Personal Breaker Days are not advisable as it may be dangerous. Refer to the Table 1: Earthly Branches Clash Relationship to find out the animal signs that have clash relationships with each other.

Table 1: Earthly Branches Clash Relationship

Selecting a Date to Achieve your Purpose

1. Assistance and Help While Travelling

If you can, travel on your Nobleman Star which can be found on the Month or Day. This ensures that you are meeting with generous people who are willing to help you in times of trouble. This is important if you are travelling abroad for work to acquire information, to build networks or to make a deal.

Table 2: Nobleman Star 貴人星

甲 Jia Yang Wood	戊 Wu Yang Earth	庚 Geng Yang Metal	丑 Chou Ox Yin Earth	未 Wei Goat Yin Earth
乙 Yi Yin Wood	己 Ji Yin Earth		子 Zi Rat Yang Water	申 Shen Monkey Yang Metal
丙 Bing Yang Fire	丁 Ding Yin Fire		亥 Hai Pig Yin Water	酉 You Rooster Yin Metal
壬 Ren Yang Water	癸 Gui Yin Water		卯 Mao Rabbit Yin Wood	巳 Si Snake Yin Fire
辛 Xin Yin Metal			午 Wu Horse Yang Fire	寅 Yin Tiger Yang Wood

2. Travelling for Business Purpose

Businessmen who travel with the purpose that has something to do with profits such as making a deal, expanding your market and building your network can choose to travel with the Sky Horse.

Table 4: Personal Sky Horse 驛馬星

It would be extra beneficial if the person's Wealth Element also appears on the Heavenly Stem on that date (refer Table 4: Personal Wealth Star).

Table 4: Personal Wealth Star 财星

日主 Day Master	正财 Direct Wealth	偏财 Indirect Wealth
甲 Jia Yang Wood	己 Ji Yin Earth	戊 Wu Yang Earth

3. Travel for Research, Acquiring Information or for Leisure

If you are travelling for leisure, you may want to look out for the Resource Element that appears on the Heavenly Stem on the date selected for travelling (refer to Table 5: Resource Star). This Star also helps those who are going abroad for study, doing research or acquiring information.

Table 5: Resource Star 印星

日主 Day Master	正印 Direct Resource	偏印 Indirect Resource
壬 Ren Yang Water	辛 Xin Yin Metal	庚 Geng Yang Metal
癸 Gui Yin Water	庚 Geng Yang Metal	辛 Xin Yin Metal

It would extra beneficial if the date you selected with Resource Star comes with a combination relationship on your Day Branches (refer to Table 6: Earthly Branches Combination Relationship).

Table 6: Earthly Branches Combination Relationship

A Quick Example:

A person born in 5 October 1976 has the Geng Yin Day Pillar. If he is an employee who travels on 11 February 2015 for work, he can benefit from this auspicious date. Dong Gong rating on the day is good. He sees his Resource Star indicating the day is good for acquiring information and doing research. 11 February is also a Horse day which combines with his Day Branch (refer Table 4 in the column Earthly Branches showing the animal signs that are in Three Harmony Combination). Besides that, this is also a good day to just go for relaxation, rejuvenation and reflection for him.

THE POWER OF A GOOD DATE

UNDERSTANDING THE TWELVE DAY OFFICERS

The Twelve Days Officers can be used as additional factors to determine the whether the date selected is suitable and auspicious for the planned activity. According to "Tong Shu" 通書, each day is assigned with a Day Officer. There are all together Twelve Day Officers, and each Day Officer repeats it cycle every 12 Days similar to the 12 Earthly Branches of the animal sign. Table 1: 12 Day Officers shows the activities that is best associated with each Day Officers.

Table 1: Twelve Day Officers 建除十二神

建除十二神 Twelve Day Officers	用法 Usages

There are exceptional cases where you can ignore the 12 Day Officers in your date selection but for beginners, let's follow the guideline above.

To follow-up the article, Power of Good Dates for Travelling, you can select Success, Open and Balance Days for travelling. Besides these Days, the secondary choice for starting your trip would be the Establish, Remove and Receive Days.

Most of the today's youth go into the workforce with a very short-term view. The main objective is to simply get the work done in exchange for as much money as possible in the shortest period of time. Some go into a job for security. The money earned will help them buy their first car, pay the bills and put food on the family table.

As time passes, getting a job instead of constructing a career, could lead to the feeling that you are trapped in your job. There is always the feeling that you can't leave. You question your value at work. You start comparing yourself unfavorably to your colleagues who seem to be high achievers. You feel threatened by more skilled, more capable, or more talented newcomers who work at lower wages. You lack confidence to make changes believing that it is a tough world out there. You try to avoid taking more responsibility because you are afraid to make mistakes and want to avoid criticism. You opt for a wait-and-see approach when it comes to making decisions for yourself and your job.

By contrast, a career is a pursuit for life-long ambition. Striving for a career is a very positive step to do. You get more out of the work than just a paycheck. It gives you fulfillment. It motivates and challenges you to learn, make changes, progress and become better in every aspect of your life, not just the work alone. Eventually you develop your talents, enjoy what you do, and care about how you spend your time each day.

Finding a Job with Bazi

In Bazi, most people often ask which industry is most favourable to them. Here is a list based on the Five Elements (refer to Table 1: Industry categorized by Element). However, this only leads you to finding a job but not building a career.

Table 1: Industry categorized by Five Elements

五行 Five Elements
木 Wood	火 Fire	土 Earth	金 Metal	水 Water
Timber	Food Industry	Property	Jewelry	Fishery
Furniture	Oil & Gas	Natural Resources	Automobile	Shipping
Fashion	Airlines	Insurance	Finance	Tourism
Plantation	Metaphysics	Raw Materials	Steel	Transport
Education	Technology	Antiques	Machinery	Research Industry
Religion	Electrics	Charity & Welfare	Government	Retail

Do not pay too much attention to your favourable or unfavourable elements. Instead look at your Career Palace (Month Pillar). What are the elements residing on your Month branch? This gives you an idea of which industry you should be heading into.

What can you do in the industry? This requires an understanding of your natural inborn skills in terms of the Ten Gods. Again the Month Branch will give you a clue. The Ten Gods will give you a general guide as to where your inborn talent lies.

Table 2: Skills related to the Ten Gods in a Nutshell

十神 Ten Gods	Skills
比肩 Friend	Bring Resources together
劫財 Rob Wealth	Making Deals
食神 Eating God	Designing
傷官 Hurting Officer	Branding and Marketing
正財 Direct Wealth	Micro-Management
偏財 Indirect Wealth	Entrepreneurship
七殺 Seven Killings	Execution
正官 Direct Officer	Operation
正印 Indirect Resource	Guesstimating market and trend direction
偏印 Direct Resource	Research

In the book Outliers, author Malcolm Gladwell says that it takes roughly ten thousand hours of practice to achieve mastery in a field. With this practice, you will know that you can do a good job.

Building your Job into a Career

What is your unique contribution? Your Vibe

But you have not turned a job into a career yet. Good qualifications and skills can only bring you so far. When it comes to people, it is about a connection, your vibe – a good feeling or image that you create for yourself. This sets you apart from others. Everyone carries a different image. This image can make or break you and your career. Look at the element that resides on the Heavenly Stem of your Month Branch (refer Table 3: Your Image at Work). Work on the positive side of this element. When you work with your team mates, always bring out this vibe – your personal brand, to the people around you.

Table 3: Your Vibe at Work

五行 Five Elements	Your Vibe
木 Wood	Honesty
火 Fire	Guidance
土 Earth	Fairness
金 Metal	Trustworthy
水 Water	Ability to make wise changes

Growing your Career

Besides putting your skills and your connection together, growing your career is a lifelong goal. What this goal is about depends on the balancing element in your chart. This balancing element is always referred as the Useful God in the Bazi study. How to find this Useful God element? Keep a look out for our future Bazi 101 columns.

Part of creating a career out of your job is your ability to find value, meaning and fulfillment in your work. It is what your work can contribute and give to people. Most of the time this contribution started in a small way before it snowballs into a greater good to others. This is where the direction of your goal should be.

The Useful God in your Bazi, gives you a general guide of your goal or contribution. All your skills and good work should, at the end of the day, benefit not only yourself but also others.

Table 4: Simple Contribution based on the Element of Useful God

五行 Five Elements	用神 Useful God
木 Wood	Your work should result in or create a system or path that can support others to grow.
火 Fire	This quote, “Thousands of candles can be lighted from a single candle, and the life of the single candle will not be shortened. Happiness never decreases by being shared” is very meaningful if you have Fire element as your Useful God. By helping other people to be successful you too will enjoy success.
土 Earth	Creates a transparent environment where everyone can feel safe.
金 Metal	Creates an environment that is secure and dependable. In a nutshell, stability and security are the two most important mottos for the Metal element.
水 Water	Water nurtures and nourishes. It is wise - the power of discerning and judging properly. If your Useful God is water, you should bring wisdom to others.

This is Josephine's unique way of using Bazi to help building your career.

PREDICTING THE MYSTERIOUS FOG

赤壁之戰 BATTLE OF RED CLIFFS

The quiet night was shrouded in heavy fog. Every now and then, the sounds of insects and birds broke the lonely silence. Lights from torches shone dimly through the thick fog, giving the impression of at least 20 battle ships advancing quickly and steadily towards the battle ground, ready to attack. A tense atmosphere surrounded the night as the Wei General looked on, unsure of how strong the enemy forces were. He waited for the signal to engage, as the battle ships had seemed to come to a stop in the near distance. Out of nowhere, the beating of war drums broke-out, disrupting the serene and tranquil night. The Wei General quickly took on a defensive stance not wanting to engage in a direct attack when he was unsure of the real situation. He called out to his soldiers to shoot the arrows. Thousands of arrows flew into the thick fog at the stationary battle ships. Nothing happened but the beating of the war drums continued taunting the Wei General to shoot more arrows.

Two men, seemingly oblivious to the tense atmosphere and the flying arrows, merrily drank away in one of the small boats covered with black cloth and straw figures. One of the men, at first frightened by the possibility of retaliation when the war drums broke-out, now said admiringly, "Sir, you are a spiritual being, not a human being! How did you know?" The other man replied, "A general should know about astronomy, geography, divination, yin and yang principles, and battle formations, as well as the scope of the army, otherwise he is good for nothing." They continued their merry drinking while the boats collected the arrows stuck on the straw figures. Later, the man checked his boat which was now heavy with arrows. Seeing that the boat has sunk into the river to the level that he wants, he instructed the soldiers immediately to sail home. As the day broke over the heavy fog, he asked his men to shout, “Thank you, for giving us so many arrows!”

When the Wei General knew what had happened, it was already too late.

Meanwhile upon seeing the arrows, Zhou Yu, a military strategist to Sun Quan from the Shu State, sighed deeply thinking to himself, “Zhuge Liang has supreme foresight and brilliant strategy. I am no match for him.”

Zhou Yu was very jealous of Zhuge Liang's skills. He was worried that Zhuge Liang would become the greatest enemy of the Wu state. Zhuge Liang, the military adviser from the Shu state, had formed a temporary alliance with Sun Quan. While discussing strategy to oppose General Cao Cao's armies, Zhou Yu was hoping to trick Zhuge Liang, capture him and behead him before the war was over.

Back track to three days ago, Zhou Yu requested Zhuge Liang to produce 100,000 arrows saying that the supply was needed to fight the war, a task which Zhuge Liang readily agreed to.

Zhou Yu asked, “Can you complete the job in ten days?”

Zhuge Liang responded, “The battle is imminent, we shall fail if we take that long to produce the arrows. I'll deliver the 100,000 arrows in three days.”

Zhou Yu, taken aback, said, “Are you sure? We can't afford to play games with each other.”

Zhuge Liang hearing this then pledged that if he can't produce 100,000 arrows within three days, he is willing to be punished. As the second day arrived, Zhuge Liang's comrades and his friend, Lu Su, a minister from the Shu State, began to worry for him. Everyone was anxious. Zhuge Liang didn't seem worried about fulfilling the order of 100,000 arrows. He asked Lu Su to outfit 20 small boats and to assign about 15 soldiers to each boat. At midnight on the second day, Zhuge Liang invited Lu Su for a drink on board one of the small boats. Lu was surprised and asked why. He answered that he wanted Lu Su to go with him to collect the arrows and during the collection they should enjoy a drink.

So with 20 small boats and 300 soldiers on board, they set off toward the Wei army camp near midnight. On day break of the third day, more than 100,000 arrows were delivered to Zhou Yu.

There is no record of the 100,000 arrows incident in the historical record of Three Kingdoms, Sanguozhi. Whether this incident is real or fictional is still debatable.

However, Zhuge Liang was known to be well versed in the divination art of Eight Doors Hiding Jia. The Eight Doors Hiding Jia Book of Heaven contains divination forecasting methods and rituals to call upon the wind and rain. Zhuge Liang strategy in the 100,000 arrows incident might be based on the divination of the Eight Doors Hiding Jia chart that looks like this:

Some critical thinking is needed to analyze this chart for the battlefield. Here is a brief analysis:

1. A quick weather forecast

The Scenery Door in the North Sector indicated a restricted situation. Scenery Door which represents brightness in the North becomes dim. The formation of Ji Earth on Heaven and Yi Wood Earth also indicate fogginess. The Black Tortoise Deity in the environment is good for deception.

2. Zhuge Liang's Strategy

The Sun Wu coalition forces were located in the Southeast. With Open Door in Southeast, proactive strategy is favoured. Thus, he should make the first move against the enemy. Heavenly Grain with Wu Earth, Geng Metal and Xin Metal in the Open Door Palace indicates that valuable assets will be received while in danger.

3. Wei's respond

The Wei army camp was located in the Northwest on the opposite side. The Delusion Door happened to be here. This indicated that the Wei army was going to take a defensive stance instead of attacking. Ding Fire with White Tiger can represent the arrows and arrow heads. This Palace is in emptiness, thus, the capacity is weakened. No wonder, thousands of arrows were shot out but no injuries or damage occurred to Wei's enemy.

The use of Eight Doors Hiding Jia Book of Heaven was categorized into two main subjects in the Three Kingdom era:

1. Forecasting the battleground, the enemy's mindset and own position.
2. Rituals for the battle.

The Eight Doors Hiding Jia is none other than the widely known, Qi Men Dun Jia, used for forecasting landform in Feng Shui these days. It is one of the most fascinating studies in Chinese Metaphysics. We will discuss more on Qi Men Dun Jia, so stay tuned.

The Qi Men Way

BUSINESSSTRATEGY

‘Borrowing arrows with straw boats (草船借箭)’, from the Romance of the Three Kingdoms was an interesting story wasn't it?

While Qi Men Dun Jia is used to strategise for war in the old days, and it is mostly used in Metaphysics' forecasting and Feng Shui audit nowadays, it is actually very good for formulating business strategies too. You only need to understand the chart and know how to interpret and relate it to match your circumstances.

Here is a brief business analysis if you find your business in a similar position with Zhuge Liang in the battle of Red Cliff:

1. Battle of Red Cliff: A quick weather forecast

The Scenery Door in the North Sector indicated a restricted situation. Scenery Door which represents brightness in the North becomes dim. The formation of Ji Earth on Heaven and Yi Wood Earth also indicate foginess. The Black Tortoise Deity in the environment is good for deception.

Business Strategy: A quick business forecast for the environment

In the same instance, the North Sector which is used to forecast the weather now can be used to represent the business environment. The Scenery Door in the North Sector indicates that the economy, business or general financial environment is not transparent. The formation of Ji Earth on Heaven and Yi Wood Earth shows that things or information may be shielded because no final outcome has been determined yet. The Black Tortoise Deity in the environment that there may be false information or rumours spreading around.

2. Battle of Red Cliff: Zhuge Liang's Strategy

The Sun Wu coalition forces were located in the Southeast. With Open Door in Southeast, proactive strategy is favoured. Thus, he should make the first move against the enemy. Heavenly Grain with Wu Earth, Geng Metal and Xin Metal in the Open Door Palace indicates that valuable assets will be received while in danger.

Business Strategy: Your action

Similarly to Zhuge Liang position, in Open Door Palace, you should adopt a proactive action plan. You should make the first move. Heavenly Grain with Wu Earth, Geng Metal and Xin Metal in the Open Door Palace indicates that valuable assets can be gained where there is uncertainty and insecurity in the business world especially when everything looks pretty dangerous and risky.

3. Battle of Red Cliff: Wei's respond

The Wei army camp was located in the Northwest on the opposite side. The Delusion Door happened to be here. This indicated that the Wei army was going to take a defensive stance instead of attacking. Ding Fire with White Tiger can represent the arrows and arrow heads. This Palace is in emptiness, thus, the capacity is weakened. No wonder, thousands of arrows were shot out but no injuries or damage occurred to Wei's enemy.

Business Strategy: Your Competitor's respond

In the current environment with Delusion Door, your competitor will most likely preserve their capital and opt for a conserving strategy. Any provocation on your part such as sending out rumours may lead your competitor to react. Most likely they will accidentally reveal important information relating to intellectual property that will prove valuable to you as Ding Fire and White Tiger are both present. Delusion Door is also good for spying activities.

Qi Men Dun Jia can be used to manage the timing (Heaven Luck), action (Man Luck) and place or circumstance (Earth Luck) factors to help you achieve what you desire.

The Qi Men Chart that you pull out in the forecast is a marking of a time, the Heaven Luck.

For the example above, item No. 2, Business Strategy: Your Action, is the forecast advice on the strategy you should use. Item No. 3, Business Strategy: Your Competitor's response, gives you an overview on what to expect from your competitor. This represents your Man Luck.

The Scenery Door Palace represents the forecasted situation – Earth Luck.

If you understand the usage of Qi Men Dun Jia and are able to apply it in your business strategy, it can be a formidable forecasting tool to use against your competitor. It can help to open new markets or expand your current market or even take over a competitor's markets.

AN UNEXPECTED FENG SHUI ADVENTURE IN MALACCA

An unexpected invitation for a short-trip brought me back to Malacca, one of Malaysia's most historic cities. One of the biggest attractions in Malacca is Jonker Street, where you will find antique shops, souvenir shops and restaurants and stalls famous for local food and snacks such as the chicken rice ball, Gula Malacca, cendol and popiah.

This trip brought me back to a famous chicken ball rice shop on Jonker Street. This was my second visit. The shop is called Chung Wah Coffee Shop (CWC). The shop opens from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. and is always packed, with a long queue of people waiting for seats. They used to have two entrances to their shop, the main door and the side door. This created chaos as people lined up from both entrances, trying to get a table to enjoy the delicious chicken ball rice. This time round, I noticed that they have closed up one door, creating a more organised queue.

Whether for retail or housing, tapping into the right Qi in the environment is important. A place does well only because it receives prosperous Qi from its surrounding environment with the support of water, hills or mountains. Jonker Street has all these positive Feng Shui factors in its surroundings. However, not all the shops or offices along the street can actually tap into the positive Feng Shui due to the angle and alignment of the main entrances of the buildings.

I did a quick check on the surroundings to see why this place attracts so many people. CWC is located right at the t-junction with a small roundabout where Lorong Hang Jebat and Jalan Tukang Besi meet. Jalan Tukang Besi is also known as Jonker Street. Opposite CWC is San Shu Gong, famous among tourists as a place to buy local tidbits and food as souvenirs. At the left hand corner across the road next to CWC is a hotel under construction and opposite the hotel, there are sundry shops selling Malacca tidbits.

Looking at the contour of the road, the roundabout is where the Qi settles nicely and gently. The small roundabout acts as the bright hall to the shops near this vicinity. The buildings at the four corners of t-junction on this road should be able to tap into this Qi, if the right Qi mouth is opened to receive the Qi. A quick scout around CWC further confirms my study. There is a river flowing right behind CWC after Hard Rock Café. I have also noted that the Qi is flowing from a small hill toward the t-junction. Out of the four buildings at the t-junction only, San Shu Gong and CWC have the right Qi Mouth tapping into the right direction to receive the Qi.

The current entrance or Qi Mouth is located facing Southwest which is considered timely. While the San Shu Gong entrance may not be in the timely position, it still benefits from the Qi flow as its main entrance captures the Qi directly.

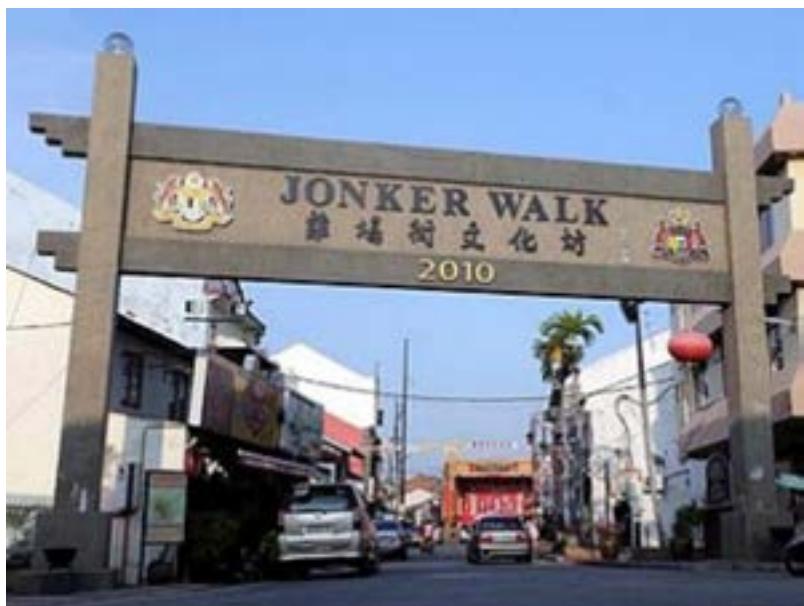

The main door of Hard Rock Café does not benefit much from the Qi of the surrounding area though. The Qi flow from the hill bypasses Hard Rock Café, which is located just behind CWC. Its elevated entrance doesn't help with receiving the Qi. However, Hard Rock Café has its own bright hall in its main entrance which is at least positive from a Feng Shui point of view.

While enjoying the walk down Jonker Street, I think I missed out some important points such as the official archway of Jonker Walk erected in 2010 and some other minor archways erected for commercial purpose. These archways can act as the marking point and Qi Mouth for a big piece of land.

We ended our half-day tour at Jonker 88, a café famous for their Nyonya Cendol and Durian Cendol. If you asked anyone in Mel-ka where to eat the best Cendol in Jonker Street, they will point you to this café. Why is this so? Is there any Feng Shui reason for this? Well, I didn't manage to check it out this time, maybe next round.

THE WAY OF WIND & WATER

QUICK FENG SHUI HACKS FOR THE HOME

Let's face it, most of us are living in a pre-existing home which had not been purchased based on its Feng Shui. This could be because of lack of awareness of Feng Shui at the time of purchase, or that this was the best home available based on budget. And for whatever reasons, we have no plans to move.

Does that mean we have to live with terrible Earth Luck?

While we may not be able to do much about the 70% Feng Shui influence from the external environment, we can still maximize the remaining 30% of Feng Shui influence that is within our control inside the home. Read on for quick hacks to improve Earth Luck.

Quick Hacks to better Feng Shui Living Space

It is much simpler than you think to create good Feng Shui in your home. Practicing Feng Shui need not be complicated as it is more about common sense than the hyped hocus pocus of putting a crystal here or a God of Wealth there. Classical Feng Shui is all about tapping into positive Qi and living harmoniously with your surroundings.

Here are simple things you can do to quickly improve the Feng Shui of your living space:

1. Ensure smooth Qi flow through the main door

The main door of your home governs the Qi or energy flow from the external environment to the interior of your house. A house with good Feng Shui has a smooth and clear energy flow to its front door. Stand outside your home and look into your main entrance. Is there anything blocking your main entrance? Clear away clutter such as recycling bins, old pots, shoe boxes and pails to ensure that the front of the main door and the immediate area behind it are spacious. This space is called the “bright hall”. A bright hall helps the Qi to settle gently into your home. This positive energy will nourish your home and, this in turn, creates a harmonious environment to live in as well as bring good fortune to the occupants.

2. Create quality lighting

In Feng Shui study, humans are equated to “Yang” energy. Since your home is your living area, it should be filled with Yang energy too. To create or bring Yang energy into your home, ensure that your house is brightly lit. Open the windows to allow the sunlight in so that there is plenty of natural light.

When a house is dark and blocked from natural sunlight, it is very “Yin”. This creates a Yin Sha Qi or negative energy which may dull the minds of the people living in that house. At worst it can lead to depression and hallucination. The overall mental health of the person is negatively affected when the house becomes too “Yin”.

However, there is an exception to this rule. Your bedroom can be slightly “Yin” because the bedroom is a resting and sleeping space, not meant for lots of activities. A person will find it hard to rest or fall asleep if there is too much Yang energy in the bedroom. While natural light is still preferred in the bedroom, the light should be soft and gentle.

3. De-clutter your home

When a person's mind is cluttered by thoughts, it is hard for him to make good decisions. To help a person think clearly, he or she needs a work or living space that is clear of clutter. Feng Shui follows a similar concept.

When there are blockages in your home, the energy becomes low, stagnant, and confusing. Depending on where the clutter is located in your home it brings negative influence to you which can affect events in many areas of your life. The reason most people avoid spring cleaning and clearing the clutter is because it takes time and effort. However, once you clear the old and unused stuff in your home to make space you will find that the Feng Shui system will work on its own accord. You will start to experience good energy levels, more clarity in thinking, and a better sense of well-being.

4. Fresh air

Ensure your home is clean and has plenty of fresh air. Stale air is equivalent to stagnant or dead Qi. This negative energy can lead to depression and illness for those who are exposed to it for long periods of time. Besides spring cleaning and de-cluttering from time to time, the introduction of air-purifying plants or the use of an air-purifier will do you good too.

CHINESE PHILOSOPHY OF YIN AND YANG

The Chinese Philosophy of Yin and Yang is deeply ingrained in the Chinese culture. The Yin and Yang philosophy is applied to many aspects of life - Taoist religion, medical treatment, martial arts and exercises such as Qigong and TaiChi, the Confucius teachings of the role of woman and man, and husband and wife, Chinese cultivation of living and of course, Chinese Metaphysics.

Yin and Yang describes dual energies that are opposite and yet complementary, interconnected, and interdependent in the natural world. They give rise to each other such as light and dark, fire and water, and male and female. Nothing is absolute in the concept of Yin and Yang. Every aspect contains a beginning for another aspect and it flows naturally within each other like the day becomes night and the night becomes day. These physical manifestations of yin and yang create balance in this Universe.

Historical Record of the Concept of Yin and Yang

The concept of Yin and Yang is dated back to the Yin Dynasty (1400 to 1100 BC) and the Western Zhou Dynasty (1100 to 771 BC). The Yin and Yang concept is the basis of Zhouyi, Yi Ching, the Book of Changes, which was written during the Western Zhou Dynasty. The concept became popular during the Spring and Autumn Period around 770 to 476 BC and the Warring States Period between 475 to 221 BC.

The principles of Yin and Yang are an important part of Huangdi Neijing, the Yellow Emperor's Classic of Medicine, which was one of the earliest Chinese medical books, written about 2,000 years ago.

Yin and Yang Pairs Exemplifying Two Universal Energies

The Yin and Yang concepts exemplify two universal energies that are harmonious and in balance:

Table 1: Yin and Yang

Yin	Yang
Heaven	Earth
Sun	Moon
Light	Darkness
Fire	Water
Time	Space
Energy	Matter
Activity	Rest
Expansion	Contraction
Round	Flat
Rising	Descending
Above	Below
East	West
South	North
Left	Right
Male	Female

Concept of Yin and Yang in Chinese Metaphysics

This concept of Yin and Yang energy also applies in the study and analysis of Chinese Metaphysics such as Feng Shui, Bazi and Yi Ching. The Five elements of Wood, Fire, Earth, Metal and Water are divided into the Yin and Yang category as shown in Table 2: Characteristics of the Ten Heavenly Stems. Each of the Heavenly Stem has their own distinct characteristics.

FACE READING THE SHAPE OF THE FACE

Jake Gyllenhaal

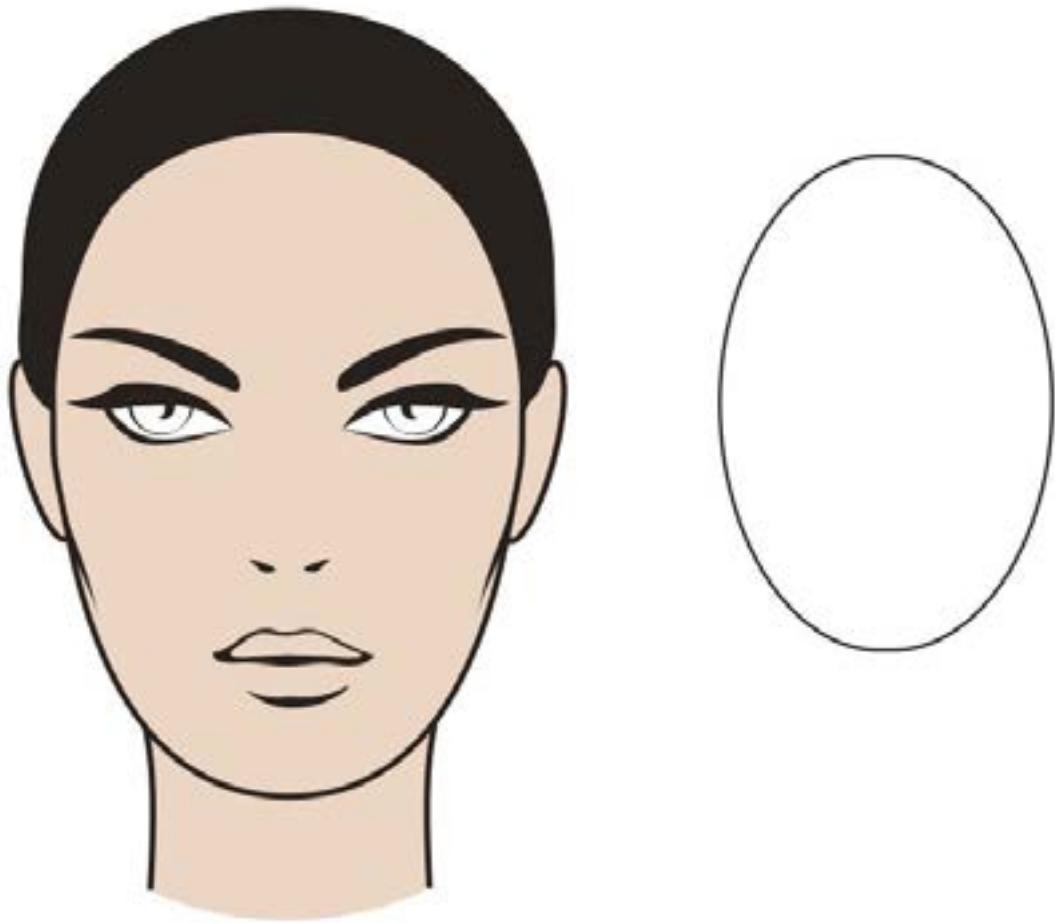

THE METAL ELEMENT FACE

In this issue, we will discuss the Metal element face.

Shape: A Metal element face is slightly oblong or oval-shaped.

Positive Features: A high and broad forehead on a Metal-shaped face is preferred. The face should not be chubby. If the Metal-shaped face is too chubby, the person tends to be overly sentimental and emotional.

Metal-shape faced people should carry a serious demeanor. This is because the Metal element represents justice, firmness and altruism. The Metal-element face should also maintain a paler skin tone. A tan on a Metal-shaped face denotes a tough and challenging life. Hence, it is not advisable for Metal-element face people to go for tanning.

Negative: For a Metal-shaped face person, posture is important. We do not want to see slouching.

An overly large mouth and full-lipped mouth is a “no-no” as the mouth area represents the Water element. An overly large mouth with full-lips denotes excessive sentimental and emotional characteristics. Thus, the person is indecisive which is the opposite of the Metal element nature.

A narrow forehead and too many facial hairs weaken the Metal element’s natural characteristics.

Character: People with Metal element faces are straight forward, cool and decisive. They are righteous, courageous, determined and altruistic individuals.

Career: People with Metal-shaped faces are naturally suited to be judges, lawyers, medical surgeons, bankers and financial planners. Besides this, they naturally fit into any position of authority where fairness is required.

Liv Tyler

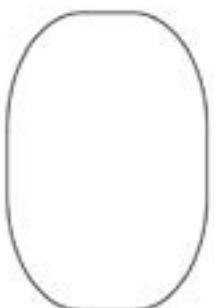

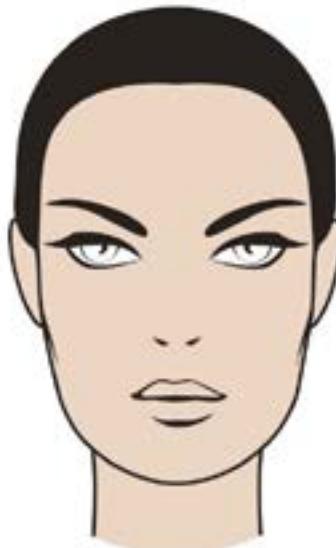

Different Variations of the Metal-Shaped Face:

Oblong Face

The Oblong face is a combination of Metal and Wood elements. Wood element still dominates this face. It is characterized by a rounded forehead and jawline.

This face is longer than its Metal-shaped brother and sister.

Oblong-shaped face people may have a muscular or athletic physique. They are practical, methodical and tend to be a tad overworked. They can be sarcastic and often have problematic relationships.

WHAT IS AN ESSENTIAL OIL?

If you have ever enjoyed the scent of a rose, you've experienced the aromatic qualities of essential oils. These naturally occurring, volatile aromatic compounds are found in the seeds, bark, stems, roots, flowers, and other parts of plants. They can be both beautifully and powerfully fragrant. In addition to giving plants their distinctive smells, essential oils protect plants and play a role in plant pollination. In addition to their intrinsic benefits to plants and being beautifully fragrant to people, essential oils have long been used in food preparation, beauty treatment, and health care practices.

Overall, people will experience steady growth and a stable month in June 2015. The auspicious stars are conducive for learning. People are more inquisitive and eager to learn more about the unknown. Industries that involve analysis and research and development are likely to do better. Writers, authors, educators – professors, lecturers and teachers, and researchers will see their work go smoothly and receive recognition for their efforts.

The meeting of Sickness and Mo Yue stars in the summer season indicate that people are prone to illnesses such as flu, cough and fever. Diseases are easily spread in this environment.

If the month's Qi is unfavourable to you, especially those who have Rat, Ox and Horse in their Bazi Chart, don't take your health for granted. Seek medical treatment even if it is just a minor ailment.

This month's energy favours those who have the following zodiacs: Goat, Tiger and Dog.

Wood Day Masters (甲 Jia Yang Wood and 乙 Yi Yin Wood), if you have plans to take up some personal development courses or academic study, this is a great month to start.

Fire Day Masters (丙 Bing Yang Fire and 丁 Ding Yin Fire), your rash action may put you in danger. So be wise and do not let your anger get the better of you.

Earth Day Masters (戊 Wu Yang Earth and 己 Ji Yin Earth), you are going through both resource and wealth cycles. This is the time to capitalize on your ideas.

Metal Day Masters (庚 Geng Yang Metal and 辛 Xin Yin Metal), especially those born in Autumn, must tap into their determination and discipline in order to triumph in the Horse month.

Water Day Masters (壬 Ren Yang Water and 癸 Gui Yin Water), are going through friend and wealth cycles. Networking and exchanging ideas can help you bring out your plan more effectively.

Tiger

You will find that in general, people - friends and family are supportive and helpful. Receive advice with an open mind. Your path will be smoother if you focus on people and their needs.

Rabbit

The Horse month brings Peach Blossom luck. However, it can turn destructive and result in scandal if you are not careful about your conduct. Be more conservative and diplomatic during your conversations or interactions with others.

Dragon

The Dragon sign still enjoys the vibrant energy of good fortune. Seek out something you like to do and see where this positive energy leads you. Take good care of the elderly in your family. They are more prone to illness.

Snake

June can be a stressful month with a heavy workload. Do your work one at a time, and you will find that time flies and soon the month will be over. Travelling will not only energize you but also open up new avenues for you.

Horse

You may be your own source of trouble and bad luck. Be mindful of your work and speech to avoid problems and misunderstandings. At work, diplomacy will be required in your daily interactions.

Goat

This is a stable month for the Goat sign. If you are looking for a new home or planning to invest in property, this is a good time to hunt for it. Go towards the West to find your fortune. You may find some good property investment for sale in that direction.

Monkey

The Monkey sign may go through an emotional roller coaster in June. While this is still a good month for the Monkey sign, they may not feel that way due to their erratic moods. For employees, your career will grow steadily. When you stay positive and be open-minded to change, you may not feel so bad after all.

Rooster

The Rooster sign can look forward to a stable month generally. You have ample time to relax and rejuvenate in this Horse month. Helpful people are in your network. Be open to advice.

Dog

The Dog sign still enjoys good networking luck. You'll find people gravitating toward you. Wherever you go you will get along with people easily. Sales people and those in public relations work will benefit from this positive energy.

Pig
